New State Auto Bureau Planned

SALEM (AP) — Plans to create a new state motor vehicle department will be discussed by a Highway Legislative Interim Committee at its Sept. 1 meeting, according to word received at the statehouse from State Sen. Elmo Smith of John Day, committee chairman. The new department would strip the secretary of state's office of 600 employees and the public utilities commission of 200 employees, consolidating the State's Motor Vehicle Administration under a new director, appointed by the governor and approved by the state senate.

Smith said that a saving of $1,000,000 yearly can be made in the collection of Oregon's $50,000,000 highway revenue funds. He points out that collection costs in Oregon run 7 per cent of the total, while in Virginia, which operates with a motor vehicle bureau similar to the one proposed, collection costs are 2.8 per cent.

If the plan is adopted by the next Legislature and becomes law, the secretary of state's office would be left with only the accounting, audits, building and grounds and elections divisions to administer.
