

Lt. Sanders May Return To Service

First Lieutenant Virgil Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Sanders, Roseburg, is expected soon to be back in combat service.

A former Roseburg High School football and basketball star, and long identified with American Legion junior baseball teams and Roseburg's semi-pro teams, Sanders flew the "Hump" during the second World War.

He recently was called up from the reserve for active service and now is participating in the formation of a new medium bombardment wing, flying B-29s. The group soon will be ready for combat service, he reports and, if assigned to the Korean theater, he will have made a complete circuit of the globe.

Lt. Sanders now is located at Topeka, Kansas, where, he says, exceptionally stormy weather has made flying difficult, reminding him of the weather experienced during flights between India and China during the last war.

The program will include a dramatic presentation of a Bible story, a Bible puppet show, songs and recitations.

Primary students will present an original drama, "Three Men Who Trusted God." The junior group will perform a puppet play entitled, "Giving Thanks." All students enrolled are expected to participate in the program.

Increased Disability Pay Asked In 2 Suits

Two suits against the State Industrial Accident Commission were filed in Circuit Court Tuesday for increased disability allowances.

Leventine F. Plummer asks for 65 per cent permanent partial disability allowance for injuries allegedly received in a logging accident. The complaint states that Plummer broke his leg while bucking a log while in the employ of the Union Gap Logging Co.

The second complaint was filed by Lauren C. Johnson. He asks 100 per cent disability of an arm. The complaint states Johnson was injured while working with the W. C. Green Construction Co. near Tokete Falls when a tractor track fell on him. It further states that he can do nothing but light physical work and his present permanent partial disability is not enough.

Mary Annabelle Hobbs, wife of William A. Hobbs, route 1, box 1248, Roseburg, died suddenly June 17 at a local hospital.

Born at Oil City, Pa., May 3, 1912, she came to Roseburg only recently from California.

Senior High Key Club Discusses Activity Plans

Plans of aiding community summer activities, plans for extending next year's school interests, and the program for visits to Key clubs and Kiwanis clubs in other Southern Oregon cities were topics for the second of a series of summer meetings of the Senior High School Key Club at the Hotel Umpqua Tuesday evening.

A lively discussion on expansion of Key club projects was led by Ernie Jorgensen, president. George Bielle commented on experiences in club efforts while he was president for 1951-52 school year. Dean McFall gave a past report on visits to be made by himself as lieutenant-governor to clubs in Southern Oregon.

Ways of taking part in the possible 4th of July celebration, the Umpqua Cavalcade Centennial celebration and other events were presented. Advisability of expanding membership in the club was a major subject. Tentative projects to be undertaken when school begins were considered, and it was proposed that the club seek a franchise or connection with some business firm whereby the club might earn a profit to finance its activity program.

A picnic was decided upon for the next meeting to be called by the president, or tentatively set for July 10.

Appreciation was expressed for the opportunity offered young men in the Key Club who are looking for a vocation to meet and know Kiwanians who are already established in their favored fields, and who are willing to be helpful in giving information concerning those fields.

Other Key Club members present were Don Ware, secretary; Wayne Medford, treasurer; John Robertson, Tommy Thompson, Bruce Voeller and Jack Cook.

Potato Shortage Over, Prices Begin To Drop

By The Associated Press
The nation's big potato shortage is over, with plenty of spuds in markets from coast to coast.

An Associated Press survey Tuesday showed that at many places prices had dropped as much as one-third from the highs reached about two weeks ago after potato price ceilings were suspended.

One nationwide retail food chain is selling spuds at five pounds for 25 cents, compared with 45 cents last week end and its average selling of 33 cents two weeks ago.

Need Of Upped Budget Cited By Gilchrist

the same as police, but they work on a 72-hour basis.

Listing the various items of the budget, he said, airport work will cost an estimated $3,500, although a portion of that will be returned from receipts.

The budget committee wants to establish in the street tax fund a $20,000 item to inaugurate a program of permanent street improvement to eliminate summer dust and winter rain. How this would be worked out is still under discussion, but it would make possible for the city to contribute some of the cost of new street paving.

