Lid Taken Off Secret Report On Oil Cartel

WASHINGTON — President Truman has ordered the lid off a long-secret report on international oil deals amid new charges that a rich and powerful oil cartel is siphoning U. S. foreign aid funds.

The report, which may have diplomatic repercussions a broad and promptly became fuel for a federal grand jury which will open next month an investigation of alleged price fixing and monopoly practices in the oil industry.

Decisions to lift the official secret label from the report, a year after it was written by Federal Trade Commission (FTC) staff experts, was announced Monday by Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, the Democratic nominee for vice president.

The State Department has acknowledged that it had the document classified as secret for security reasons and lest its contents further inflame relations between British oil interests and the government of Iran.

"It is my opinion that its release at this time is not likely to jeopardize our national security or undermine the aims of our foreign policy," Sparkman said in a prepared statement. "The security aspect of the matter has been considered with the responsible agencies of government."

Giant Conspiracy Charged
In swift follow-up developments: 1. The Justice Department moved to subpoena the report for its recently-ordered federal grand jury investigation of monopoly charges against seven U. S. and foreign oil companies.

2. Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) fired new accusations of intrigue at the oil firms, charging they form a cartel and a "giant conspiracy" profiting against European nations which receive U. S. dollar aid.

The seven U. S. and foreign New Jersey, Standard Oil of California, the Texas Company, Socony-Vacuum, Gulf Oil — all U.S. owned — and two foreign firms dominated by the British, Royal Dutch Shell and Anglo-Iranian Oil Co.

Hennings renewed accusations that the oil companies charge those countries a higher price for oil than they charge buyers in this country and Canada, contending that this has added huge sums to the costs of U. S. foreign aid.
