Eugene ruled the tax invalid and the Eugene Theatre Co. and Western Amusement Co. appealed. They contend the tax is unconstitutional on grounds it takes property without due process of law; that the $30,000 in annual revenue produced by the tax is grossly in excess of what is needed; that the tax discriminates against theatres, and that it is oppressive.

Theater Tax Argued
in Supreme Court

SALEM (U)—The right of cities to tax theatres and other amusement places was considered Wednesday by the state Supreme Court.

The court heard arguments in the attempt by two Eugene theatres to have Eugene's four-year-old amusement tax of three per cent thrown out. Circuit Judge G. F. Skipworth of
