Roseburg No. 28 On TV Station List

FCC had to increase the number of channels from the present 12 to 22. This was done by moving into the ultra-high frequencies (UHF), now used only for experimental purposes.

Present Sets Usable
Despite this technical change, present sets will not become obsolete. To receive the new channels, however, a converter must be installed at a cost estimated from $10 to $50, depending on the set and the number of channels desired. Later new type receivers will be built to cover varied reception needs.

New television will not appear overnight. Obtaining grants to applications and construction of stations will take time.

However, the FCC said it intends to give first attention to grants in areas that have never had any TV service, and to communities which will pioneer on the UHF channels the FCC is anxious to get into operation.

Another 78 days will elapse before any grants are made. During that period, FCC announced, it will receive new applications for stations, and will also require re-submission of all of the 521 applications now pending—some of them caught in the freeze since October, 1948.

The effect of this will be to put all those seeking station construction permits on an equal footing, with consideration of competitive bids for the same facilities starting from scratch.

The actual processing of applications starts July 1.

MacArthur Tells Oregon Not To 'Waste Votes'

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, an unwilling candidate in Oregon's May 28 primary, doesn't want voters of the state to "waste their votes" on him.

In a letter to a co-ed at Reed College in Portland, Ore., MacArthur said: "As I have frequently stated, I am not myself a candidate for any public office and have requested that my name be not entered in the state presidential primary."

Four-man 4 mus Monday
A panel of four men will present programs at two Roseburg service club meetings this week.

Comprising the panel are Don Smith, vice president of the United States National Bank of Portland; Don Sloan, president of Sloan and Company, investment bankers; and Kelley Lee, assistant of the executive secretary of the state AFL, and a representative of the state CIO.

Tuesday they will appear before the Kiwanis Club and Thursday before the Rotary Club. Both meetings will be held in the Umpqua Hotel at noon.

The panel is being sponsored by the Treasury Department.

Graziano, Robinson End Heavy Training Drills

CHICAGO (AP)—Champion Ray Robinson and Rocky Graziano, each boasting he'll win by a knockout, have ended heavy drills for their middleweight title brawl in Chicago Stadium Wednesday.

Chicago's fight fans are getting more steamed up for this expected slam-bang scrap than at any time since 1947. That was when the same Graziano caught their fancy by beating out Tony Zale in the sixth round to win the 160-pound crown.

Sugar Ray, a solid 3-1 favorite. It will be his second middleweight title defense since regaining the crown from Randy Turpin in New York last September.

Camas Valley Fire Truck Paid Completely; More Funds Needed

By JEAN YODER

The Camas Valley fire truck is now entirely paid for, according to Ted Heilman, treasurer of the Camas Valley Volunteer Fire Department.

In ten months time, the Volunteer Fire Department, with the cooperation of all those who helped, raised $4,910.52. The flat rate of the truck was $4,000. The additional money was spent on the siren and alarm system and additional equipment. The money has been raised primarily through regular dances at the Camas Valley Hall attended by people from as far as Coquille; from the Home Economics Club booth at the dance; from the Labor Day celebration and many personal gifts.

Action to obtain a fire truck for the area began last June when the Harry Cook family burnt out. Instead of holding a dance to benefit the Cook family alone, the dance was the first of a series to pay for the fire truck. A volunteer fire department was soon organized, with a small membership fee and yearly dues, to manage, drive and maintain the truck. The truck was delivered Labor Day at a celebration.

Officers of the Volunteer Fire Department are Leon Ashton, president; Ernest Booth, secretary; Ted Heilman, treasurer and Bill McClellan, fire chief.

Treasurer Heilman reminds the people that the truck must still be maintained and that the Fire Department wants to make some additions to the equipment. "We would like to encourage all those who have not previously donated to the fire truck fund, to do so now that the truck is here and paid for, so that they, too, can be a part of this worthwhile project."

The mortgage on the truck will be burned at a dance April 19 at the hall. This will be the last dance for a while. The Home Economics club is sponsoring a pie social April 26, the proceeds from which will also go into a maintenance fund for the truck.

Taft Spurns Contest In New Jersey Primary

agree and look for a sizable turnout. An Associated Press poll of the state's newspapers forecast Eisenhower will win the election but Taft will get a good vote.

Money Charge Denied
Supporters of Eisenhower said the Taft campaign went underground after he announced his withdrawal and even stepped up its activity. They claim Taft strategists were spending $250,000 as compared to less than $75,000 the Eisenhower camp was spending.

Not so, came back the Taft forces, adding that this was all talk to get out a big vote for Eisenhower.

