

Top Quintets Tangle Tonight In Corvallis

By JACK HEWINS

CORVALLIS, Ore. — Dogged by a persistent tournament jinx, Coach John Wooten of U.C.L.A. planned Friday to move sophomore Mike Hibler into his starting lineup in the place of injured Don Bragg for Friday night's game with Santa Clara in the regional N.C.A.A. basketball playoffs.

Oklahoma City, which got its first glimpse of the sleek Gill Coliseum floor Friday morning, will meet the deadweight Wyoming Cowboys in the second game at 9:15 p.m. The opener starts at 7:30 p.m.

Friday night's victors will tangle Saturday for a berth in the national finals Tuesday and Wednesday at Seattle.

U.C.L.A. Santa Clara and Whomping all took workouts at the coliseum Thursday. Oklahoma City stopped off in Portland to work out and came on to Corvallis Friday for a warmup drill.

Ev. Shelton's Cowboys put on the heaviest practice session here, scrimmaging about an hour, but without scorers or referee. Santa Clara took a casual shooting drill. Wooden's Bruins turned on the speed in the practice, but did not scrimmage.

In a Portland workout the Oklahoma City Chieftains used Coast referees to familiarize themselves with Far West officiating.

The jinx has come around to haunt Wooden in post-season playoffs regularly. Time and again he has piloted his teams on the Coast Conference Southern Division crown, only to have something happen to a key player. This year it's Don Bragg who caught the frown of the jinx.

The freshman forward injured his foot during practice after the club had whipped Washington for the conference title. Whether his loss will upset the smoothly operating Uclans remains to be seen.

Another freshman, John Moore of Gary, Ind., will switch from his starting job at forward to take over Bragg's position. Hibler will step into the center slot. Bragg is with the team, and took a limping workout, but probably will not play.

Officials at Oregon State College the host school, anticipated a crowd of 7,500, for opening night and close to a capacity turnout of 10,000 for the Saturday night wind-up.

Three Top Matches Billed At Armory Arena Saturday

It's going to be hard on fans, referee and ring apparatus when Leo Wallick and Soldat Gorky clash in the main mat battle in the Armory Saturday night.

Frenchy Roy

This is the third time the steel-sinewed villains of the ring have tangled, and it may revert to a waterfront brawl before the winner has been announced.

Each man has won a bout, but Wallick has a slight edge because he kayeod Gorky for ten minutes in one of the struggles. But the shiny domed Russian has vowed that he will even the score.

Despite his threat, Wallick issued a bit of sound advice for benefit of the wolfman. He said if Soldat wanted to stick around after he (Wallick) applied a pile-driver, he had better get a mattress for a toupee.

This will be Wallick's first appearance in the Northwest since he went east some time ago.

Roy Wrestles
The Pacific Coast light heavyweight champion, Frenchy Roy, will again be featured. This week he tangles with the other Gorky-Ivan, the faster of the brothers.

But Ivan will have to come into the ring jet-charged if he meets the blistering pace of the champ usually sets. Yet Gorky says he will twist Roy in knots and then demand a title bout.

A couple of cool, scientific grapplers will wrestle in the opener. They are Danno McDonald and Bill Melby, who two weeks ago held Roy to a draw.

Melby uses an abdominal stretch and McDonald relies on a spinning toe hold and drop kicks.

Tickets are on sale at Powell's.

Browns Reveal Strength In Game

By The Associated Press

Marly Marion, deposed manager of the St. Louis Cardinals and current shortstop of the St. Louis Browns, could be a big help to Rogers Hornsby's gang of youngsters.

Not that any one is taking the Browns seriously this year. But with a fellow like Marion around to direct the infield and pitchers like Ned Garver, Bob Cain, Tom Byrne and Gene Beardon, they could finish out of the American League cellar.

