BPW HOLD FIRST MEET OF SEASON MONDAY EVE AT WOMAN'S CLUBHOUSE

The Business and Professional Women's Club held the first fall meeting Monday evening at the Woman's Club building. The president, Priscilla Clarenbach, was in charge and outlined the work for the coming year. After the usual business session, the meeting was turned over to the program co-ordinator, Edith Landis. It is the aim of the club to have the chairmen of the committees put on the program.

In the absence of Edna Keeling, membership chairman, Vivian Logsdon, took charge. She impressed upon the group the importance of the "golden circle" of which the club is the center. The first on the program was a dramatic skit directed by Elizabeth Gilchrist, career and opportunity chairman. The idea was portrayed as the "Three Steps to Success." The first step was preparedness, exercised by Myrtle Baker. The second step, "Experience in Selling and Marketing," was given by Minnie Clark and Alta Simonson. The third step was "Step Up to the Future" and emphasized the use of the library as the place to gain knowledge. This was performed by Florence Kent and Minnie Clark.

Two violin solos, "Pale Hands I Love" and "A Little Bit of Heaven" were beautifully played by Miss Virginia Young. Priscilla Clarenbach delivered an instructive talk on "Health Unlimited."

On public affairs, Valyn Malstead, chairman, gave an instructive talk on women voters, stating that failure to use the ballot is equal to passive submissiveness. She also called attention to the absentee ballot.

Florence Snedaker, international relations chairman, talked on the work women are doing in foreign countries, with the dealing of human rights and the Oriental scholarship fund.

An outline of BPW week was given by Mildred Herman. The outstanding evening will be Monday, when Mrs. Taylor of Portland will talk at a banquet. Clever corsages, made of two flower bulbs, were made and presented by the president to keep the meeting in the memory of all present.

Laura Iles, hospitality chairman, with the aid of her committee, served refreshments to Alta Simonson, Jeannette Wisner, Francis Main, Maxine Fitzgerald, Edith Radabaugh, Myrtle Baker, Elizabeth Gilchrist, Virginia Ashcraft, Vivian Logsdon, Priscilla Clarenbach, Iris Spring, Valya Malstead, Laura Iles, Stella Spencer, Minnie Clark, Florence Klatt, Gladys Foley, Helen Emery, Emily Judd, Ann Storrs, Vivian Pasmore, Mildred Herman, Florence Snedaker, Alvia Weatherell, Mollie Maddox, Cleo Moats, Aurville Green, Edith Landis, Ruth Roberts and Edyth Gilmour.

Olson-McCallister Wedding Takes Place

One of the loveliest weddings of the season took place when Miss Darlene Ann McCallister became the bride of Frank Andrew Olson on Aug. 24 at the First Presbyterian Church of Roseburg. Rev. Morris Roach officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of 150 relatives and friends.

The church was decorated with pink and white gladioli. Bud Dillon, close friend of the bridegroom, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because." Attendants included the matron of honor, Mrs. Jacky Rison, sister of the bride from Brownsville; Noreen Allen, bridesmaid, Eugene; candle lighters, Dorine Strickling and Nancy Sanders, flower girl, Valerie Desbiers; ring bearer, Robbie Hallcraft; best man, Bob Sullivan, fraternity brother of the bridegroom; ushers, Ron Ashbacher, Vic Sanders and Roy Van Horn. The bridesmaids, matron of honor and candlelighters were dressed in strapless satin gowns covered with French lace. Bouquets were nosegays of red carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, E. C. McCallister, Grants Pass, was enchanting in a traditional white satin wedding gown covered with French lace. From her braided cap fell a fingertip illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and red rose buds.

Following the nuptials, a reception was given in the church parlors by the bride's mother, Mrs. Mammie McKay. The motif of pink and white were carried out through the decor.

The bride's mother wore a mixed pink and grey suit with blue accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a blue lace dress with white accessories. Out of town guests included Don Pearson, USN; Ron Ashbacher, Prineville; Bud Dillon, Klamath Falls; Mrs. Karion Dow, Klamath Falls; Mrs. Pearl Nygren, Chiloquin; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barrows, Myrtle Point; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Barring, Myrtle Point; Mrs. Josephine Duff, Dayton, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McCallister, Grants Pass.

The new Mrs. Olson was formerly employed at Calkins Finance Company as a secretary. Mr. Olson was graduated from Roseburg High School and is now a sophomore at Oregon State College at Corvallis. He has been employed by Standard Oil of California.

For traveling the bride wore a baby blue suit with black accessories. Following their trip to California, the couple is now at home in Corvallis.
