Forest Closures Hike Demand For Sawlogs

CORVALLIS (AP) — Demand for sawlogs increased in the Willamette Valley last week as a result of logging closures ordered by the hot, dry weather.

Prices, like those of other forest products, remained generally unchanged, the weekly farm forest products market report said.

Second growth No. 2 Douglas fir sawlogs, delivered at mills, brought $38 to $47 a thousand. Most sold for around $40. The price for No. 3s was $31 to $38. Old growth logs ranged from $35 to $60 a thousand.

Jefferson-Hamilton Dispute Fathered Freedom Of Press

AP Newsfeatures

NEW YORK — An uncelebrated dispute led by two early Americans reached a celebrated climax in New York 163 years ago and resulted in a written endowment of freedom for the nation's press.

Without this endowment, the newspaper you are reading might be vastly different.

On one side of the argument was Thomas Jefferson who believed the nation's new constitution needed amending to provide specifically for press freedom, among other things.

Opposed to Jefferson was Alexander Hamilton who, although, in favor of an unrestricted press, said such an amendment was unnecessary.

The constitution ratified by the states a year earlier did not guarantee an uncontrolled press because Hamilton and his followers thought this freedom could better be attained if Congress were left to legislate on its behalf.

However, Jefferson took violent exception to this sort of thinking and pressed hard for his amendment.

Hamilton claimed such a provision. . .would be dangerous, (It) would even contain various exceptions to powers not granted; and on this very account would afford a colorful pretext to claim more than were granted.

"For why declare that things shall not be done which there is no power to do?" Hamilton asked. "Why, for instance, should it be said that liberty of the press shall not be restricted when no power is given by which restrictions may be imposed?"

Jefferson Wins Out

Despite these eloquent words, Jefferson, who now had the support of several states, persisted in his fight for the written guarantee.

He once said "if it were left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate for a moment to chhose the latter."

The great debate went from warm to hot during the period it continued, causing political ramifications and pitting Jefferson and Hamilton against each other time and time again.

Finally, on Sept. 25, 1789, it was clear Jefferson had won.

On that date, 163 years ago, the First Congress met here and at its first session agreed to submit 12 constitutional amendments to the 13 states for ratification.

The states declined to approve the first two proposed amendments, but ratified the other 10 called the Bill of Rights, the first of which includes Jefferson's cherished clause providing for freedom of the press.

It reads: "Congress shall make no law. . .abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press. . . ."

Reports from the three major presidential whistle - stop campaign trains, reflecting people's reactions to pre-election drives, are going to be presented via Mutual-Don Lee's "Mutual Newsreel," 6:15-6:30 p.m. feature.

Bob Greene, West Coast editor for the "Newsreel" will poll the listeners of the Pacific states. Hollis Seavey covers the nation's capital, Everett Holles and Les Higbie are alternating between the Eisenhower and Stevenson specials and Norman Fanning joins the Truman special which leaves Sunday.

Such coverage of the presidential race is in keeping with the "Mutual Newsreel's" policy. . . . "From Where It Happens You Hear It Happen."

A mysterious sheep killer terrorizes the people of Ghost Mountain with its strange night-time activities and Mutual-Don Lee's "Wild Bill Hickock" offers to hunt it down on the Wednesday, October 1st, 5:30-5:55 p.m. program.

Mutual-Don Lee's week-day morning, "Ladies Fair," feature has scheduled one of the longest radio parties on record for the week of Sept. 29th, thru Oct. 3rd. The occasion is the fourth birthday of "Ladies Fair" as a Mutual-Don Lee program.

Laugh-maker Tom Moore is building up the show's two jackpots to the biggest prize lists they've ever had and added at least a dozen more gifts to the grouping of thirty prizes available to daily participants.

"Ladies Fair," aired each weekday morning from 11:00-11:25, is radio's adaptation of a carnival midway with genial Tom Moore as the master of ceremonies.

Sparkman Hits G.O.P. On 'Catchy Slogans'

NEW YORK, (AP)—Sen. John J. Sparkman says the Republicans are using catchy slogans designed to "stampede the American people away from their native common sense."

The Democratic vice presidential nominee says GOP talk of "creeping socialism" is an example of slogans he describes as "counterfeit rhetoric passing as legal tender."

Sparkman spoke last night at the Women's Business and Professional Club of New York as he started his first campaign speaking tour of this area.

Sparkman said government moved into such fields as public housing, social security and rent control because "private enterprise has been asleep at the switch."

'Melo-Marimbas' Program Coming

The Wheelers will bring their "melo-marimbas" to Roseburg Junior High School Thursday at 8:35 a.m. as one of a series of National Assemblies of Los Angeles programs.

The public is invited to attend, and no admission will be charged, announced Principal R. R. Brand.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler and Miss Emma Kasch make up the personnel of the group and two giant marimbas make up the instrumentation.

The group, reportedly, plays every type of music from "boogie" to Bach, but most interesting will be Mexican and Spanish selections.

Their artistry in Mexican music was not achieved by accident, advance information states. Rather, because they have toured the great country south of the Rio Grande, where they made special study of the Latin-American rhythms.

But their concert is not limited to any special tunes of music. Their numbers will include, as well, such renditions as the "Poet and Peasant Overture" and Flight of the Bumble Bee.

Rich Spanish costumes worn by the players adds eye, as well, as ear, appeal.

BIRD DOG MOVIES SLATED

Two color motion pictures about bird dogs will be shown in the Legion Hall in Sutherlin Thursday at 8 p.m.

Sponsored by the Sutherlin Bird Dog Club and the Ralston Purina Company jointly, the motion pictures will concern the care, training and showing of bird dogs. One picture is entitled "The Sedgefield Story."

Everyone interested is invited, president John Grabow said.

Toastmasters To Fete Birthday

Roseburg members of the Toastmasters Club will celebrate the organization's 28th birthday with a 7 p.m. banquet Oct. 7 at the Umpqua Hotel, John M. Fleck announced today.

Installation of officers for the next six months will be held in conjunction with the banuet.

The local club is joining with 1,200 Toastmasters International groups throughout the world in honoring, during October, the anniversary. The toastmasters have invited both the Roseburg and Winston-Dillard Toastmistresses Clubs to the banquet.

The first club was established in Santa Ana, Calif., on Oct. 22, 1924, by Ralph C. Smedley to provide training in speech and leadership for men. Total membership now numbers 30,000 in the U.S., Canada, Great Britain, Alaska, Hawaii, the Philippines and South Africa.

Fleck states that the local clubs now have on their rosters a number of toastmasters and toastmistresses who will offer their services to the public whenever needed. Anyone interested in securing such services may contact Toastmaster officers, Fleck said.