Marion went two for three in Thursday's game which the National League Champion New York Giants won, 4-3, in 10 innings. Rookie Gilbert was the star for the Browns. He hit a double in the 10th, and finally scored on a fly, after taking third on a single. The Browns' neighbors, the St. Louis Cardinals, meanwhile, played their fifth extra-inning game of the spring, bowing to the New York Yankees, 5-2, in 14 innings.

Big News
The other big news of the day was Chris VanCuyk, the towering Brooklyn Dodgers' southpaw, going all the way against the Cincinnati Reds and shutting them out to beat, 4-0. It was VanCuyk's first complete game as a Dodger since July 1950.

The Dodgers' "B" squad, dropped a 4-2 decision to Mobile of the Southern Association, but the farmhands borrowed the Brook's regular Carl Erskine for the mound chores.

The Boston Red Sox let loose with a burst of their famous power—and they needed it—to down the Washington Senators, 14-8. The Senators actually were in the lead, 8-7, until the eighth inning when the Sox scored twice. Then they notched five more tallies in the ninth.

Russ Meyer went six innings and faced only 19 batters as the Philadelphia Phillies nipped the Detroit Tigers, 2-0, while the Chicago Cubs patted the Chicago White Sox, 7-1.

The Philadelphia A's and the Boston Braves each won a game at the expense of American Association teams. The Mackmen stopped Minneapolis, 4-3, in 10 innings on a home run by Rookie Outfielder Keith Thomas, and the Braves polished off Milwaukee, 14-12, on six runs in the eighth inning.

The Cleveland Indians defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-0, in a night game, with Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia holding the losers to two hits—both singles by Rookie Clem Koroshek. The Bucs' "B" squad turned back Seattle of the Pacific Coast League, 8-3.

The University of Alabama seasonal record for successful free throws was set in 1916 by A. B. Wells who scored 104 times from the foul line.

Wayne Reiser, Oregon's crack freshman miler, was undefeated in cross country competition during the 1951 fall season.

Bowling Meets Slated Locally

The two big Roseburg bowling tournaments are scheduled within the next two weeks at the Roseburg Alleys.

Next weekend, the Roseburg Women's Bowling Association play gets underway for a two-day team and individual tournament. On March 25, the women take a day to determine the top Roseburg team.

Then, on March 30, the singles and doubles competition will be run off. The more populated man's tournament goes into its week long action April 7. Team competition continues through April 11, and a one-day meet March 13, will determine the doubles and singles winners.

Meanwhile, the management of the Roseburg Alleys has received official results of the Men's State Tourney at Bend completed this month. Winners in the local league were as follows: Class C team—Shell Oil of Myrtle Creek, 2,407 for 11th place and Umpqua Chief Flour 2,455 for 4th place; Class B team—Douglas County Realty, 2514 for 11th place; Class A team—Frank Chapin 538 and Milt Hammersly 521, 1,059 for 21st place; Class C doubles—John Wilson 547 and Robert Jones 553, 1,100 for 2nd place; Class B singles—Frank Chapin, 568 for 13th place; Class B all-events—Frank Chapin, 1,610.

Four NCAA Meets Begin

NEW YORK — The NCAA basketball playoffs open Friday night on four regional fronts stretching from Carolina to Oregon with the Kentucky Wildcats again rated the team to beat for the championship.

Although the 16-team field is studied with talent, including ten major conference champions and six teams hand-picked at large, Adolph Rupp's marksmen from the Blue Grass country are strongly favored to capture their fourth college crown in the last five years.

Kentucky opens its tournament campaign against Penn State, one of the at large teams which finished the season with a 20-4 record. Here's the full schedule:

At Raleigh, N.C.—Kentucky (27-2), Southeastern Conference, vs. Penn State (20-4); North Carolina State (23-9), Southern Conference, vs. St. John's (22-4).

Portland Beavers Beat San Diego Padres, 5-1

ONTARIO, Calif. — Bob Drilling and Mario Piretti shared mound duty for Portland Thursday as the Beavers turned in a 5-1 Pacific Coast League exhibition game victory over San Diego.

