City Dealt Mightiest Blow Of War

Gasoline, Explosives Poured Down, After Populace Is Warned

SEOUL (AP) — Allied warplanes in record-smashing numbers Friday pounded Pyongyang and left the reeling North Korean capital wrapped in great clouds of smoke and torn by explosions.

Four Allied nations sent a record 1,403 sorties (individual flights) against the city in three waves of land and carrier-based fighter-bombers the U. S. Air Force and Navy said. The tonnage of bombs dropped was exceeded only by the massive raid of July 11.

Black smoke poured from the factories, supply dumps and troop billets at the outskirts of Pyongyang, which was forewarned of the raids by radio and leaflets.

A returning UN pilot said the city "was blowing up all over."

Planes from three U.S. aircraft carriers off the east coast of Korea flew 210 sorties over the Red capital.

Some 420 planes poured 4,000 gallons of flaming gasoline and 597 tons of high explosives on more than 10 Communist targets during the dawn-to-dusk raids.

They sprayed 52,000 rounds of machinegun bullets on the area, the Air Force said.

Until Friday, the biggest single air blow of the war had been July 11, when more than 500 fighter bombers and superfortresses poured 1,400 tons of bombs on Pyongyang during 1,063 sorties.

Friday's first wave of jet and prop-driven planes battered Communist anti-aircraft defenses, which pilots said threw up a heavy curtain of flak. Other waves concentrated on stockpiles, barracks, industries and airfields used to bolster the Communist war effort.

The U. S. Air Force said fast UN jet fighters protecting the bombers shot down one Russian-built jet and damaged two other Red MIGs in dogfights at 40,000 feet.

Settings Are Readied For Centennial Pageant

Complex Lighting And Stage Being Tested For Big Show Scheduled Here For 3 Nights

Complex lighting and stage equipment were being tested today in preparation for the Umpqua Cavalcade which begins Saturday for a three night stand.

Men from California Oregon Power Co. were installing two primary lines to the scene of the cavalcade at the Fairgrounds this week to take care of the extra heavy load.

The stage and props are nearing completion, reports Bob Stedman, technical director. Some $30,000 worth of rented lighting equipment was installed and tested today.

A dress rehearsal will be held tonight at 7:30. Only those with participants passes will be allowed to enter the fairgrounds area.

Individual rehearsals were being held throughout the day today.

Coordinating the activities of the some 1,500 persons comprising the cast of the cavalcade will be accomplished through an inter-communications system. Director Horace Robinson will sit in a specially-built booth atop the grandstand roof and will be able to talk to sub-directors at five various points on the huge stage and also to a director at each gate of the Fairgrounds arena.

Direct Lighting

Sharing the grandstand booth will be lighting director Howard Ramey and three spotlight operators. Ramey will be able to communicate with operators of two switchboards — one just in front of the grandstand and another behind the stage.

Lights have been installed behind each of the panels of the stage and with various color lights the setting and "atmosphere" of the stage can be changed. Lights have also been installed on top, within and in front of the grandstands.

The Fairgrounds exhibit building will be used to care for costumes and as actors' dressing rooms. Makeup has been purchased in gallon lots. Makeup personnel will also provide actors with beards and moustaches where nature has failed.

To the rear and atop the big cavalcade stage has been placed an elevator. Originally planned for use in several instances, the elevator will be used only in the scene depicting the Indian version of "Eve" who is supposed to

Pravda Blasts Eisenhower's Legion Speech

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda gave its top editorial position Friday to a blistering attack on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's speech this week before the American Legion convention in New York.

The organ of the Soviet Communist Party, in the first Russian comment on Eisenhower's speech, termed the Republican party nominee the "most energetic propagandist of the hate, contempt and enmity of the American aggressors and warmongers."

The editorial appeared in the two right-hand columns of the top Soviet paper, a key space used for editorials only when they treat of major events in the field of foreign relations.

Pravda told its Russian readers that Eisenhower announced his intention of "including in the American empire" Soviet Latvia, Lithuania, and Estonia, as well as Poland Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Rumania, Hungary, Albania, Eastern Germany, Eastern Austria, China, the Mongolian Peoples Re-

School Age Issue In Camas Valley Election Tuesday

A special election has been called by the Camas Valley school board to determine the possibility of admitting first graders who will become six years old after Nov. 15.

The issue to be voted upon from 8 to 9 p.m. PST, Sept. 2 in Camas Valley has been called to determine how the people feel, but the board still has the power to take final action.

Information has been received through the county superintendent's office that in cities where the Nov. 15 date has been changed, there are trained personnel to give intelligence tests and physical examinations.

