Laurance Family Reunion Is Held

The annual family picnic celebrating the birthday of George Baker Laurance was a large affair recently, on the old Willis Creek picnic grounds. The children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren gather every year to celebrate the birthday of Mr. Laurance who was 86 years old April 17. Due to unsettled weather for picnics, the affair was postponed several times.

The planning committee for the 1952 picnic was in charge of Mrs. Dan Laurance and Mrs. Dick Reece who made all arrangements including the menu. The sumptuous feast was served from long tables arranged under the large oak and maple trees in this picturesque setting.

The Laurance family, long well-known for their ball playing and having a reunion. Both men and women, young and old activities always enjoy getting to take part in the fun.

The members of the family attending the picnic this year were Mr. and Mrs. Custer C. Laur-

MR. AND MRS. RADER CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING JUNE 15th

An outstanding social event was the Golden Wedding celebration at Kellogg Grange Hall June 15 honoring Mr. and Mrs. J. Boyd Rader, who were married fifty years June 19. Enjoying the day with them, and working to make it a most wonderful day, were many friends and relatives and members of Kellogg Grange No. 811.

The fifty-year bride, attractively arrayed in an afternoon ivory-colored frock, which displayed turquoise flowers and splashes of gold, and also a gold belt and gold buttons, wore white gold-decorated slippers and a corsage of deep-blue canterbury bells, and carried a gold-trimmed white purse. The groom also wore the same flower—their wedding flowers—on the lapel of his brown suit.

Warren Powell, cousin of the bridegroom, took many pictures of this honored couple, and the different settings about the hall.

After the beautiful potluck dinner which was served at noon, eight girls: Gayle Groshong, Joanne Dyingner, Nancy Fisher, Alana Surgen, and four nieces of the bride: Donna, Darlene, Lorna and Betty Madison, sang appropriate songs for the different incidents in the story—read by Frances Carnes, lecturer of Kellogg Grange—of the lives of the guests of honor. Anna Bauer presided at the piano. First on the program was an original song, written by Margaret Holcomb, to the tune of "Put On Your Old Gray Bonnet" and was followed by a recitation—also original—by little Rosalie Holcomb. Just before the wedding tableau Lorna Madison sang, "I Love You Truly." In the wedding scene were the following great nieces and nephews of the bride, Irwin and Judy Ladd, Roger and Stephen Madison, Gay and Rex Swearingen and Judy, Beverly and Darlene Mode. Also assisting in this beautiful tableau were Larry Gates and Terry Spayde. Leona Madison arranged the tableau.

Another solo was "Let the Best of the World Go By," by Lucy Haines, and the four Madison girls sang "There's a Bluebird on My Window Sill."

This was followed by a history lesson, led by Margaret Holcomb, in which all guests were invited to take part by telling some incident in the lives of the Raders. Responses were given by Edith Mode, Ray Rader, Ida Hutchinson—who, by the way, won the prize for having the best recitation—Bob Minter, Emma Madison, Frank Madison, Vivian Logsdon, Tilla Emmitt, George Madison, Marjorie Dyingner, Edgar Madison, Ross Hutchinson, Evelyn Elkins, Edith Madison, Ethel Wright, Thelma Ladd, Paul Anderson, Leona Madison, Marian Fisher, Virginia Myers, Oscar Rader, Joanne Dyingner, Alex Sawyer and Lucy Haines, with a response by Boyd Rader.

The program closed by the singing of "The Lord's Prayer," by Frances Carnes.

The wedding cake was served by sisters-in-law of the bride, Hannah and Edith Madison. These cakes were gifts from the bride's many nieces and nephews and were beautifully decorated with gold letterings and roses and bells and one, a two layer, was topped with a bride and groom. The bride's table was beautifully decorated by Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Haines. From the gold arch above the table was suspended a banner with the years, 1902-1952, in gold and from the arch were gold streamers leading down to the ends of the table and the lovely low bouquets of yellow snapdragons, which were centered with beautiful fuchsia blossoms—flowers from the Haines' attractive flower gardens. In the late afternoon, the bride and bridegroom, assisted by Lorna and Darlene Madison and little Judy Anne Mode, removed the coverings from the many mysterious packages, piled high on the gold-streamer gift table, to discover many beautiful, useful and decorative gifts to add to the collection already received through the mail and opened at home. There were also many congratulatory cards by mail and a telegram from Anacortes, Wash., and a telephone call from Los Angeles.

Monday morning, this couple started on the long-planned honeymoon trip to Seattle, that they had dreamed of through all the fifty years of their married life. Returning with the groom's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ray
