LOCAL NEWS

Attend Funeral — Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Richman and family have returned home from Portland, after attending the funeral of Mrs. Richman's mother, Mrs. Anna Fink. Mrs. Fink made her home for a time with the Richmans in Roseburg. Services were held in Portland and burial was at Estacada. Also attending the services were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Holbrook of Roseburg.

Dated On Tv Show — Roland Wagner, pianist, will be on the KGO television station, San Francisco, Monday, June 9, on the Armand Gerard half-hour show. Roland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Wagner, former residents of Roseburg and now residing in San Jose, Calif. He will be remembered here as a talented pianist. He will enter San Jose State College in the fall to major in music.

On Extended Tour — Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Terry, owners of the Georgie Lee Shoppe, are on an extended tour through the southland. They have visited New York, Virginia, Miami, Fla., Daytona Beach, Fla., Long Beach and Los Angeles, Calif. They are expected to return to Roseburg sometime next week.

Failure of the 1845 potato crop in Ireland stimulated heavy immigration to the United States from that country.

WRESTLING PARADE, tonight at 9:15, features the most-publicized rematch in recent local ring history. Leo Wallick, handed an ultimatum by the Roseburg Wrestling Commission to sign or be suspended from further bouts in Oregon, signed for a return bout with Frankie Stojack. Matchmaker Elton Owen has added another incentive, a shot at Roger Mackay, the new Pacific Coast junior heavyweight champion. Referee for this bout will be Buddy Gilbert, a licensed referee from New York. It promises to be a riproaring battle, so if there is SRO, tune 1490 on your dial and listen from the comfort of your home.

MOMENTS OF DEVOTION, tomorrow morning, 8:15, will take the form of a radio drama in observance of Children's Day. Titled, "Judges Decision," it places the guilt for a young girl's arrest upon their parents, who have not given them proper guidance and home environment. Characters to be heard include Donna Opal, Carole Kimball, Tommy Blythe and Chuck Crose. This is always a local program, with the Rev. Clark Robb guiding your thoughts every Sunday morning at this same time.

MYSTERIES: A mad scientist plots wholesale murder in a grim mystery titled, "The Silent Killer," on THE SHADOW, tomorrow at 2:00. Dr. Carl Featherstone, a demented scientist with a lust for power and his brother's bank roll, has just perfected his Formula RX4, a deadly nerve gas. First victim, of course, is his brother, a miser who has inherited the family fortune. Tune in to hear the complications that arise. Then at 2:30, we are asked, "Would any man be low enough to kill his best friend for money?" "True Detective Mystery" to be re-enacted at that time . . .police found that a murdered man had changed the beneficiary on his insurance policy just before he was killed. That always throws a peculiar odor over things. Hear this dramatized from actual police records.

The lovely Monica Lewis, commedienne Patsy Kelly and Howard Keel are to be co-starred in "Two Girls and A Sailor" on the "M-G-M Musical Comedy Theater" Sunday evening at 6:00. The story line? It's about two girls and a sailor. 'Nuf said.

AT 9:15 p.m. Sunday, MUSE AND MUSIC presents Leroy Hiatt reading James Whitcomb Riley's "Knee Deep in June," one of the most beloved of Riley's poems, especially appropriate at this time.

Rocky Butte Jail Riot Ends With Use Of Tear Gas

PORTLAND (AP) — Tear gas brought a quick end to a brief riot at Multnomah County's Rocky Butte jail last midnight.

One of the ringleaders was under guard in the County Hospital with a head cut, inflicted when Jack Matthews, jail superintendent, struck him with a tear gas bomb.

Matthews said the prisoner, Pete Santonis, 21, rushed him after being ordered out of a dormitory cell. Another ringleader, Robert Lyons, 23, was placed in solitary.

Matthews said the trouble started over disciplinary measures growing out of the discovery of hack saw blades and attempts by prisoners to remove windows from the cell. He cut off mail privileges and candy deliveries.

The superintendent said he then received a letter signed by 20 prisoners, declaring they would not work in the rock quarry unless mail privileges were restored.

Matthews, accompanied by three deputies, went to the dormitory cell, occupied by 45 prisoners, and told them their demands had been rejected.

Some of the prisoners then began tearing up beds and other cell furnishings and breaking windows, he said. A tear gas bomb was tossed into the cell.

"I told the leaders to come out," Matthews said. "Then one of them said to come and get them, so we went in."

Another tear gas bomb was released and then, Matthews said, Santonis rushed him. The superintendent struck him with a tear gas bomb he was holding.

"That put an end to it," Matthews said.

The other prisoners were back at work in the rock quarry Thursday.

Santonis is serving time for an earlier escape! Matthews said. Lyons was serving time on a bad check charge.