Second Baseman Eddie Basinski accounted for 10 of the 22 put-out assists credited to Portland. Jack Salveson and Bob Schulte, a rookie, were the San Diego hurlers.

Jack Viskov, 6-3 forward for Cleveland, scored to give the Portlanders a 47-46 edge with 1½ minutes remaining, and Cleveland was able to stall out the rest of the way. Its floor leader, Jerry Ross adding a final field goal just at the end.

Marshfield kept up with Central Catholic, too, in the first half,

Halbrook Sets Another Mark In Tournament

EUGENE — Three tall Portland teams and a short crew from Eastern Oregon moved into the semi-finals at the Oregon Class A High School basketball tournament Friday.

Record crowds were on hand to see record-breaking Wade "Swede" Halbrook of Lincoln and the other Portlanders dominate the tournament as Portland teams never have before.

It comes as no surprise to the 40,000 who have watched the tournament so far. Central Catholic, Cleveland and Lincoln—the Portland entrants in the semi-finals—ranked 1-2-3 in that order in the final Associated Press poll in the state.

The lone outsider is La Grande, the No. 7 team, which reached the semi-finals by humping Milwaukee, the No. 9 team Wednesday, and then trampling unranked University High of Eugene Thursday night, 54-37.

Big Chore Ahead
To the short La Grande entry—the only player above 6 feet is Forward Morris Buckwalter, 6-2—falls the task of trying to stop Lincoln's Halbrook.

The 7-foot-1-inch Halbrook cracked the tournament scoring record again Thursday night in what is for him routine fashion.

This time he got 41 points in leading Lincoln to a 68-53 win over Bend. That topped his tourney record of 40, established the previous night, and gave him 950 points for the season.

Easily within his grasp now are 1,000 points for the season plus a tourney record exceeding the 125 points he scored here last year. He has 81 in two games, and has two games remaining.

Hold Slight Edge
Cleveland meets Central Catholic in the other semi-final game. Cleveland nosed out Hillsboro Thursday, 49-46, and Central Catholic defeated Marshfield, 55-45.

The forthcoming Central-Cleveland tussle has the fans buzzing. It is expected to produce the best basketball of the tournament so far, and there was plenty of it Thursday.

The late afternoon games were the highlight with both Hillsboro and Marshfield giving the Portlanders fits.

Cleveland had a slight edge over Hillsboro in the first half, but Hillsboro came back fighting and with 1:52 minutes to go seized the lead, 46-45.

Jack Viskov, 6-3 forward for Cleveland, scored to give the Portlanders a 47-46 edge with 1½ minutes remaining, and Cleveland was able to stall out the rest of the way. Its floor leader, Jerry Ross adding a final field goal just at the end.

Marshfield kept up with Central Catholic, too, in the first half,

FIRST FLOORING—Rugged Tommy Collins (right) becomes the first fighter ever to knock Sandy Saddler off his feet as the featherweight champion heads for the deck in the first round of their scheduled 10-rounder at Boston. Saddler came back to win in the fifth round when he knocked Collins out of the ring in a daze.

Commercial Kegling Race Grows Tighter

The race was still tighter than a drumhead in the Commercial Kegling League Thursday night at the Roseburg Alleys.

Seven teams were within five points of the top as a result of series last night. Swartz Clothing of Sutherlin whitewashed the Yoncalla Lions to keep the lead, and the Sutherlin bowlers needed every point of it. Four other front runners also swept series and points.

Crystallite Tile and Co. D held fast in the runnerup spot on sweeps over Lockwood Motors and Nyberg Lumber, respectively. The fourth spot was tied by Ford and Houck and Todd Building and Construction. And sixth was also a tie.

Ford and Houck's 2,890 team series was the high for the night, largely on the work of Fred Aamot who bowled three over-200 games. His first was a 215. He followed it with the top individual game of 237 and finished off the evening with an even 200. The total was good for the top individual series also, a scorching 652. Ford and Houck also had the high series game of 1,046.