Superintendent Yoder pointed out that Camas Valley does not have funds available at the present time for such services.

Hot Lunches Due Sept. 9

At the school board meeting it was decided to begin the hot lunch program Sept. 9 and to charge 25 cents a meal until it is learned how much state aid may be expected.

Electrical bills were approved and paid in full for work done on the school building. Ridenour Electric of Roseburg did the work.

The Tri-City Drive-In Theater had its formal opening Thursday night, playing to a large attendance.

The theater is located on part of the former Tri-City airport on the west side of Highway 99, south of Myrtle Creek.

Its owners are W. E. Love, manager, J. H. Markham Jr., and W. E. Markham, all of Riddle, and M. W. Kusler, Myrtle Creek.

Claimed to be the largest drive-in theater in the county, accommodations are provided for 500 cars.

Burglary Charge Levied On Pair

Two Roseburg youths were returned to the Douglas County jail late Thursday, both charged with burglarizing the Roseburg Cabinet and Supply Co. Wednesday night or Thursday morning.

They were apprehended by state police in Medford and are held in $1,000 bail.

Officers said they were in possession of a car reported stolen from a used car lot in Roseburg. They were identified as Gordon Hibbard and Ronald Hagquist, both about 19.

City officers, who investigated the burglary, said two pistols and 10 cartons of .22 cartridges along with $45 in currency were taken. The place was entered by cutting a hole in a wire gate and prying off hinges to the rear door.

The guns were reported found in the car in which the pair was apprehended.

State police said Hagquist also admitted burglarizing Riverside Motors and taking a colt automatic and some money.

Forest Protective Truck Called To Three Fires

Three fire calls were answered by Douglas Forest Protective Association equipment Thursday, one in sawmill slashings and two grass blazes.

Fire was started in slashings at the Oberg Logging Co. mill about 6 p.m. Thurday by sparks from the mill burner, DFPA officials said. The fire which burned about 15 acres, was just about under control when they arrived.

DFPA equipment went to the scene of a 15-acre grass fire near the Forks below Melrose twice Thursday. It was started by a trash fire which got away from the tender. Equipment was called at both 2:30 and 11:30 p.m.

Pasture grass burning got away from permit holders on Roy Medley's farm in East Oakland at 4:30 p.m.

Negroes Said Ready To Back Stephenson

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Negro congressman who once said he expected Negroes to boycott the Democratic national ticket, said Friday after conferring with Gov. Adlai Stevenson that "we are now ready to back him to the limit."

Powell, New York Democrat, and a dozen other Negro leaders from Atlantic seaboard areas, visited the Democratic presidential nominee Friday.

Powell said Stevenson promised to make "a strong pronouncement" on the question of segregation in Washington.

The Congressman told correspondents after the conference:

"We are entirely satisfied on the entire civil rights issue now.

"We feel the whole question has been spelled out. There can be no argument as far as the Negro voters are concerned—or for that matter any other minorities. We are ready to back him to the limit."

Powell said the group came to see Stevenson to have him "spell out" his position on the civil rights and allied issues.

Earlier Stevenson conferred with elder statesman Bernard Baruch who is currently out of favor with the Truman administration.

Emerging from Baruch's home after a breakfast conference lasting one hour and ten minutes, the Democratic presidential candidate told newsmen:

"There was no discussion of politics at all. We talked mainly about inflation and some other economic matters. It was a good breakfast and a very interesting talk."

Sutherlin Sewer Bond Vote Waits On New Survey

The Sutherlin City Council, at one of its future meetings, is expected to take action in submitting a bond issue to the voters to provide for sanitary sewage facilities, City Manager W. D. Rollman reports.

The engineering firm of Cunningham and Associates is presently making a survey of newly-built areas in Sutherlin to determine the cost of such a project.

The firm has also been studying the propsoal of a joint Sutherlin-Oakland sewage disposal plant.

The study is a continuation of one made several years ago. However, expansion of city construction has made additional information necessary, Bollman explained.

From the cost estimates and other data gathered on the survey, officials will determine whether it's practical to build the combined plant.

"If not, we'll go ahead with our own plans anyhow, if we can," Sutherlin's city manager declared.

The Sutherlin City Council also expects to call for bids for a 63-foot bridge on South Side Road in the city. Bids also will be asked for in construction of a 30-by-60 foot maintenance building for water department material and other equipment, and for 1,000 feet of tile for culverts.

Sutherlin To Get Drive-In Theater

Plans for construction of a 400-car drive-in theater near Sutherlin were announced today.

