YOUR BODY

ROSEBURG, OREGON — These health articles are written and paid for by Dr. A. SMITH, Chiropractic Physician, 1300 Garden Valley Road, in the interest of public health and to help you understand the body function. Look for these informative articles every Saturday.

A headache is not a disease, but a warning indicating that something is wrong somewhere in the body. It is purely a symptom and only a thorough examination will reveal the cause.

There are many kinds of headaches. Some headaches may indicate that a serious illness is in the offing, especially when fever accompanies them. Children's diseases, infantile paralysis, influenza, meningitis and other contagious diseases begin with a headache.

The ache may be located in different parts of the head, its location usually indicates the part of the body from which the headache originates.

To many people, excitement or any emotional disturbance will cause a headache. Fear, worry, overwork, loss of sleep or any other condition that saps the individual's vitality may result in a headache. In such cases the victim's reserve of vital energy is usually below par and the least deviation from the sufferer's normal life results in a headache. The pain centers on top of the head.

High blood pressure, by forcing blood through the vessels of the head, will cause a pain at the base of the brain. Hardened arteries having lost their elasticity, fail to expand as normally required at every heart beat. This resistance usually results in a headache.

Low blood pressure, resulting from a weakened heart or lack of sufficient nerve force to regulate the circulation, causes a deficiency of blood to the brain tissues. The pain will be located on top of the head. Sudden changes in blood pressure cause headaches.

Migraine is a violent, paroxysmal headache, which recurs with regular frequency, usually affecting one side of the face only. It is splitting in character, lasts many hours and usually ends up in a vomiting spell. The ejected material consists mostly of biliary fluid. Attacks of migraine usually appear at the time of puberty and disappears at the menopause. This indicates its relation to the reproductive organs. There are approximately five million migraine sufferers in this country. The largest percentage of sufferers are women.

That boring pain above the eye or in the cheek bone, worse in the morning, usually indicates sinus trouble. Pain at the back of the head may mean eye strain or weak eyes. Allergic headaches manifest themselves after eating certain foods. Hunger headaches and indigestion headaches indicate an over sensitive nervous system.

Toxic headaches are very common and may be caused by an over-burdened digestive tract and constipation. Too much food as well as too much drinking may leave the patient with a hangover. Kidney trouble is often the cause of a headache. Many headaches are caused by congested muscles, tight ligaments, a strain, a fall or other injuries may be the cause. (Paid Adv.)

Mrs. Roy Denman Elected President Of PTA Council

Mrs. Roy Denman, Myrtle Creek, who has a background of 12 years of PTA experience, was elected Saturday as president of the Douglas County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations. Mrs. Denman will succeed Mrs. Kenneth Bushy, Roseburg, on whose board she has served the past two years as vice president and aide.

Mrs. Denman started her PTA career in 1940 at Redondo Beach, Calif., when she first joined a PTA unit because of her interest in a small neighbor boy. As her three youngsters became of school age she continued to be active in committee work, as financial secretary and vice president. At this point the Denman family moved to Myrtle Creek to make their home and during the past four years Mrs. Denman has acted as parliamentarian for the Myrtle Creek PTA and served as vice president and president of that organization. Now, as president of the council, Mrs. Denman will represent Douglas County as a member of the board of managers of the Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers. She will attend the state convention, April 7-9, in Pendleton, in this capacity. Mrs. Jack Chapman will be a second delegate from the council to the convention.

Vice President Named
Mrs. Charles McCord, Dillard, who has served as chairman of the parent education committee of the council this year, will be the new vice president. Mrs. McCord's PTA service started in the same way as did the new president's. She joined because of her interest in children and was pianist for the Los Angeles unit for two years before her older son entered school. On arriving in Dillard to make her home, Mrs. McCord became one of the organizers of the PTA there and became its first president, serving a two year term. Since that time she has continued as an officer, as secretary, and this year as second vice president. She has a son in the fourth grade and one who is a pre-schooler. Re-elected to serve a second term as secretary was Mrs. Jack Chapman, member of Rose PTA, in Roseburg.

Peat Moss Sale Sees Price War
A price war flared Friday over the sale of peat moss by Meyer and Douglas County Flour Mill.

When the war ended Friday afternoon, each company had sold a car load. Douglas County Flour Mill closed with a $1.95 per bale price with a free sack of flour thrown in. Fred Meyer's final price was $1.89 a bale, but the supply was gone before the price could be put into effect.

Fred Meyer started Friday morning at $3.69 per bale, or 10¢ at $3.49 each. The Flour Mill set its morning price at $3.65. Fred Meyer, who boasts it won't be undersold, cut its price and the slashes continued all day.

