Junior Legion Nines To Open Season Tonight

Roseburg unveils its 1952 edition of the American Junior Legion baseball team tonight at 8 on Finlay Field.

The Roseburg Juniors meet Sutherlin in the first game of the four-team loop. Sunday, the other half of the league goes into action when Drain invades Myrtle Creek.

Although Hal Zurcher's local team has been practicing occasionally after school, preparatory action for the double-round robin has been spotty. This week, Football Coach Bill Reder is guiding the young Legion team while Zudcher is honeymooning.

Mayor Al Flegel also reveals that registration for the Pee Wee summer baseball program is scheduled for Monday. Youngsters may be registered between 1 and 3:30 p.m. Zurcher will also mentor this program with Mickey Coen as assistant. Flegel states that practices will begin Tuesday and uniforms should be issued during the week.

Scorekeeper For Chiefs Will Be Loop Statiscian

Chuck Plummer, Roseburg Chief scorekeeper, has been selected as official Southwestern OR gon League statistician by League Secretary Jess Barton.

The young University of Oregon student applied for the position last week and was notified of his acceptance this week.

All-Star Wrestling Card Set For Saturday Night In Armory

It's going to be an all-star card for local wrestling fans this Saturday in the Roseburg Armory.

Beside the high tension rematch between Piledriving Leo Wallick and Airplane Spinning Frankie Stojack, the other two matches carry names which would get main billing on almost any other card.

In the two-out-of-three fall semi-final, Pacific Coast Lightheavy Champ Frenchy Roy of Quebec tangles with sensational Jack Kiser of Portland. In one of the fastest, cleanest matches in recent weeks, Kiser battled Stojack to the limit before finally losing in 45 minutes. Many ring veterans called this one of the finest matches in local history.

This won't be a title match, but the fast, clever Kiser would almost certainly get a shot at the crown if he could overcome the canny Frenchman. Roy will depend on his new corkscrew toehold while Kiser waits for an opening for his dropkicking pyrotechnics.

The one-fall 20-minute special event pits Bullet Bob Cummings against Gordon Hessell. Hessell has been working main events in the Puget Sound area and is somewhat disgruntled at having to open the program. Cummings is fresh from a battle royal triumph last weekend and is equally grumpy about getting an opening match. Both should be out to make it quick, Hessell with his trigger hold and Cummings with his kenn action leg binder.

Tickets for the 8:45 affair are on sale at Powell's Sporting Goods Store.

Nine Western Colleges In Rose Festival Rodeo

PORTLAND (AP) — Nine Western colleges will be represented in the National Intercollegiate Rodeo to be held here next week as a feature of the Portland Rose Festival.

The college cowpokes are expected here from Texas, Oklahoma California and New Mexico schools as well as Washington State College, Oregon State College, University of Idaho and Montana State.

Plywood Co-op Promoters Date Stock Sale Bid

Stockholders and all persons interested in helping get the Mar-Linn Plywood plant at Winchester in operation are invited to attend a meeting at the plant Sunday, June 8, at 2 p.m., announced E.O. McClintock, acting chairman of the board of directors for the newly incorporated Winchester Plywood Association.

They are invited to bring their wives and to join in the discussion.

Blanks for subscription to common capital stock of the association have been prepared. They list capital of $1,000,000 with 200 shares of common stock at $5,000 par value.

The plant, which was closed down earlier this year, is proposed by the association for reopening as a co-operative venture, each employee to be a stockholder.

The blanks state that not less than $3,000 is to be paid with execution of the subscription agreement, and $50 monthly installments to be paid to the association thereafter until a total amount of $5000 is paid.

The subscription agreement is made with the understanding that the funds paid are to be used by the association to purchase the plywood plant and facilities of the Mar-Lin Lumber Corp. and to provide working capital for the operations. If the total subscriptions paid to the association are less than $400,000, or if less than 100 persons subscribe, the subscription agreement is canceled and all sums paid shall be refunded to the payer, the agreement states.

Seattle Youth Will Meet Flam

SEATTLE (AP) — A surprising 17-year-old Seattle junior player meets top-seeded Herb Flam of Los Angeles in a quarter-final Match of the National Hard Court Tennis championships Friday.

Bill Quillian, lanky and hard-hitting University of Washington player, reached the round-of-eight Thursday turning back the veteran Seattle lefthander, Jack Lowe, 6-3, 6-4. Two days ago he upset seventh seeded Charles Hare of Chicago, a former British Davis Cup player.

Quillian, northern division Pacific Coast conference singles champion, powered his serve for easy points in winning from Lowe.

The quarter-final match Friday between former National Champion Art Larsen, of San Leandro, Calif., and Harry Likas, San Francisco, was called with Likas holding a 7-6 lead in the first set. Rain stopped the play and the two will pick up where they left off Friday afternoon.

In other matches Thursday, Flam won from Bill Millikan of the Madigan General Hospital, Fort Lewis, Wash., 7-5, 6-4; Fred Hagist, Berkeley, Calif., won from Lefty Eden, Seattle 6-0, 6-4 and Bill Talbert New York, eliminated Emery Neale, Portland, Ore., 7-5, 7-5.

In the women's singles, Anita Kantner, Santa Monica, Calif., advanced with a 6-1, 6-3 win over Amy Yee, Seattle, 6-1, 6-3.

One of the colorful Ross-Dilley twins of London, England, stayed in the tournament when Joan beat Patsy Heard, Portland, 0-6, 12-10.