Lloyd O. Wood, manager of Wood and Ulett Theaters, reports that construction will start immediately and that the theater will be ready for opening as soon as weather permits in the spring. The company now operates the Grand Theater in Sutherlin and the Jewel Theater in Oakland.

Surveys have been completed for the new installation, Wood says, and equipment is on order.

It will be located about one mile west of Sutherlin, near the junction of the new route of Highway 225 with the existing road. It will be only a short distance from the traffic separation structure on the new location of the Pacific Highway west of Sutherlin.

Construction will be handled locally, Wood says.

DIANNE TRIPP
...Myrtle Creek Rodeo Queen

Dianne Tripp Will Reign Over Myrtle Creek Rodeo Scheduled Sunday, Monday

A 14-year-old girl who has loved horses ever since she can remember will be crowned queen of the Myrtle Creek Saddle Pals Rodeo this Sunday.

Dianne Tripp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Tripp of Myrtle Creek, will preside over the annual rodeo, scheduled to start at 2 p.m. both Sunday and Monday.

She and her horse, Flash, will also head the Myrtle Creek Saddle Pals Labor Day parade, which begins at 10 a.m. Monday.

Dianne's crown will be an appropriate one — a regular cowboy hat. After she receives it, and leads the rodeo grand entry march Sunday, the many riding, roping and reining events begin.

Forty-five riders and 45 head of livestock will participate in the two-day rodeo events. Variety will be given to the rodeo program by a variation of the popular wild cow milking contest. Called ribbon tying, the contestant fastens a ribbon around the cow's tail instead of dropping a stream of milk into a bottle.

Split timing is required in another special event — the rescue race. Here the rider races to a given point. While circling to return, his partner, who has been standing on the ground, leaps up behind him on the horse for the return to the finish line.

A padded cell is housing a Brahma bull imported from California specially for the Myrtle Creek rodeo.

Contestants may sign up for the rodeo from 8 to 12 p.m. today and Saturday at rodeo headquarters in the Myrtle Creek Tavern.

Thought Queen Dianne won't be doing much riding in the rodeo events, she could show spectat-

In New York, Governor Stevenson told the American Legion that as President he would resist pressure groups — even pressure groups REPRESENTING THE VETERANS.

The big question:

Would he—or COULD he—resist the pressures of the ALREADY INS against changes in the bureaucratic set-up that is steadily altering the fundamental character of our government?

In his address to the Legionnaires, Stevenson goes on:

Wealth Men's Imagination, Says Du Pont Engineer In Talk To Rotary And Lions

Emphasizing that "Wealth is not merely the existance of natural resources," D. Walter A. Dew of the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co. said that "Only the imagination of men, hard work and the eventual production of a finished product is the basis for wealth."

Speaking at the weekly Rotary Club luncheon in the Hotel Umpqua Thursday, Dr. Walter A. Dew discussed the rapid growth of the chemical industry in the 20th century. He also addressed the Lions Club Thursday night.

While giving full credit to skilled labor, distribution facilities, organization, management and captal, the greying chemical engineer preferred to discuss the latest developments of chemical research.

Over 60 per cent of the products produced by his company were not even heard of in 1930, Dew added as a tribute to modern research methods. Joining du Pont in 1924 with a doctor's degree from Princeton, the public relations chief for the Pacific district has followed the development throughout his career with an intense interest which was reflected in his speech.

Dr. Dew is a member of the American Chemical Society, Sigma Xi scientific research society and the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

Dew went on to point out that 92 per cent of the Du Pont industry's products are of industrial and commercial grade. Nylon, Dacron, dyes, plastics and paint ingredients are all processed by other manufacturers and distributed as finished products by these organizations.

Working behind the scenes chemical engineers have shortened the period of finishing automobile surfaces from 120 days in 1920 to just as many minutes now. Similarly the production of ladies stockings has been revolutionized with the introduction of Nylon. The secret of Nylon's success is the ability of the material to stretch and mold then return to its original shape.

Dr. Dew is not a scientifically cold man. He added that sight must not be lost of educational and spiritual aspects even if technology is important. "The faith that lies within the heart and soul of man is his basis for success," he concluded.

SPIRIT OF '76—This is how the Marine color guard will look when it leads off the "One Hundred Years of Progress" parade in downtown Roseburg Saturday morning. Posing with the old-time uniforms are Percy Varney, left, wearing one used in 1847 in the war in Mexico; Marine Recruiter Sgt. Charles Cumiskey, wearing uniform used in 1776; and Charles Trone, wearing one used in War of 1812. (Staff picture)
