ies scattered from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean. Allied industries, like railroads, also are laying off workers in the expectation of losing business.

President Philip Murray of both the CIO and the United Steelworkers took time out from the New York sessions to declare over an NBC radio network:

"At midnight, the nation's production of steel will come to a halt."

He added: "Their purpose is plain. They want you to blame our union—while they roll up higher and higher profits at your expense."

Murray asserted the steel industry could grant the union's pay demands without raising prices "a single, solitary penny a ton."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government Monday froze all shipments of steel for civilian goods because of the threatened strike Wednesday.

The action, designed to conserve finished steel for defense production, cut off the flow of steel from mills to auto makers, other consumer goods manufacturers, and exporters.

The order from the National Production Administration applies also to steel retailers, or "warehouses," but does not affect shipments actually in transit to users.

tion. It takes 616 votes to be nominated by the Democrats. In Paris earlier, Sen. Lodge of Massachusetts had said Eisenhower, whom he backs, would get 500 first ballot votes if the Republican nomination convention were held now. Republican nomination requires 803 votes.

Both nominating conventions will be held in July at Chicago. From Paris also came word that Eisenhower's military aides seem to think the general has asked to be released from his post as North Atlantic Treaty Organization Commander in Europe. The Defense Department declined comment on a similar newspaper report.

Ike Favored in New York
 In New York State, the Associated Press polled 101 GOP convention delegate candidates. Thirty-six responded with this result: 17 said they favor Eisenhower, 14 backed Taft, two were for Gen. MacArthur, one for Gov. Dewey and two listed no preference. New York will have 96 votes at the convention.

In San Diego, Kefauver opened his far west campaign with a declaration that a Korean stalemate should not be tolerated. If a settlement can not be negotiated, he said, the United States should use all military means available to end the conflict.

Eisenhower backers claimed 19 of his home-state Kansas delegation of 22. A pro-Eisenhower slate of three district delegates was chosen at Chanuse, Kan., Monday.

Stassen ended his Illinois campaign Monday night at Chicago with an attack on Taft's foreign policy. He called it "negative."

In Washington, Sen. Tobey of New Hampshire said he still considers Eisenhower "the best possible candidate for president."

His statement was a clarification of his assertion Sunday that "it would be a wonderful idea if the Senate Crime Committee investigation catapulted Kefauver into the Presidency."

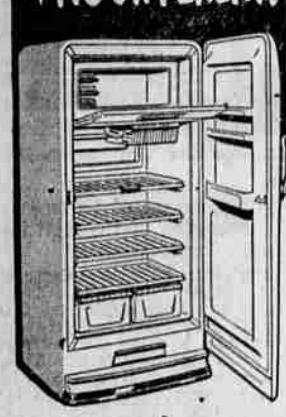

The Articles of Confederation, though adopted by the Continental Congress in 1778, were not ratified by all the states until 1781.
