Rep. Ellsworth Sees GOP Ticket Victory

The young men of America." Land Issue is Headache
Ellsworth is less enthusiastic about one of the frustrating problems particularly affecting his own district. He reports that public domain legislation has been one of his principal headaches.

In each of the sessions of Congress, in which he has served, legislation has been introduced to correct conditions pertaining to Oregon and California grant lands and national forests. Each effort, however, has resulted in interdepartmental bickering and various pressures and influences preventing bills introduced by U.S. Senator Gordon and Ellsworth in the session just closed did not reach final passage.

Ellsworth says he plans to meet with the county judges of the several affected counties in Oregon. He has outlined for legislation he believes will be more satisfactory than anything so far introduced in settlement of the issues over controverted lands and revenue to counties from O & C lands, and will endeavor to get endorsement of these plans from the various counties, with the purpose in mind of starting new bills early in the next session and pressing for early passage.

Ellsworth will meet in Portland this weekend with members of Congress engaged in an inspection trip and hearings concerning natural resources and resource management on O & C lands. He has arranged for a meeting of representatives from the 18 land grant counties of western Oregon with the congressional committee for Saturday afternoon.

Backing Of Fair Deal Demanded By Truman

and the aged and unemployed. Barkley said the Democratic party has "earned the confidence of the American people."

Firm On Civil Rights

Truman's message, apparently written well before he went to Walter Reed hospital in Washington for a check-up after his tussle with a virus infection, exploded a new bomb under efforts of National Chairman Frank McKinney and others to compromise a civil rights plank in the party platform. And it threatened further complications in the contest over the seating of rival delegations from Texas.

One of these, headed by Gov. Allan Shivers, is definitely anti-administration. The other, headed by former Rep. Maury Maverick, is tabbed as a "loyalist" group. Truman's call for "bold and resolute" action was interpreted here as reaffirming his stand that the party must not compromise on the civil rights issue.

ERROR CORRECTED

An auto driven by Dorothy Alice Dutton of Jacksonville, which was involved in an accident south of Dillard on Tuesday, had stopped to make a left turn and was struck from the rear by a log truck, it was disclosed today. A news story reporting the car rammed the truck was in error.

Office Exodus At Quitting Time Best Of All Parades For This Observer

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Everybody loves a parade, but the one I like best to watch is the one out of the office at quitting time each day.
It is then the human parade looks most human. And you can tell something about each inmate by the way he starts the long voyage home.

The average worker will recognize at least some of the following standard office types:
1. The clock watcher—this reluctant beaver has developed a size 18 neck from raising his head to study the clock. When it hits 5:30 he is off like a springing deer. He couldn't get out of the place faster if someone hollered "fire!"
2. The two hoary philosophers—one gets up and says, "another day, another dollar." And the other climbs to his feet and says, "yeah, a million days—a million dollars." They have been saying this every day for 37 years, and neither has four bits in the bank.
3. The worried suburbanite—he hauls out a timetable and starts muttering. "If I stop off and have one for the road I can catch the 6:03 train. If I have two, I can snag the 6:21. If I have three, lemme see now, I can—"
Time Chisler Fakes
4. The fiddle-faddler—he has been trying to look busy all day without doing anything. Finally he quickly shoves a mass of papers in a drawer, and announces loudly, "Boy, what a workout this has been! Finally got my desk clean, though." But the only guy he's got fooled is the janitor.
5. The beat-the-gun artist—at 5:20 he gets up as if to go to the water cooler. Then he swiftly slides out the door, and runs down the fire exit so no one will see him catching the elevator.
6. The day dreamer—he sits there with glazed eyes until someone kindly shakes him and says, "wake up, Homer, the ordeal is over."
7. The femme fatale stenographer — she has a heavy date, and since 2:30 she's been in the ladies room primping and putting on her cocktail party dress. When she emerges a cloud of scent trails her, and for the next three days the filing cabinets smell like a catalog of French perfumes.
Wolf Follows Stenog
8. The office wolf—he sees the stenographer, arises like a messenger puppy, and follows her out, hoping to ambush her in the elevator.
9. The boss—he comes out of his sanctum at 5:38, looks up at the clock in smug virtue, then shakes

Salmon, Trout Catches Good

Reports are all good for salmon and trout fishermen this weekend, according to the Oregon State Game Commission.
Rogue River trout fishing is good to excellent from Prospect to Muir Creek, good from Dodge Bridge to McLeod, and fair to good but improving in the Grants Pass area. The season for Chinook salmon over 20 inches is closed above Marial.
Salmon fishing at Winchester Bay has been good. The catch has been mostly silvers, but some big Chinooks were taken during the first part of the week. Coastal lakes have been yielding some catches of trout on deep troll or still fishing. Catfish are biting coastal lakes.
Trout angling has been very good in the North Umpqua River. Water conditions are ideal. Summer steelhead are producing fair catches in both the Steamboat and Winchester areas. A few salmon trout have been taken in the main river.

Ship Unloading Order Refused

PORTLAND (AP) — Federal Judge Gus Solomon Wednesday refused to ask "federal officials to act as strikebreakers" in a dispute between the Columbia River Packers Association and the Pacific Far East Lines.
The line's ship, Contest, loaded with 1,264 tons of tuna from Japan, recently docked at Astoria. The Sailors Union of the Pacific picketed the ship. The packers suit, which was dismissed Wednesday, asked the court to order the unloading of the ship.
Judge Solomon pointed out that the packers' dispute was with longshoremen who refused to cross the picket line, not with the shipping firm.
He advised the packers to name the union a party to the dispute if it wanted to bring the matter to court again. He said that the present suit, was "in effect asking federal officials to act as strikebreakers."

Nation's Polio Cases Increased To Total Of 4,032

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service Thursday reported 1,047 new cases of infantile paralysis in the nation last week. That was 426—or 67 per cent—above the 621 for the week ended July 5. The new report brought the total for the "disease year"—the period starting with the week ended April 5—to 4,032 cases.
In 1949—the peak year for reported poliomyelitis cases—the total for the same period was only 3,873. Only 2,557 cases had been listed at this time last year.
The record 1949-50 "disease year" listed 42,538 cases.
A part of last week's increase, the service said, probably was caused by delay in reporting cases of the previous week which had shown an increase of only six per cent.
Last week's total of 1,047 cases compared with 615 in the similar week last year and a five-year median (1947-51) of 662 cases for the week.
Texas reported the most cases last week, 296 as compared with 186 the week before and 92 in the similar 1951 week.
Iowa was next, with 72 cases last week, compared with 27 the week before and Louisiana had 60, compared with 19.
Hawaii, where incidence has been high this year, reported 11 cases last week, compared with 18 the week before.

Washington's Forest Fires Under Control

No large fires were reported in Oregon.
Pacific Northwest foresters kept a wary eye on the barometer Thursday in the wake of an explosive outbreak of forest fires that claimed two lives and blackened thousands of acres of brush and timberlands.
Most of the fires were under control but state forestry officials said wind shifts or increases could set the blazes feeding anew on tinder-dry woodlands.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTETH, the alkali-free iron-acid powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Get PASTETH at any drug store.
