

Symphony Orchestra Calls For Musicians

The Roseburg Symphony Orchestra needs more musicians for its job providing music for the Douglas County Centennial Pageant, Aug. 31 and Sept. 1.

Director Wendell Johnson asks any interested musicians, particularly string players, to come to the orchestra's regular rehearsal at 8 p.m. DST Tuesday in the Chorus Room of the Senior High School Library Arts Building. He has just a few openings in other than string sections.

Tuesday night will be the group's third rehearsal of Composer Gall Kubik's score for the Centennial celebration. Johnson says the music is typically contemporary, and not overly difficult. He'll use just a few non-Kubik numbers.

The orchestra usually has 35 pieces, but its director hopes to have about 50 playing for the Centennial Pageant.

Motorist Tries To Kill Snake, Breaks His Arm

PLATTER, Okla. — A large snake crossed the highway in front of an automobile driven by James J. Goza, 28, of Clara, Okla., east of here Sunday and proved as unlucky as a black cat.

Goza tried to crush the reptile with his car. The action threw the vehicle out of control and it plunged into a ditch, breaking Goza's arm.

The snake slithered away untouched.

CHEMICALS AGAINST DEER

CEDAR FALLS, Iowa — A new type of chemical will be tried in an effort to halt crop damage by deer in this vicinity. The test will be supervised by biologists of the Iowa Conservation Commission on a farm adjoining Josh Higgins State Park.

Six acres, exposed to deer depredation, will be planted to soybeans and treated with the repellent. Two other acres in the same tract will be planted but unsprayed.

The tenant on the farm, Henry Thies, says that he tried to raise soybeans on 11 acres two years ago but the deer ate the tops off the plants. The result was no crop.

pledged, committed and conceded delegates showed: Taft 533, Eisenhower 428, others 131 and uncommitted 114.

This included contested delegates seated temporarily by the national committee.

The final outcome of those contests might change the standings. And most of the 114 uncommitted would be found voting for Eisenhower or Taft on the first ballot.

Taft produced a stack of telegrams he said represented pledges from 537 delegates to go down the line for him. He said that was more than any man ever took into a Republican convention. He said 100 more delegates lean his way, and he voiced confidence that he can win the nomination.

necessary to attack the Democratic party, he added: "The Democratic party has condemned itself . . . by preaching peace and waging war; by waste and squandering of the people's money; by winking and blinking at the menace of communism; and by shameful corruption of the federal government."

"The detailed indictment of the scandalous Democrat years will be presented by other speakers from this platform."

The convention, Gabrielson said, will "nominate the next President and Vice President of the United States." He said it will also "restate the fundamental principles essential for the peace and security of the world."

U.N. Credited By Truman With Halting Russia

WASHINGTON — President the United Nations made it possible to stop Russia. He said American "go it alone" advocates would invite World War III.

The Kremlin policy of conquest might have been irresistible, he said, "if it had not been clearly and decisively brought to the bar of world opinion in the U.N."

Submitting an annual report which detailed United States relations with the international organization, Truman said in an accompanying letter that although these relations have been carried on mostly on a non-partisan basis, there have been partisan attacks.

"Some of these attacks are made in a spirit of impatience that can only lead to the holocaust of world-wide war," Truman said. "Most of those who urge us to 'go it alone' are blind to the fact that such a course would destroy the solid progress toward world peace which the United Nations has made in the past seven years. I am confident that the American people will reject these voices of despair."

He did not identify any of the "go it alone" advocates. Gen. Douglas MacArthur used the phrase in his address to Congress last year after Truman relieved him as Far East commander.

Items in City Budget Based On Necessity

It is necessary that these items appear in the budget, although engineering for improvements to streets is not a tax item. Improvements to streets are offset largely by revenue from state sources specifically earmarked for this purpose. It must also be set up in the budget to be shown as income and expense, but is not a tax item.

The amount to be raised by taxation would be $236,410, of which $132,997.92 is inside the six per cent limitation or has been set up as a special levy previously voted by the people.

Departments where expenses are largely or in part offset by fees include dog control, building department, swimming pool public library and airport.

While there are several sources of revenue other than taxation, the largest are from municipal violations, liquor control commission, franchises, licenses and others. Parking meter revenue is listed as an estimated $49,500, and state gas and license fees, $68,000, both sums including estimated cash balances in the respective funds.
