Dillard-Winston Community Plans Play Field, Rink

By MRS. SOSA HEINBACH

A group of the members of the Winston-Dillard Community Club gathered on the club premises Sunday for an all-day work-fest. They are constructing a caretaker's cottage on the park grounds surrounding the Community Hall. They plan to hold another such working "get-together" Tuesday evening and each Sunday until the project is finished. Dean Collins, club president of Dillard, announces that he is anxious to get all of the help on this project that is available. It is planned to construct a baseball diamond and install playground equipment for the park as soon as the cottage is finished.

May 27 is the date set by the Winston Community Club to entertain the many students and teachers of the Dillard school who worked on the money-raising project for the re-flooring of the Community Hall for the purpose of making a roller skating hall.

This dinner is sponsored by the Community Club. It is to be cooked and served by Mrs. E. O. Nickerson and her cafeteria crew as a special treat from the Community Club to all of the children of the school and the teachers who so cooperated in the money making project within the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo (Greta) Elwert of Portland arrived Friday to spend the week-end with Mrs. Elwert's mother, Mrs. Alvin Tipton, at her home in Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Collins, of Redmond, spent Saturday and Sunday, as guests of the former's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Collins, in Dillard. Andy Collins, young son of the Dean Collins, is reported to be ill at their home.

Mrs. Frank B. Drew is reported to be responding favorably from the major operation she underwent on Friday morning at the Saint Vincent Hospital in Portland. She is doing as well as can be expected, according to the report from her physicians. Mrs. Drew is the wife of the Dillard minister, Rev. Frank B. Drew.

Mrs. Virgil Post, who accompanied Rev. and Mrs. Drew to Portland, returned to her home in Dillard late Sunday evening. She arrived in Salem Saturday afternoon and went to the home of relatives, where she was met by her husband, Virgil Post, her son, Merle Post, and daughter, Mrs. Muriel McEntyre and son, Stephen.
Mrs. James Fosback, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident two weeks ago at Red Bluff, Calif., has returned home to Dillard. Mrs. Fosback is now returning from Portland where she underwent eye surgery. She was accompanied to Dillard by her husband, James Fosback, and Mrs. C. C. Fosback, on Friday. She is reported to be recuperating satisfactorily.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Halverson returned home to Dillard Tuesday evening from Albany, where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Halverson's father, Frank Smith, who died in a rest home in Salem a few days previously. Mrs. Frank Smith, who has been spending the past few weeks with the Halversons, is now visiting with her daughter at Coos Bay.

Kiwanis District Governor Honored At Conference Here

District Governor Harold S. Robinson of the University-Seattle Kiwanis club was honored at the annual spring conference in Roseburg Saturday and Sunday when Kiwanians and their wives from 12 cities in the area gathered here.

A get-acquainted session in honor of Robinson was held at the home of Horace Berg, lieutenant-governor, before the business session Sunday in the Roseburg Woman's Club.

Wives of Kiwanians were taken on a tour of the city by Mrs. Berg and Mrs. M. J. Newland.

The meeting was opened by N. D. Johnson, president of the Roseburg club, and Berg presided for the business session. An address on boys and girls work by Russell Kurtz of Coos Bay, member of the international committee was given. Business affairs committee work was discussed by C. E. "Tommy" Thompson of Redmond, immediate past lieutenant-governor. Gordon Roseland, Key club representative, reported on relations with Kiwanians. Maurice Newland, past president of the Roseburg club, discussed work in Key clubs. Dr. Walker of the Medford club, and past president of the Astoria club was selected by the division for appointment as lieutenant-governor in 1953.

An unusual form of inter-club meeting was presented by the North Bend club headed by Gerald Wallace, president. It was a tape-recording by members of the Brockville, Ontario, club giving a word-picture of a typical meeting there with the North Bend club, which is to be undertaken in like manner by the North Bend club. The meeting recorded was in complete detail including toasts to the queen and to the president of the United States, and speeches of a "booster" nature.

An address climaxing the meeting was given by Governor Robinson following a luncheon in the Woman's club building. He cited numerous examples of activity in youth work. Kiwanians were invited to attend the International convention June 15, first to be on the Pacific coast for many years. Seventy-eight hundred are registered of the 11,000 expected.

Abnathy of present-day citizens in regard to their freedom and attention to responsibility for voting drew criticism from Governor Robinson as having reached a state of alarming proportions. Figures to show this in 75 years were given, as follows: percent of people voting in 1880 — 78.4 per cent, in 1900 — 73.5 per cent, 1920 —

49.3 per cent, 1940 — 53.4 per cent, 1950 — 44 per cent. These figures were compared with those of other democracies in 1950, as follows: Canada 75 per cent, Sweden 80 per cent, Israel 72.2 per cent and England 83 per cent.

Cities represented were north Bend, Coos Bay, Ashland, Grants Pass, Springfield, Madras, Bend, Redmond, Prineville, Klamath Falls, Medford and Roseburg.

Boxing as a sport is believed to have been derived from ancient Greece.
