KRRR

Received an interesting letter the other day from Keith Robinson, New Zealand. To show you how KRRR covers territory, Keith wrote that he picked up our sign off recently way down in New Zealand. He wrote to our chief engineer, giving specific times, etc. Keith said he heard our announcer give the sign-off, and then part of our evening prayer, immediately following. Interesting and also thoughtful of Keith Robinson in New Zealand to take all the trouble of informing us.

Two important programs scheduled for today on KRRR. At 5:00 p.m., President Truman speaks from the submarine base at New London, Connecticut, on the occasion of the laying of the keel of the first atomic submarine in history. A most fabulous undertaking, and a truly important and historical program that you'll surely want to hear. Tonight at 5:00 over KRRR. At 7:00 this evening, General Eisenhower speaks to America, via Mutual, and KRRR. The General takes over the regular spot of Dr. Kildare, who will not be on, therefore, until next week at the usual 7:00 o'clock time. General Eisenhower speaks from the Olympic Stadium in Detroit.

KRRR's studios are gradually taking on glamor as the painters hold forth with brush and pail. Studios are in two-tone green combination most pleasing to the eye, and it is hoped the announcers can give better performances than ever, with the eye-pleasing shades.

The reception room is a beautiful rose tone, most pleasing to behold. Spring house-cleaning is belated for KRRR, but nonetheless definitely with us now, with all its confusion and mess. The final goal should be worth the trouble though.

Wrestling fans are assured an action-packed evening of the grunt-and-groan clan, as usual, this evening. Bob Grant gives you stay-at-homes a ringside seat with his always-present microphone direct from the Armory at 9:15 p.m.

HARRIMAN DATED

PORTLAND 14 — W. Averell Harriman, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, will be in Portland June 24 instead of June 25 as reported earlier by Democratic Party officials.
