Home Owners Are Urged To Clean Chimneys Now

With approaching cool weather, Fire Chief W. E. Mills urged homeowners to do some cleaning work before starting fires in stoves or furnaces.
 "People never think about their stoves or furnaces until they are ready to use them," the fire chief said. "They should clean them out."
 He explained that a rash of fires are reported to the fire department when homeowners start fires for the first time.
 They should clean the chimney, the pipe leading to the chimney, and also clean cobwebs from around the furnace or stove. Chimneys may be cleaned by a chain which can be moved up and down from the outside, or by chicken wire tied on the end of a rope and moved up and down with a person on each end of the chimney.
 The fire department also said applications are being accepted at the fire hall for a hoseman.

Sutherlin City Water Project Is Progressing

Sutherlin's $400,000 water project was progressing this week with contract let to Pittsburgh Des Moines Steel Co. for installation of a new 1,150,000 water reservoir.
 The company was low bidder with a bid of some $37,000. The new reservoir will replace the one presently in use, which has a capacity of some 400,000 gallons.
 The council had previously rejected bids submitted several weeks ago. The lowest was $49,000.
 The vast project is being financed by a $400,000 bond issue approved some two years ago. The bonds, which are expected to be retired 20 years hence, will be paid off from water revenues.
 Workers are presently working on a filter plant at the headworks of the water system. Pumps capable of a capacity of 2,000,000 gallons daily, will be installed shortly to replace the 500,000 gallon pump now in use.
 Eight miles of 14-inch mains from the water supply to the city have already been installed. The new line replaces an eight-inch line constructed some 25 years ago.
 City Manager William Bollman declared the pump is the first objective to get the water to the city, while filtering the water comes next.

Gough Is Elected Head Of Legion
 NEW YORK (AP) — Lewis Ketcham Gough, newly elected national commander of the American Legion, urges national security military training legislation to keep the nation in a state of preparedness.
 The 44-year-old Gough, a World War II veteran now living in Pasadena, Calif., was elected yesterday as head of the legion in the closing session of its 34th annual convention.
 Gough, who served in the Navy with the rank of commander, overwhelmingly defeated his only rival, Walter E. Alessandrini, 36, of Philadelphia.
 Gough is an inheritance tax appraiser employed by the state of California. His legion office pays $15,000 annually. Election is for the ensuing year.

 "Fascists of Hitlerite persuasion ought to open their mouths in amazement," Pravda asserted. "Their appetites were enormous enough, but even they did not decide to include among their 'flesh and blood' the Mongolian, Chinese and Korean peoples."

Setting Being Readied For Centennial Pageant

 have come out of the top of a mountain.
Produces Lightning
 An innovation worked out by Stage Manager Stedman provides a fiery spectacle for producing a bolt of lightning. A gasoline soaked rag will be lighted and sent down an inclined wire and into a container of gasoline. Stedman isn't sure the device will work and if it doesn't, something else will have to be worked out. A fireworks company failed to send the "Bolt of lightning" the Centennial had ordered. The lightning will be used to portray Indians discovering fire.
 Pre-pageant entertainment will mark all three nights of the cavalcade Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Included are acts by archers, the Girls Drum and Bugle Corps Saturday night, and mounted drills by the Roseburg Trail Dusters Club.
 The pre-pageant entertainment will begin at 7:30 daylight time each evening and the pageant will begin an hour later.
 Sheriff's reserves will be on hand to help park cars.
Tickets Now On Sale
 Tickets for the show are on sale at Centennial Headquarters in the Junior High School and also at a ticket booth on North Jackson Street in front of Len Mitchell's clothing store. Reserve seat tickets are available at $3 each.
 General admission tickets are $1.50 for adults, 80 cents for youngsters.
 A committee of seven will assist Stage Manager Bob Stedman during the dress rehearsal tonight and during the three nights of the show. They are R. F. Torgeson, Claude and Peggy Butler, Harlan Caster, Bill Graves, Wally Wood and Mrs. Howard Ramey.
 Several set pieces have been constructed for use in the pageant. They depict the ship of Sir Francis Drake, the Umpqua Academy, the Statue of Liberty, and two thrones — one to be used at different times by the dowager queen and by Queen Barbara, and the other to be used by Indian Queen Salista, portrayed by Sandra Melba.
 The throne of the Indian queen is flanked by trees on either side.

Sutherlin Heads Mull Housing

Members of the Sutherlin City Council, City Manager W. D. Bollman and Mayor J. C. Kesner discussed a proposed 25-unit housing project with the Douglas County Housing Authority Thursday night.
 The council will consider approval of the project at its next meeting, Sept. 8. Start of the project hinges on whether the city approves it.
 The housing will be of the low rental type, similar to those in Rosewood Homes at Roseburg.
 Bollman said a previous council had verbally approved the new project. However, when the housing authority had papers ready to sign, a new council had been elected and expressed desire to consider the matter further.

 ers some fine horsemanship. She won her title, from a field of seven girls, on the basis of riding appearance, ability and her horse.
 The horse — half quarter and half Shetland pony — was named and trained by Dianne. He can rare up, jump hurdles, put his front feet on a box, and has a fancy gait.
 But it was no task for her to train the horse.
 She's been interested in horses "ever since I was big enough to know what one was," she says. And when she was a little girl in Klamath Falls, her folks didn't own any. They didn't even have a ranch.
 "She first talked me into getting the ranch and then the horse," her father now exclaims.

Missionary Will Speak On India

Mr. Lloyd Pickering of Shelton, Wash., a missionary recruit to India, will speak at the First Christian Church Monday, Sept. 1 at 8 p.m.
 He has a 40 minute 16 mm color movie of India which he will show while telling about the work that is being done in India and his plans for the future.
 He and his family are going to Ragau, United Province, 1,600 miles North of Bombay to aid Dr. Zoena Rothermel, who has been working in India for 38 years.
