

Klamath Rites For 2 Brothers

The bodies of Roland Reed, 29, and Everett Reed, 27, brothers and residents of Klamath Falls who drowned in the South Umpqua River near Dillard last Thursday, were forwarded by the Long & Orr Mortuary to Dallas, Ore., for funeral services and interment there.

Roland Reed was born in Belleville, Ark., on Aug. 30, 1922 and served as corporal with the 752nd Tank Battalion Mechanized from 1942 to 1945. He was never married.

Everett Reed was born at Sulphur Springs, Ark., on Aug. 13, 1915 and served also with the Armed forces during World War II. He was married to Wanda Hollick at Seaside, Ore., on June 6, 1944. He is survived by his widow and five children, Terry, Sandra, Jimmie, Michael and Susan all of Klamath Falls.

Both are survived by their father, Addie Reed, Falls City, Ore.; one brother, Walter Reed, Houston, Tex.; two sisters, Mrs. Rollie (Lola) Rice, Dallas, Ore., and Mrs. Ed (Golda) Williams, Falls City, Oregon; and their grandmother, Mrs. Martha Reed, Belleville, Ark.

Rita, Ally Meet As Daughter Ill

HOLLYWOOD — Yasmin, the 2 1/2-year-old daughter of Rita Hayworth and Aly Khan, was rushed to an emergency hospital Friday night after she accidentally swallowed sleeping pills.

The prince and the actress arrived at the hospital in separate cars, forgetting at least for a moment their marital difficulties.

The actress told hospital attendants she did not know how the child, who has been ill with whooping cough, obtained the pills. After her stomach was pumped out, Yasmin appeared to be none the worse for her experience. She was in the hospital about 15 minutes.

The Moslem prince had a three-hour visit at Rita's Beverly Hills home Friday. He described it as "most pleasant" but turned aside reporters' questions about a possible reconciliation.

He was born in Sioux City, Iowa. He moved to California, where he resided until coming to Oregon six months ago.

Foray To Crack Solid South Planned By Ike

from the traditional whistle-stop campaigning by train. However, he will turn later to that type of travel.

Cities' Schedule Listed

Eisenhower aides planning the Dixie trip say privately it is likely the general will speak in: Richmond, Va.; Atlanta, Ga.; Birmingham, Ala.; Miami and Jacksonville, Fla.; New Orleans, La.; Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston, Tex.; and Memphis, Tenn.

The Birmingham speech will take him into the home state of the Democratic vice presidential nominee, Sen. John Sparkman. And the tentative plans for visiting three Texas cities underscore the Eisenhower camp's optimism about carrying his native state.

Plans for the southern tour came to light after an announcement over the week-end that Eisenhower will make a major campaign address on world peace in Philadelphia Sept. 4. It will be carried nationally on television and radio.

On Wednesday Eisenhower will fly to Boise, Idaho, for a campaign conference with the republican governors of 10 western states. From the state capitol steps after that meeting he will make what aides have labeled his first frankly political speech since winning the nomination.

Pastor Charges Lie Defending Governor

he would use "ruthless objectivity" in cleaning house, in a letter to Editor Tom Humphrey of the Oregon Journal, Portland, Ore. His letter appeared to accept as fact that there is a "mess" in the nation's capital.

Defended From Pulpit — A Presbyterian minister — a personal friend of Stevenson — declared from his pulpit in Springfield Sunday that Sen. Dirksen told a "blatant lie" when Dirksen said recently that Stevenson was "the worst governor we've had since the turn of the century" in Illinois.

In his sermon The Rev. Richard Paul Graebel identified the speaker of the "lie" only as a United States senator who is also "an elder" of the Presbyterian church. But he told reporters later he meant Dirksen.

Stevenson was present in church to hear the sermon, along with Wilson Wyatt, his personal campaign manager, and William M. Blair Jr., his administrative assistant.

'No Commitments'

Stevenson's letter was in answer to one from Editor Humphrey notifying the governor that the Oregon Journal was supporting him. Humphrey had asked Stevenson questions on various subjects and the governor's reply was published.

As to the "mess," Stevenson wrote:

"I can only give my best, with ruthless objectivity, as I have done here, to the pain of the politicians, the gamblers and the businessmen who liked it the old way."

