GOP Nominee Forecast (2 Choices); Sen. McCarthy Defends Battle On Red Suspects

Editor's Note: Wilbur Peeble, the average American, is getting close to the key problem of the Republican convention, as he tells himself in this letter to his brave wife at home, Trellis Mae:

By HAL BOYLE

CHICAGO (P)—Well, honey you can quit worrying about who is going to be the Republican candidate for President. I've got it all figured out. It's going to be Taft — or Eisenhower.

I can tell you — and it is no secret at that — the delegates are relieved to have that problem out of the way. Up until now they had been worrying about it. Like the rest of the country. It's a relief to have it solved.

All that is left now is to pick a vice presidential candidate and a platform the party can stand on without a guilty conscience. Of course, dear, there are some cynics who say you can't take any political platform seriously.

Their standard gag is: "A platform is just something a fellow stands on until he catches the train that will take him away to something finer."

So far as I can figure the Republican platform is against Democratic corruption.

It is for an honest dollar, food four times a day, a happy life for everybody, and work for all if a fellow can't figure out a better way to earn a living.

It is also in favor of big crops for the farmer and a man marrying the girl of his choice, though not at the price of divorce or too much bad weather in the cities.

The platform is also for labor — but it doesn't go too far into the question of who is going to have to perform it. Naturally, a platform can't be too definite in times like these.

The delegates have been considerably cheered by the appeals by General MacArthur and former President Hoover for a moral revival.

They feel that the Republicans are four-square behind this crying need, and are cheerfully awaiting the moment when Bob Taft and Ike Eisenhower toss coins to see which will lead this great crusade against entrenched corruption.

I would say that the most heartening thing that has come out of this great decision to attack sin is the all-around agreement among Republicans here that it is a necessary move.

But as to the leadership — neither Taft nor Eisenhower seems to want to toss the coin until he can cry "heads." They are both dedicated men, and neither wants to gamble.

Sen. McCarthy Defends Battle On Red Suspects

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO (P)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy told the Republican convention Wednesday that in the fight against Communism in government "there is a common-sense limit to gentleness and delicacy."

"In this fight (against Communism,") McCarthy said, "some of my good friends have accused me of being too rough. To them, I say there is a common-sense limit to gentleness and delicacy. That limit is where disloyalty and treason begin."

The Wisconsin Senator has been the storm center of controversy in which he has been accused in some quarters of "character assassination" and of using totalitarian "guilt by association" tactics.

His opponents have asserted that many of his charges of treason in government, and Communist influence in the State Department, were not supported by facts.

It apparently was these criticisms that he referred to in his address after receiving a noisy ovation when he stepped to the rostrum on the 25th Republican National Convention.

McCarthy said:

"If I am wrong — if no treason is involved — if the last traitor left Alger Hiss — then the only answer for our loss and Russia's gain is that those in power are guilty of stumbling, fumbling incompetence."
