Letters From Husband's Home City Dispel Fears Of Oriental Wife That She Won't Be Welcome As Resident

ALHAMBRA, Calif. (AP) — Nobuko Coronel, an Oriental war bride who begged to be a "Madame Butterfly," is on her way to a new home with her GI husband and baby.

Thus her love affair is happier than the one in Puccini's opera, "Madame Butterfly," which also involves an Occidental man and an Oriental girl.

Thus her love affair is happier than the one in Puccini's opera, "Madame Butterfly," which also involves an Occidental man and an Oriental girl.

Shortly before she sailed from Okinawa this week with her husband, Cpl. Robert A. Coronel, and Mary Ann, five months, Nobuko received an airmail package of 70 letters received by the Alhambra Post-Advocate from its readers. The newspaper had published Cpl. Coronel's letter saying:

"Nobuko is worried that the people of Alhambra will not accept her as an American citizen. I received a nasty letter which she unfortunately read. . . . She begged me to get a divorce. I love my wife and baby more than anything in the world and I'd give up my citizenship before I'd give up my wife and baby."

War Service Performed
 In asking the newspaper's aid, Coronel pointed out that Nobuko worked with the Philippine underground against the Japanese during World War II.

"All she has to show for her work is a citation, a big scar on her arm and a piece of shrapnel in her side," the husband wrote. He and Nobuko were married in Okinawa in February, 1951.

The letter—published together with an editorial—drew an immediate response.

"Please do not judge the whole community on the biased thought of one person," wrote one. Another said: "Do not break up your marriage over one intolerant letter."

Another letter put it this way: "You will find Americans like every type you have ever known. Some will be intolerant, bigoted, unkind, even cruel, but you will also find many, many more who will be the kind of people you will want Mary Ann to know. These color of hair, eyes, skin—or size are the people who live by the Golden Rule, those who know God made all individuals, regardless of of nose."

"When you arrive in America, hold your head up—be proud of what you have to offer this country in return for citizenship."
