CONVICTS PLANT TREES

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Honor inmates from San Quentin and Soledad State Prisons are playing a big role in replanting California forest land charred by fires last year.

Crews from San Quentin planted 200,000 Ponderosa and Jeffrey pine trees in the Plumas National Forest.

Honor inmates have been moved to camps in the forest area in the Plumas, Modoc, Stanislaus and Sierra National Forests.

Oregon Supplies Most Of Cedar For Pencil Trade

Oregon is best known as the nation's largest supplier of Douglas fir, premier construction lumber, but what many do not know is that this state also furnishes most of the soft, pliable wood used in the manufacture of the country's pencils.

Incense cedar might well be called pencil cedar for it is this secondary forest species, found principally in southern Oregon and northern California, which is the delight of the pencil industry.

Like two other well-known Oregon forest species of limited range, Oregon myrtle and Port Orford cedar, incense cedar has become valuable because of its highly specialized use. A few sawmills in southern Oregon specialize in manufacture of pencil blanks which in turn are shipped to plants where the pencils are made. Cutting of the pencil cedar log is tricky business, for attention must be paid to quality, slope of grain and other technical factors to insure highest possible return of top grade blanks.

Incense cedar seldom grows in heavy groves, but is found scattered among Douglas fir trees, often in the shade, and among Ponderosa pine forests in the drier climate of southern Oregon and northern California.

Secondary forest crops, while not large in dollar volume compared to the billions of feet of Douglas fir and Ponderosa pine timber which is converted into lumber and plywood, nevertheless play a definite part in the forest economy. Other secondary crops which can be taken off the growing forest, while the timber is maturing, are sword fern, digitals, cascara bark, decorative sprigs from Oregon grape and other greens and Christmas trees. Gathering and processing of these unusual forest crops give employ-

U.S. Natl. Bank Deposits Post All-Time High

An all-time high in total deposits were marked by the United States National Bank in its mid-year report. Deposits now stand at $59,580,475, the highest for any banking system in Oregon, officials report.

This represents an increase of $47,352,119 during the past 12 months.

The Roseburg Branch reported deposits totaling $18,074,156.23, according to H. E. Schmeer, manager.

Loans and discounts also reached a record peak during the past 12 months. The present total of $219,158,173 represents better than an 11 per cent increase, or a gain of $21,556,661 since June 30, 1951.

The Roseburg Branch shows a loans and discounts total of $5,988,835.50, Schmeer stated.

In 32nd place among the banks of the nation on March 31 and in first position in Oregon, the United States National now lists total resources of $643,409,725 as compared with $587,757,342 on June 30, 1951.

Six Sutherlin Girls In Field For Fete Queen

Six young Sutherlin misses are entered so far, in the contest for queen of the Douglas Timber Days celebration, Aug. 9 and 10.

The queen hopefuls and their sponsors are: Phyllis Pond, Sutherlin Associated Business Women's Club; Barbara Jean Meyers, Sutherlin Band Boosters; Juanita Gibson, Sutherlin Eagles Auxiliary; Mildred Chester, Sutherlin Lady Lions; Margaret Rose, Sutherlin Rebekah Lodge No. 218; and Evelyn Frottscher, Timberline Trail Riders.

Votes for the candidates go on sale today for 25 cents at the Eagles Hall, Sutherlin, between 8 a.m. and 12 noon. They'll also be available any other weekday between 2 and 5 p.m. Nina Smith is in charge of the queen candidate tickets.

There may be more than six candidates, since there's still time to register candidates with Mrs. Fred Waugh, registration chairman.

Celebration officials expect more parade floats this year than in the past, since more time is being allowed for preparation. In charge of float registration is Mrs. Cora Allen, of Allen's Red and White Store. No entry fee will be required.

At the Timber Days general committee meeting last Wednesday, the celebration committee reported arrangements just about finished for the annual event. General Chairman Harry Garber said that just a few contacts were left to make for program book advertising.

Fred Braunerger is the man to contact for any persons wishing concession space on the Timber Days grounds.

PULSATING MATTRESS

DALLAS (AP) — Parkland Hospital has a pulsating mattress designed to relieve possible bed sores of bulbar polio patients or those having other types of paralysis. It is one of the first to be used in the Southwest.

Pulsation of the mattress eases body pressure areas and forces blood circulation. The mattress is also said to be useful on rocking beds which, by use of a rocking motion, allow the patient to breathe easier.

WOODRUFFS RETURN

Dr. and Mrs. Byron E. Woodruff returned Saturday morning from an extended trip through the South and East. Dr. Woodruff attended the American Optometrists' convention at Miami, Fla., as the principal object of the trip. They went the southern route, and returned home through the northern part of the United States. Dr. Woodruff returned to his office this morning.

Miners Allowed To Sue For Loss In Wartime Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress believes that the gold "guinea pigs" of World War II should get a break.

The guinea pigs in this case are the gold mine owners whose properties were closed during the war by the famed War Production Board order L-208.

The mine owners have claimed for years that there should be some restitution on the part of the government for damages which they suffered through the closing order. But many of them failed to file claims within the established time limits.

Now, Congress has passed and sent to the President a bill which would permit them to bring suit in the court of claims regardless of any statute of limitations.

The intent of order L-208 was to force a shift of gold miners to other mines which were producing strategic metals for the war effort. As to the purpose and the actual effect of the order, the House Judiciary Committee said: "The records of the War Production Board show that the gold mining industry was selected as a

Wanted

Around the Fourth of July, we're reminded of an incident that happened in Paris at the end of the last world war. Although the commemorative dates are different, there's something in the spirit of the time that calls the event to mind. We forget who it was that said, "Know ye a nation by its songs." Well, it seems that the U.S. will long be remembered in Paris by one song... THE ST. LOUIS BLUES.

It was a triumphal march... with American Blue Jackets swinging along to a stirring four-four beat. The band was hitting up the ST. LOUIS BLUES... and down the Champs Elysees, through the Arch of Triumph came the boys in blue... swinging along to the stirring strains of a song as American as the Mississippi... a BLUES song.

We like to think about that good-humored triumphal march... the invasion of a free spirit in a world so long in chains. Maybe it's a good idea for everybody to think about it... when we're thinking about our fight for freedom... when we're celebrating Independence Day. Maybe we need to remember THE ST. LOUIS BLUES.

For easier, faster action, select a top-name band instrument for your playing pleasure... Why don't you stop by soon? We have the quality King band instruments... famous everywhere for dependability... for superior performance... We're at your service at OIT & RICKETTS MUSIC STORE, 101 - 105 W.
