'Old Maids' Convention' Held At Camas Valley

"The Old Maid's Convention" took to the road again Saturday night to play at Winston Community Hall. Sixty per cent of the proceeds went to Home Economics Club of Camas Valley Grange, which put on the play. Back stage highlights included an account by one of the children's mother on how she and her son marched into a nearby church, by mistake, prepared for his tap dance; "Betsy Bobinet" forgot several unmentionables which she throws out of the machine when it goes haywire, so they borrowed them from several of the "Old Maids"; Buddie, the dog, finally got his reward and devoured several of his doubles, the wieners! The cast enjoyed the performance as well as the audience.
