Ever hear of Cecile Chaminade? Of course you have. That name is associated with such charming light classical tunes as AUTUMN, THE FAUNS, THE FLATTERERS and many others. The unique thing about Chaminade is that she is a woman. . . about the only composer of classical music we have on record. . . for that matter. She was born in Paris in 1857 (a time when women were not generally accepted in the composing circles). But she conquered Paris with the sheer poetry of her works. Which points the way to other women with composing ambitions.

There's a definite place in our time for women composers. Although we regret to note that there are very few of them on record at this point. Perhaps you have talent along these lines. . . but haven't done anything with it. If so. . . take your cue from Cecile Chaminade. She conquered Paris in the 19th century. . . and you can conquer the music world of our day. Don't hide your talents at any rate. Give it a try.

By the way, there's no need to shop around for that top buy in Accordians. We have a complete selection. . . Galanti, Frontalim. . . the leading names. Come in any time and look around our comfortable store. You'll enjoy shopping at OTT & RICKETS MUSIC STORE. 101-105 W. Cass St. Phone: 3-3202 (Paid Advertisement)