Stevenson said he received the nomination "without commitments to anyone about anything—including President Truman." He added that his job is to persuade the country that it can have a change without changing parties and that "the hazard of changing parties may bring bad with good changes."

Mildred Bassler Succumbs Sunday

Mrs. Mildred Lenora Bassler, 54, of Garibaldi, Ore., died Sunday morning at a Portland hospital. She was born in Riddle on June 15, 1898, and went through school there.

A registered nurse who had practiced in the Roseburg area for many years, Mrs. Bassler worked in the Garibaldi Plywood Plant previous to her illness. She was a member of St. George's Episcopal Church of Roseburg.

Survivors include her mother, Mrs. Lenora Nichols of Garibaldi; a sister, Mrs. Carl Fisher of Big Creek, Miss.; a brother, S. R. Nichols of Riddle; a niece, Mrs. Lester Edwards of Water Valley, Miss.; and a nephew, James Nichols of Corpus Christi, Texas.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m., DST, Wednesday, with the place to be announced later. Ganz Mortuary, Myrtle Creek, is in charge of arrangements.

Unnecessary Leap Into Pool Breaks Foot

KLAMATH FALLS — When Red Hurd, sports editor of the Klamath Falls Herald and News, thought his two-year-old son was strangling in a swimming pool, he leaped to the rescue.

The boy, who was at play in the shallow end of the pool, looked up inquiringly when Hurd landed hard in the pool. It wasn't the boy who needed help. It was Red. In landing, he broke his foot in three places.

CAMP FIRE BLAMED

Fire fighting crews of the Douglas Forest Protective Association were called out Sunday to battle a blaze that burned over four acres of timber land on Coffee Creek near Tiller. The blaze was believed to have started from a picnic camp fire.

SPOT ADVICE

CLEAN CHILDREN'S CLOTHES FOR SCHOOL

Well, here it is — another school year rolling around again!

So naturally that means that the children will begin making their daily trek to the classroom for the better part of next year.

You'll want them to look clean and bright, especially on the more important occasions and events.

So why not bring their clothes in for a good cleaning today? You know, we have regular quick service, and if you get their clothes in now, we'll have them out for you in time for enrollment and the opening day of school.

Is there anything special you want done? A little mending? Alterations? Patches? Buttons missing?

All that is part of putting the children's clothes in shape for the hard wear they'll get from now on. And yet you do want your children to look neater than they sometimes do around the house, don't you.

So-o-o... when you bring their clothes in, if there's anything we can do to help you out, ask us. We'll be glad to help you over a busy week in every way we can.

And, whether it's the children's clothes or the grown-up's, remember that you'll always get the finest cleaning possible.

Ailing Children Left As Adults Visit Tavern

PORTLAND — Seven children were put under juvenile care Sunday evening and three adults were jailed early Monday for leaving them alone while they spent the evening at a tavern.

All the children were ill. One, an infant, was taken to Waverley Baby Home. The others were placed in isolation hospital where their illness was thought possibly measles.

Howard Moran, 33, and his wife, Coleen, 26, parents of four of the children, were charged with causing dependency of minor children and of disorderly conduct. Bail was set at $1,250 each. Mrs. Billie Kenney, 27, mother of three of the children, was charged with causing dependency and with drunkenness. Both families lived at a home in S. W. Water avenue.

Korean Fighting Bugged By Heavy Winds, Rain

SEOUL, Korea — Typhoon winds and rains bogged fighting and grounded warplanes in the Korean war Monday.

Counter-attacking Chinese, supported by a 1,425 round mortar-artillery barrage, won a hill outpost on the East-Central front Sunday.

It was the third time the hill, east of the Pukhan river, had changed hands in four days of bitter hand-to-hand fighting.

The Chinese first captured the hill last Thursday.

U.N. troops won it back early Sunday but before noon the Reds rushed the position again.

Convict Walks Away From Pig-Tending Job

SALEM — A state prison convict, Selmer Montgomery, 41, was sought Monday after walking away from the prison annex, two miles south of Salem, Sunday night.

Montgomery was tending pigs when last seen. He entered prison last year to serve a three-year term for larceny in Josephine County.

HURT IN AUTO MISHAP

Mrs. Anna Brandt, Portland, was treated Sunday at Mercy Hospital for a minor back injury suffered in an auto accident on Pacific Highway.
