Late Gov. Martin's Son Endorses Eisenhower

Samuel H. Martin, Portland lawyer, candidate for delegate-at-large to the Republican National Convention, announces that his personal preference is for General Eisenhower for the presidency. Although pledged to support the choice of the people at the forthcoming primary, Martin says he believes Eisenhower to be "eminently fitted for this high office."

Martin is president of the Dartmouth Alumni Association of Oregon, a graduate of Harvard law school, a member of the American Bar Association, Oregon State Bar and Multnomah Bar Association. He has practiced law in Portland for 20 years.

He is the son of the late General Charles H. Martin, former Oregon governor.

Boy, 15, Put On Trial On Murder Charge

EUGENE — Fifteen-year-old Elmer Belcher went on trial Monday for first degree murder.

He is accused by the state of shooting Mary Ellen Campbell, 18, a deaf-mute, near Cottage Grove, April 4. District Attorney C. E. Luckey said the youth has admitted shooting the girl because classmates taunted him about her pregnancy.

Columbia River Takes Life Of Fisherman

VANCOUVER, Wash. — Sheriff's officers Monday dragged the Columbia River for Floyd Forsberg, Ridgefield, Wash., fisherman missing since Sunday.

Forsberg's overturned boat was found at Bachelor's Island in the river near Ridgefield by his brother, Clair, who investigated after he heard a shout for help. High water in the river hampered the search.

Restoration Of Funds For Dams McKay's Urge

SALEM — Gov. Douglas McKay will fly to Washington, D.C., Tuesday to try to convince Congress to restore the cuts proposed for federal dam construction in the Northwest.

Gov. McKay said private power companies, federal power officials and the northwest governors are united in their campaign to get enough money to finish the eight dams now under construction. The governor will return Friday night.

POUNCEY...

THE MAN WHO MUST BECOME OUR NEXT SHERIFF

and return to us, FAITH in our public servants.—Who himself as a lawman, LIVES John Adam's quotation:

"IT IS MORE IMPORTANT THAT THE INNOCENT BE PROTECTED, THAN IT IS FOR THE GUILTY TO BE PUNISHED."

Pd. Pol. Adv. by the UNITED STATE REFORM COMMITTEES, KEN E. MORGAN, CHAIRMAN, DRAIN, OREGON

We've been asked... "Am I supposed to be glad you're big?"

Many people write us such comments as this: "I've heard people talk against big companies like you. Lately I've been reading your statements about bigness. Am I supposed to be glad you're big?"

The answer to this question depends on your answer to certain others. "Big business" often gets the blame for many things, so that some people have come to feel that bigness itself may be bad. But in making up your own mind on this proposition, it's well to consider the good that comes from this same bigness.

Do you like new and better things? Standard has spent over $35,000,000 on research and technical service in the last 5 years, developing new products, improving existing ones, making new raw materials for other manufacturers. The benefits are all around you. Yet only when allowed to grow big, by serving you better, can we take on the work and risk involved.

Do you like a bargain? You're getting one in gasoline. While the cost of living is up about 47% in the last 25 years, gasoline is up less than 4%, except for taxes. (And it's better gas; 2 gallons now do work that then took 3.) Why? Largely because of competition among big oil companies.

Are you glad you have the conveniences of this "machine age"? They depend heavily on oil. You're assured an ample supply of oil by the enterprise of big companies like Standard. We seek out new crude reserves, in this country and abroad, with exploration that may cost millions before the first gallon is found. We can do jobs this big only because we are big.

Do you want to keep your country strong? Our fighting men are backed by the world's greatest production capacity. It takes big companies to keep defense goods in full supply. Standard is at work for our government on aviation gasolines, atomic research, synthetic rubber, and other vital projects.

Obviously, there are countless ways to express the benefits you gain by our bigness... countless questions we could ask, to which you'd probably answer "yes" just as readily. And if you like the things that bigness brings, the answer to the question we started with is the same. You can be glad we're big.
