

Flying Objects Seen By Loggers

Flying "somethings" have come to the South Umpqua.

Loggers James Van Camp, Idlewild, and Victor Rosemeyer, Wilbur, reported seeing "something in the shape of a 50-gallon gasoline drum, red top, with a trail of sparks behind it" flying west about 3,000 to 4,000 feet over the South Umpqua River Thursday morning.

The loggers had just arrived on the Sunset Logging Co. operation on top of a hill about a mile west of Myrtle Creek, they said. Van Camp happened to look up, saw the object, and pointed it out to Rosemeyer.

"I didn't have anymore than time to look at it," said Rosemeyer.

Van Camp said it was "going right straight" and "traveling at a speed out of reason." The two said they saw the object about 5:40 a.m., before the sun was up.

The night before, Van Camp said he and his family had been reading an article in Readers Digest about flying saucers. He was quite skeptical.

"I'll believe anything now," he exclaimed Thursday afternoon.

School Cash-Handling System Is Changed

A new cash-handling policy has been approved for the Roseburg District 4 school system.

The new plan eliminates the use of revolving funds, whereby officials in each school or department use money they take in to purchase supplies, without checking with any central authority.

Now, all money received in the schools—for woodworking charges, for instance—will have to go into the District's central business office. Then, any supplies the individual schools, departments or officials need, will have to be requisitioned from this central office.

However, each principal's office and administrative department will have a petty cash fund for small purchases, such as paper clips, scotch tape and the like.

It is hoped that this new system will center responsibility and gain control formerly found lacking, says M. C. Deller, school superintendent.

CIGARET TOSS COSTLY

Jimmy Leon Suiter, 22, 1720 Walnut St., paid a $50 fine in district court after pleading guilty to throwing a burning cigarette out of a moving vehicle.

Irene Evans, 329 Sweetbriar Ave., was given 15 days in jail and fined $100 after pleading guilty in district court to disorderly conduct. She had previously pleaded innocent.

TO RETURN TO U. S. — After nearly a year of service with the U. N. Forces in Korea, Staff Sergeant Wilmer R. Clark will depart soon for return to the United States. As line chief, Sergeant Clark assured that for the successful completion of the squadron's mission. Sergeant Clark served in Panama during World War II from 1942 to 1944. He arrived in Japan July 1951 and was transferred to Korea October 1951. His wife, Mrs. Mary L. Clark and two children, Willie Mae and Josephine reside at 341 Wake Street, Napa, Calif. Roseburg's Tax Levy Increased To 71 Mills

County	$264,852	6.5%
Schools	$3,266,400	79.6%
Cities	$436,862	10.6%
Misc. Dist.	$135,169	3.3%

Copco Pays Most

Slightly more than a tenth of all taxes in the county will be paid this year by California Oregon Power Co. The company's tax bill this year is $425,633.55.

With its huge Toketee project under way, Copco is the largest taxpayer in the county.

Dixon announced the following total levies for cities in Douglas County:

Reedsport, 77.5 mills; Drain, 74.2 mills; Yoncalla, 54.9; Oakland 71.5; Sutherlin, 75.3; Myrtle Creek, 97; Canyonville, 51.7; Riddle, 65.9; Glendale, 63.6; Elkton, 59.

At Dillard, the rate is 79.1 mills; at Winston it's 89.9 mills.

Figures for valuation for school districts show Roseburg District 4 at the top with Glitch second and Myrtle Creek third. The figures are:

Roseburg	$19,108,177
Glitch	$10,091,857
Myrtle Creek	$4,992,266
Oakland	$4,242,458
Sutherlin	$4,184,313

Differences Compared

In Riverside the Tax levy at 89.1 mills is nearly that of Roseburg—and figures provided by the assessor's office indicated Riverside property owners pay more for insurance than they save in taxes.

The assessor's office presented the following hypothetical example:

The difference in tax per $1,000 valuation would be $1.90 greater in Roseburg than in Riverside. Thus a new house, costing $10,000 and normally assessed at $2,000 would cost $142 in taxes in Roseburg, $138.20 in Riverside—a difference of $3.80.