Sewage Poses Problem

Gilchrist spoke at length on the proposed plan to hire a firm of competent engineers to make a study of sewers and sewage disposal plant, also of the areas not served and to outline a program of progress. For this $9,040 has been allowed.

The sewage disposal plant is taxed to capacity during peak periods of the day. Surplus sewage must be dumped into the river. The rate of flow is greater on Mondays, when most housewives wash, he said.

Other items include $10,000 for storm sewer work, $1,000 for lights in Umpqua Park, new chlorinator and replacement of overflow trough at the swimming pool, and purchase of needed trucks for city use, and other equipment.

Bicycle Slogans Aid To Riders

To promote safe bicycle riding, the Bicycle Institute announces safety slogans designed to encourage more careful riding in the Roseburg area:

Don't talk back to a red light. (Obey all traffic signs and rules.)

Stick out your hand or you're sticking out your neck. (Signal before making turns.)

You can stunt once too often. (Save your Tom Sawyer cycling for empty streets.)

Don't argue with busy intersections. (Walk your bike across them.)

Riding double means double trouble. (Never carry passengers.)

Look before you weep. (Be careful at railroad crossings and before coming out of alleys and driveways.)

Single file is back in style. (Ride that way when with a group of cyclists.)

Don't take a hitch in your life. (Hitching to moving vehicles is always dangerous.)

Bread belongs in the breadbasket. (Use a rack or basket for groceries and all parcels.)

Light up your bike at night. (A headlight and rear reflector are the law for night riding.)

Use your head and you're sure to keep it.

Judging Of Bands At Fete Unfair, Stiles Declares

Future policy in regard to participating of Roseburg Senior High School band and a local float in the Portland Rose Festival was announced today by Ed Stiles, band director.

Meanwhile, those who attended the 1952 Portland festival continued to discuss the appearance of both the band and the Moose Lodge entry in the recent extravaganza.

Stiles says that although the Roseburg band was the fastest stepping unit he had timed—a cadence of 156 beats a minute—and received much praise from those along the line of march as well as from friends, the band did not win any award.

"In the future, Roseburg will probably send the band and a float entry to the festival every two or three years," he predicts. He says that it takes time to get the necessary financial backing for a first-rate appearance at the Portland event. Because of the Centennial celebration this year, the Chamber of Commerce could not contribute to a float, he notes.

According to festival rules, a city must enter both a float and a band in order to participate. Stiles hopes that the next trip will see a better-supported expedition.

The band members enjoyed their stay at Reed College, he says. About 18 band members were routed out of their rooms, however, to assist in decorating the Moose Lodge float on Thursday evening—until 10:30. He says that the band stood up well under the long strain of a two and one-half hour parade. One majorette became fatigued and dropped out temporarily.

Judging Criticized

Stiles had hearty commendation for the 64 band members who raised $601, largely through ribbon sales, to help finance the trip.

He feels that judging was unfair in that his band was not notified at what point in the line of march the band was to be judged. "I understood that judging was to be at the beginning of the parade," Stiles said. "Actually, judging took place about two miles away." Stiles thinks that all bands should be aware of the place of judging, and should have a chance to appear at their peak.

"The band probably did not win because it was inconsistent. We were not at our best when passing the judges stand. We played our most difficult of four selections at the judges stand after a fatiguing march."

Bands were judged on the basis of 100 points, 40 for playing, 30 for marching and 30 for appearance. Grants Pass took first place for out-of-Portland bands, and Vancouver, Wash., got an honorable mention. Bands from Hillsboro and Newberg also competed.

Two guest bands from Kalispell and Sunburst, Mont., also performed, but were not judged.

Reedsport's Housing Restrictions Eased

The government acted today to ease the housing shortage in Reedsport by declaring the town a critical housing area.

This designation, granted by the Defense Production Administration, makes the area eligible for relaxation of housing credit restrictions and a liberalization of mortgage insurance.

These measures are expected to stimulate home construction, especially in the low-rental class. Government orders will also make the area eligible for more critical building supplies.