The state will send 38 delegates to the national convention in Chicago July 7. The state GOP organization has put up a full slate, which is listed on the ballot as unpledged.

U of O Will Host Oregon Seniors

Oregon high school seniors will be given an introduction to the University of Oregon's social life and activities when they visit the campus during "Duck Preview Weekend" April 25-27.

Exhibits and demonstrations in the various university departments will be open to the seniors' inspection Saturday morning and at noon the visitors will attend a luncheon with the freshman class of the University.

Entertainment as well as information about the university, will be provided at the luncheon which will be held in the Erb Memorial Student Union.

A choice of three events will be given the students Saturday afternoon. They may attend the dedication of the new science building, watch a junior varsity baseball game, or attend an amphibian water pageant.

Conference Held At Camas Valley

The Camas Valley Church held a quarterly conference meeting Wednesday evening with District Superintendent R. S. Smith in charge. The meeting was preceded by a potluck dinner.

Those present voted to accept the report of the nominating committee. Marlen Yoder was again elected to the position of Sunday School superintendent.

Lay member and alternates elected were Mrs. M. A. Jones Miss Esther Brown and Mrs. Ernest Wheeler. The pastor and assistant pastor, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Weaver, submitted their reports, as did the finance committee and the treasurer, Mrs. Ethel Brown.

Camas Valley News Briefs:
The W. C. Roberts family have moved to the North Umpqua, where Calvin is now working at Glide.

Dale Wheelock, former Camas Valley student and now in the Navy, has written to his mother, Mrs. Boyer of Tenmile, that he is engaged to a Miss Ann Brown of Washington, D. C.

Raymond Pitts, former custodian of the Camas Valley School, is very seriously ill in Springfield.

Mrs. Loretta Hagen is convalescing at the home of a brother in Junction City, following hospitalization for a broken arm.

The Camas Valley Boy Scouts played rescue party to a nanny goat and new born kid last Sunday, when they went for a hike to Bennett Rock. The group, ten strong and led by Scout Master LaMar Ormand, found the goats close to several dead goats near the Rock and carried them to safety. The goats are now with the John Thrusch family.

A novel written by William L. "Bill" Brown of Fairfax, Calif., has been accepted for publication. Mr. Brown is a relative of the Browns in Camas Valley. The novel, "Roaring River," is set in the Himalayan mountains, where Brown was stationed during World War II, and is based upon his own adventures going down a Himalayan river in a rubber boat.

Phone Strike Picketing In Northwest Spreads

North Idaho" if the alleged press reports were not halted.

Company officials denied any intimations had occurred.

By The Associated Press
Picketing spread to Medford Monday in the continuing Oregon strike of AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union members against the Western Union.

Two pickets appeared in front of the office in the Southern Oregon city after John R. Fitzmartin, strike committee chairman, and Mrs. Ida Fleming, union vice-president, arrived from Seattle to organize picketing.

Fitzmartin said three employees crossed the picket line. Frank Gray, Western Union manager, said messages still were being accepted at Medford.

In Portland, W. H. War, Western Union superintendent, said offices in six Oregon cities, including Portland, were handling messages on a limited basis. He said most of the work was being done by supervisory employees.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Negotiators in the Northern California-Nevada telephone strike broke off a long meeting early Monday after failure to reach agreement on a new offer which Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. said amounted to a 13 cents an hour pay hike.

The strike entered its second week Monday. About 6,500 workers are involved.

SPOT ADVICE

THE HOWS and WHYS OF MOTH REPELLENTS

Let us be blunt. NO MOTH REPELLENT IS EVER 100% EFFECTIVE UNLESS IT WAS INCORPORATED INTO THE FIBERS OF THE FABRIC DURING MANUFACTURE. And by that we mean manufacture of the fibers themselves. Not just the woven fabric.

The reason is that no moth repellent can ever cover or penetrate every fiber in the fabric of a garment.

Another reason that moth repellents are not always absolutely effective is that not all moth repellent solutions are equally as good. An inexperienced cleaner may "moth proof" a garment in all good faith. Will that insure you protection against moths? Not unless the cleaner knows his solutions, and is using one which does a good job. There are, frankly, only a few such solutions. So the only protection you may get is your own illusory peace of mind!

Still another reason why moth repellents fail to do a job, is that the stuff wears off after a time. You can't expect to "moth proof" a garment this week, and have it remain effective forever. The "moth proofing" must be renewed from time to time for maximum effectiveness.

That is why claims for damage sustained on garments which have been "moth proofed" are generally rendered on an adjustment basis.
