400 At Graduation Exercises For Lookingglass Eighth Grade

By HAZEL S. MARSH

Graduation exercises for the eighth grade pupils were held on Tuesday evening which, together with the community picnic held at the school on Wednesday marked the close of the school year at Lookingglass.

Seventeen students were graduated from the eighth grade with a program which was greatly enjoyed by the audience of approximately 400 patrons of the school. Betty Jo Wylie gave the valedictory speech and Bill Rudzik the salutatory. Juanita Roscher as historian brought out the interesting information that none of the graduates had started their work in the Lookingglass school as first graders. Betty Jo Wylie started her training in the third grade and other members were added throughout the years.

Brent Strickland read a report of the boy's sport activities and Patricia Doyle reported for the girls. Linda Baker read the class will, Margie Sharpe the class prophecy and James Miller the class poem.

Two numbers were given by the rhythm bands under the direction of the first and second grade teachers. Mary Morgan, Chorus numbers, "America." "Faith of our Fathers" and the Oregon State Song were given by pupils from the third to sixth grades inclusive under the direction of the teachers of those grades. Mrs. Esther Parr and Mrs. Katherine Cory.

The Girls' Choral group and the Boys' Choral group under the direction of Principal Rose each gave a number of selections. A quartette number was given by the Thompsons and piano solos by Lorna Vance and Claudette Manning, both graduates of last year.

The baton act by Sharon Collins and the baton drill by a group of the pupils under the direction of Rose and Mrs. Cory were much appreciated. The drill was highlighted at the close by the players forming the figures "fifty-two". A lovely May pole winding drill was given under the direction of Mrs. Parr, with 16 of the upper grade pupils participating.

Presentation of the class was made by Rose and the address to the class by Rev. Ralph F. Knaut. George Marsh, chairman of the school board, presented the diplomas.

Betty Jo Wylie, class president, was presented the all around student award by the class secretary, treasurer Bill Rudzik. The class presented a handsome tie class to Mr. Rose in appreciation of his service to them.

The gymnasium was beautifully decorated by members of the PTA in red and white roses the class colors, with massed greenery.

Steel Seizure Power Asked By President

ers as "unwise, unfair and quite possibly ineffective." He said the union had voluntarily postponed strike action for 99 days as compared with the Taft-Hartley 90-day cooling-off period. Truman continued:

"Its (Taft-Hartley) effect would be to require the workers to continue working for another long period without change in their wages and working conditions."

"This would be grossly unfair. The Wage Stabilization Board, the government agency charged with responsibility in these matters, has found — and the companies have admitted — that the workers are entitled to improvements in wages and working conditions."

"The result of using a Taft-Hartley type injunction in this dispute would be to take sides with the companies against the workers."

If Congress should go against his judgment on Taft-Hartley, Truman urged that it vote powers for an immediate injunction, without waiting for the fact-finding report by a special board as now required by that statute.

Three Objectives Offered
Truman said Congress should act with three objectives in mind:

1. "To secure essential steel production."

2. "To assure fair treatment to both parties . . ."

3. "To encourage the parties to settle their differences through collective bargaining."

Pleading now for Congress to give him this power, Truman told the legislators in solemn words that full scale production of steel is absolutely necessary to the Western rearmament program. He added:

"The issue of peace or war hangs in the balance, and steel is a vital element in the outcome."

Alluding then to the great court fight over his seizure powers, Truman said he believed he was only living up to his oath of office when he ordered seizure of the steel plants last April 8.

He continued:
Now a majority of the Supreme Court have declared that I cannot take the action I believe necessary. But they have said very clearly that the Congress can."

The first suit was filed by Maria D. Pastega, Jay Piccinati is plaintiff in the other.

Transportation Eras Shown By Collector

Residents may have, is a photo of the Steamboat Swan, which, under Captain Haun, made an historic voyage from Gardiner to Roseburg in 11 days in January, 1870. The trip, Abdill says, proved to the federal government the importance of Roseburg which resulted in congressional appropriations for the area.

The railroads have played a key role in Roseburg's history, he says. "Before the SP moved its main lines through Klamath Falls, Roseburg was primarily a railroad town. There used to be 52 engine helpers here. When they moved their main force to Eugene, it staggered the town. Now there are only two engine helpers," he notes.

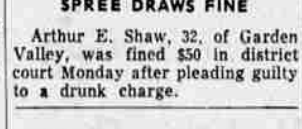

"But when the national emergency came before the Second World War, Roseburg really began to boom."

The photo display will continue through June 21.

Now users testify... "RPM" doubles engine life

Cars go twice as far between major overhauls
For taxis it's stop-and-go all day long—and no driving costs so much in engine wear! Yet a year after switching to Heavy Duty "RPM", one user, Tanner Motor Tours of Nevada, reports: It was our practice to overhaul taxis every 30,000 to 40,000 miles; we now have cabs operating over 100,000 miles between overhauls. Motorists everywhere get results better than our claim, "Doubles Engine Life" (the time between major overhauls due to lubrication*). You can avoid repair bills, too. Change to Heavy Duty "RPM" soon!