In Roseburg the insurance rates are 35 cents per $100 and in Riverside the figure is 40 cents per $100.

Thus on a $10,000 house insured at $8,000, the insurance would cost $4 greater in Riverside—which is more than the tax saving by 20 cents.

Population of Uruguay is about 2,353,000.

ESTATES IN PROBATE

The estates of John Reed Harrison and his wife, Mildred Poleen Harrison, were admitted to probate Thursday by order of County Judge Carl C. Hill.

The Harbisons drowned July 26 while fishing in North Tenmile Lake. Kilane Miller Matthews, a friend of the family, is administrator of both estates.

Ike Mullis Foreign Policy

There was major activity in the Denver headquarters of Republican presidential candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The general, his running mate Sen. Richard M. Nixon, and John Foster Dulles, the party's international affairs expert, met to map campaign strategy on foreign policy issues.

Out of the session may come a decision on just how hard Eisenhower will strike out against the foreign policy of the Truman administration—a policy he helped carry out as European defense commander.

Eisenhower has not said publicly how he feels about President Truman's decision to send troops to Korea without prior Congressional approval, but he has indicated he may let fly against Truman's Far East policy in general.

DENVER — Milo R. Ewing, 25, and his wife, Geraldine, 20, of Denver, suffered head and back injuries Friday when a 1,300 pound cow tumbled off an overpass and landed on their moving car.

Officers said Ewing was driving up to an underpass at East 46th ave. and Lafayette St. when the cow fell onto the car, crushing the entire top on the couple. Ewing stopped the car within a few feet.

The cow flopped off the roof, staggered about 50 feet and dropped dead.

Remodeling Of Furniture Store Front Starts Here

A $20,000 remodeling project on Carstens Furniture Co., 117 W. Cass St., was underway today and scheduled to be completed by Aug. 30 to present a modernistic new front in time for the Umpqua Cavalcade.

An all glass and aluminum front and complete renovation inside the store has started on the 55-year-old structure.

Balconies inside the store will be extended to the front to provide about a 1,000 square feet more of display space.

The decorative front and re-arrangement of the interior has been designed to present a more attractive background to display furniture, said Henry T. Carstens, operator of the store.

Other members of the firm are Carstens' wife, Flosse O. Carstens, and their son, William A. Carstens.

Strong color tones will be emphasized in the store and the arrangement will include placing the storage area on the northside of the store to give it a deeper appearance.

"We're going to provide a nice modern furniture store in keeping with the high quality lines of furniture we handle," said Carstens.

The store front will have indirect lighting for the spacious display windows.

The structure was once the old Rice & Rice General Store. Later it was taken over by A. J. Lillburn & Sons who sold it to McKean and Baldwin. It was McKean and Baldwin until Carstens bought half interest in 1941. Later the Carstens firm purchased the whole property.

YMCA Leader Tells Rotarians Of Fears Of Inflationary Spiral

"You never had it so good," Clarence Ernst of Yakima, Wash., told members of the Roseburg Rotary Club at a luncheon meeting Thursday in the Umpqua Hotel.

Ernst, general secretary of the Yakima YMCA for 29 years, told his recent tour through the eastern states and the general concern of businessmen over inflation although they admitted business was better than ever.

"There's a general feeling of unrest among businessmen although the nation is prosperous," he said. "They apparently feel we are living on a shaky economic basis."

The whole reason for this unrest, he said, stems from an overgrowth of our individual ideas.

"Too many people blame this unrest and graft and corruption on the government on somebody else," he asserted. "It's each individual who is responsible for this present situation. After all, we are the government. We, ourselves, are to blame."

He told of a man visiting Paris who bought a meal for seven francs a few years ago.

"Several weeks ago he ordered the same meal," Ernst said. "It cost him 3,000 francs now. An inflationary spiral like this is the bogey of most business leaders."