By 2:30 the Flour Mill was giving away sacks of flour with purchases. An estimated 50 to 60 sacks were presented to customers. Both companies sold directly from railroad box cars.

By about 4 p.m. Douglas County Flour Mills were sold out. Fred Meyer lasted until 5:15.

Whether the war would continue with the next shipments of peat moss was purely speculative. Robert Bashford, manager of Douglas County Flour Mills, said a new shipment is expected next week. Sales will start at the regular $3.65 price, he said.

E. A. Wald, manager of Fred Meyer, said another shipment is expected "sometime in the future." It will be sold, he said, at the regular price of $3.69 per bale.

Suit Alleges False Timber Value Claim
Alleging they sold $6,000 worth of timber for $100, Joseph E. and Louise K. Barnes filed suit Friday in Circuit Court to recover the remaining $5,900.

Ted L. C. Peterson was named defendant. The Barnes contend Peterson represented the timber, northeast of Camas Valley, as being of poor quality. It was sold April 1, 1948 for $100, the complaint says. Later it was discovered the timber was worth considerably more, it is alleged.

Guy T. Cunningham filed a suit Friday against the State Industrial Accident Commission for payments for temporary total disability for one month. Doctor and hospital bills of $397 are also asked.

Suit to recover property brought by O. B. Waddell, guardian of Eva L. Cole, against Donald D. McInnis and others was dismissed Friday.

Oregon Labor Disputes End, Others Continue

The company to negotiate with the AFL streetcar men's union. The union is demanding a 15 cent hourly wage increase and other contract benefits. But the company said it could not pay unless the City Council approved higher fares. With Commissioner J. E. Bennett dissenting, the council granted a 2 cent increase, bringing fares to 15 cents. Student fares were raised 1 cent to 7 cents and weekly passes 40 cents to $2.40.

The company was scheduled to begin negotiations with the union Saturday in an effort to postpone a strike set for April 8.

CIO Steelworkers and the Oregon Steel Mills announced Friday agreement on a wage contract calling for a total increase of 17 1/4 cents an hour.

The plant's 327 union workers are to receive a 12 1/2 cent increase now with 2 1/2 cent hourly increases coming on July 1 of this year and Jan. 1, 1953.

Strike Closes Mill
A strike of CIO Woodworkers Friday closed the A. F. Lowe Lumber Company at Molalla. A sheriff's deputy was called to help get a loaded lumber truck out of the strike - bound plant. A union spokesman said the workers wanted a 5 cent hourly pay increase to $1.75 an hour for semi-skilled labor. A spokesman for the Lumbermen's Industrial Relations Committee, an employer group, said the union demands were for increases ranging from 2 1/2 to 47 cents an hour for most job classifications.

In another labor development, Oregon and Southwestern Washington were to get a 10 cent hourly wage hike. E. F. Harland, executive secretary of the Allied Heavy Construction and Highway Crafts, and A. H. Harding, manager of the local Association General Contractors, announced that a proposed new contract had been approved by the Wage Stabilization Board. Official WSB notification is expected early next week.

Local Elks Will Observe May 1 As Youth Day
With the slogan "Make May Day American," the Roseburg Lodge of Elks will sponsor a city-wide observance of Youth Day on May 1, A. E. Dalros, Exalted Ruler, announced today.

He said that Howard R. Davis of Williamsport, Pa., Grand Exalted Ruler of the Order, in a proclamation designating May 1 as Elks Youth Day, called on all lodges to honor the nation's young people for their loyalty to freedom and their contributions to a better society.

"We join wholeheartedly in this move to take proper recognition of youth," Dalros said. "Over-emphasis on juvenile delinquency, and the problems of youth generally, tend to make us forget the wonderful things that our young people are doing to help make ours a better city, state and nation. It's time that we took a look at youth's achievements, and encouraged them on the path of good citizenship."

Invitations will be extended to all patriotic groups to participate in Youth Day to make it a community event, according to the Exalted Ruler. He said he appointed a committee to make preliminary plans and to enlist the cooperation of other organizations and public officials. The committee consists of Walter Allen, chairman, Arlo Jackson and Wiley Wisner.

Committee Chairman Walter Allen says plans are being made to hold a dinner May 1 at 6:30 p.m. in the ballroom. It will be served by Lady Elks.

It will be held to honor youths of high school age, and a cup will be awarded the outstanding sportsman of each high school grade.

First, second and third prize winner of the Elks annual scholarship will also be honored.
