

Annual Spring Musical Dated By Junior High

The Junior High School will present its annual spring musical, the two-act comic opera, "Tenderloin," Friday at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The program will be put on by the mixed chorus classes of the two eighth grades. The students will be wearing gay and colorful costumes, and will feature Spanish dances and music.

A dress rehearsal assembly will be presented at 2:30. Students and adults who will not be able to attend the evening program may attend this matinee. A small admission will be charged.

Rev. L. Hodges Speaks Before Roseburg C. C.

It is important to have friends. But a man to have friends must be friendly. Friendship is something flood waters can't wash away.

That was one of the things he learned in experiencing the North Topeka flood a year ago, when streets, homes and stores were flooded to a depth of 16 feet after the dikes broke, said the Rev. Lynn Hodges, speaking before the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce Monday noon.

The Rev. Mr. Hodges, pastor of the North Topeka Baptist Church and whose "Way of Life" broadcasts are heard each morning at 8:45 a.m. over Radio KRNR, is here this week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hodges, and making several public appearances before church groups and civic organizations.

The speaker gave a brief resume of his "Way of Life" broadcasts, heard on several stations in Kansas and at Quito, Ecuador, as well as Roseburg. He spoke in the same friendly, conversational tone that has made his broadcasts popular.

Informal and Friendly

These broadcasts, he said, are intended as interdenominational. Few of his listeners, aside from his acquaintances, know he is a Baptist, he said. The intent is to present "The gospel of Christ in the spirit of Christ." Instead of trying to "rake people up," the intent is to "wake people up."

The early hour is intended to reach an audience of men, rather than women, because "Christ turned his work over to 12 men, not to the Ladies Aid," he said.

The program is trying to reach families in an informal, friendly approach, in a manner which removes the stigma and criticism from many religious broadcasts. The program pays its own way, but he, as the speaker, does not receive one cent for his work, he said.

The Rev. Mr. Hodges spoke briefly of Kansas. "It is a great state—cold in winter and hot in summer. One must be rugged to exist there." As a place to live he would much prefer Oregon, but Kansas is the center of his work. "The people back there are great. They are solid. They don't move as fast as we do out west. They don't go forward by jerks. They live close to realities, are almost complacent."

He spoke of the flood which swept over North Topeka, when the waters reached 36 feet. The previous all-time record in 1903 was 33 feet. Old timers didn't believe it possibly could go higher. He told of the damage and sufferings, but he said he learned three important things:

(1.) The cold dead of the past can deal more misery than the present, this in respect to the complacent attitude of the people who thought the flood waters would not exceed those of 1903. (2.) That if you feel in your own mind, something must be done, do it. Don't wait. (3.) That a man to have friends must be friendly. He said he saw good intentions washed away, he saw hypocrisy, but he saw also the thing that made many people very courageous.
