GREETINGS FOR "PAPA" STALIN—Premier Josef Stalin receives a warm greeting from Vera Kondakova, pupil at Moscow School 612, during May Day celebrations in Moscow, according to Moscow's newspaper, "Pravda." At right is General M. Malenkov, often mentioned as a favorite to succeed Stalin, and at left is Marshal Nikolai Bulganin. Photo is said to have been taken at Lenin's Mausoleum.

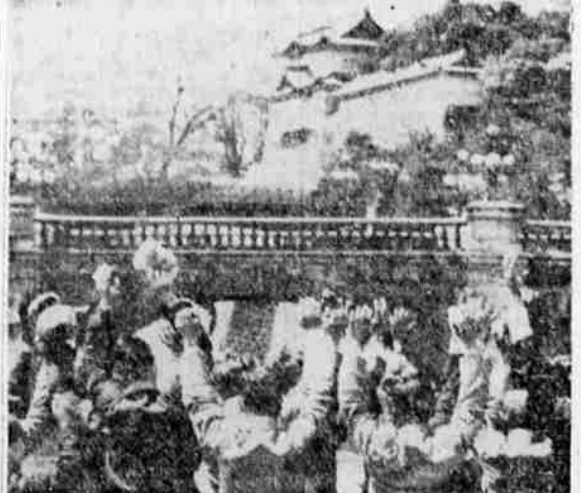

7 DRUNKS PENALIZED

Seven men accused of drunkenness plead guilty or forfeited bail today in Municipal Court. The seven identified by Police Judge Ira B. Riddle, and the sentences given to each included: Sherman Dillard Coughran, Glendale, 10 days in jail in lieu of a $20 fine; Wilbert Tobias Domon of Pennsylvania, 10 days in jail in lieu of a $20 fine; Jack Lee Parker, Ardmore, Okla., 10 days in jail in lieu of a $20 fine; William Earl Sargent, Coos Bay, 15 days in jail or a $30 fine; Carl Hallberg, 720 N. Jackson Street, $20 bail forfeited; Manuel Danberry Sulphin, Myrtle Creek, $20 bail forfeited; Harold Ray Fletcher, a transient, $19 bail forfeited; Joseph Urban of Eugene was fined $20 for trespassing.

"Senate" originally meant an assembly of old men and the word derives from the same root as "senile."

"BIG PUMMERIN" RINGS AGAIN—Re-cast 20-ton "Big Pummerin," which rang from belfry of St. Stephen's Cathedral, Vienna, for more than 200 years, will sound again. Broken during fighting in 1945, the bell is carried in procession through Linz, Austria, en route to Vienna.

CHEER INDEPENDENCE—Crowds raise their hands and cheer outside the Imperial Palace in Tokyo as Japan regained independence with the coming into effect of the Japanese peace treaty. The treaty ends American military occupation, but a mutual security pact will allow troops to remain until Japan can protect herself.

Discounting inflation, value of Oregon's farm products are more than 70 percent greater than they were 23 years ago. Today, farmers are selling more, better products from about the same amount of crop land. Much of the planning that led to this shift was charted 28 years ago on the Oregon State college campus during a statewide conference of farm leaders. A similar economic conference is scheduled March 27, 28 and 29 at OSC.

TAIL OF WOE—Queenie double checks the first-aid technique of Barbara, 7, and Carolyn Navarre, 9 (right), who are bandaging the pup's tail in their Detroit home. Queenie got her tail caught in an automatic ironer and it took the combined efforts of two policemen to free her. The din that Queenie raised at the time sounded like a raiding band of Apaches.

HIS VOTE'S AFLOAT—Ulysses S. Morton, 82, will vote this year, despite the fact that he has a floating address. Once or twice, Morton says, he has been unable to vote because the state of Ohio has contended that his floating home, near Cincinnati, is on the Ohio River, and therefore is on Kentucky property. However, the county prosecutor at Cincinnati has delivered an opinion that Morton is entitled to register and vote in Ohio.

ON HIS WAY—His age and destination unknown, white-bearded Mike Wallace mounts his "side-door Pullman" at Minneapolis, Minn., to start his annual spring tour. Mike has reportedly been riding the rods for 33 years, lying low in the winter and blossoming out with the crocuses in the spring. He wears two overcoats, two hats and carries all his possessions in a burlap bag and under his arm.