Pythian Sisters To Get Twenty-Five Year Pins

testified that blood from Jenkins body contained .25 gram of alcohol per 100 cubic centimeters of blood. He explained that amount of content should make Jenkins "quite drunk."

The highest alcohol content he has seen, Dr. Harris said, was .5 gram per cubic centimeter, and in that case the person was dead.

Hunt For Shotgun Fulle

Former District Attorney Robert G. Davis, who investigated the killing, testified that he, State Police Sgt. Holly V. Holcomb and Smith returned to Camas Valley early May 13 to try to find the murder weapon.

He and Sgt. Holcomb combed a grain field at the direction of Smith who later jokingly admitted he knew the gun wasn't there. Davis said.

"We joked back and forth concerning sending Sgt. Holcomb and myself on a 'wild goose chase' in the wet grain field," Davis said.

Others testifying for the state Tuesday were Deputy Sheriff Ira Byrd; Lt. Jack H. Bears, state police firearms expert; Deputy Colonel Robert Bellows, former Deputy Sheriff Clarence Shroat, State Police Sgt. Holly Holcomb; Patrolman Charles Wright, and Carol Towt, stenographer in the sheriff's office.

Defense witnesses included Mrs. Marge Standley, a neighbor of Smith's; and Jake Robins, of Camas Valley, whom Smith reportedly separated from Jenkins when the two became involved in an altercation.

Payrolls Boost Douglas County Into Third Spot

Douglas County, which stood 14th in covered payrolls among Oregon counties in 1941, moved into third place, ahead of Marion County, in 1951.

A State Unemployment Compensation Commission report, listing final payroll figures for 1951, shows Douglas County with a gain of 17.5 per cent, over 1950, as compared with 15.3 per cent gain for the state as a whole.

Douglas County's covered payrolls in 1951 totaled $54,608,517 in 1951, as compared with $46,473,780 in 1950 and only $4,200,199 in 1941. Covered payrolls are those listed through the Unemployment Compensation Commission.

Although Douglas County crowded Marion County out of third spot, the standing is not a true reflection of total payroll, as state workers are not covered and Marion County does not receive credit in the report for the state payroll.

Multnomah County holds first place with $529,809,317 a gain of 13.4 per cent from 1950. Lane County climbed over the $100 million mark in second spot for a total of $104,452,568, a gain of 22.2 per cent. Marion County, in fourth place, had payrolls amounting to $53,997,998, a gain of 14.2 per cent.

The report indicates a race shaping up between Douglas and Coos Counties. Coos County with a total of $50,456,958, was in fifth place, but had a gain of 23 per cent.

The largest percentage gain was in Curry County, 66.2 per cent, a jump from $2,590,257 in 1950 to $4,306,014 in 1951.

Explorer Scouts Plan Canoe Trip To Reedsport

trict executive from Coos Bay. Tentative plans call for devoting the first two days, Sunday and Monday, to training for canoeing techniques, and getting used to handling the big crafts.

Tuesday morning the canoes will start from Umpqua, downriver from Roseburg, to avoid some exceptionally perilous water, filled with snags, said Quam.

The group expects to camp Tuesday night at the Camp Fire Girls' Camp Tyee. The scouts will camp just below Kellogg Wednesday, below Elkton Thursday, at the roadside park between Scottsburg and Reedsport Friday, and arrive at Reedsport at noon Saturday.

Truck To Trace Route

Walt Smith, Douglas District Scout executive, will trace the route by truck, to be available to lend emergency care if necessary, and also to take pictures and keep a running account of the trip.

Quam said the water will be higher than usual, which will make for rougher water in spots, but will also cover rocks that are troublesome when the water level is lower. There are also several channel changes, he said.

Explorer Scouts desiring to make the trip should sign up immediately with the Oregon Trail Council area office at Eugene.

$20 BAIL FORFEITED

Judge Ira B. Riddle today ordered $20 bail of Audlen Monroe Scogg, 305 E. 2nd Ave. S., forfeited on a charge of drunkenness, according to Municipal Court records.
