Two Roseburg Students Enroll At Pacific U.

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY, Forest Grove—Two Roseburg students are among the 550 others who have recently completed registration for the first semester at Pacific University, announces Leo S. Arnold, director of admissions. John D. Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen D. Parker, of 581 Greenwood Ave., and Clinton Agee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Agee of Idlewild Route, are Roseburg enrollees. Parker is entering his freshman year at Pacific, while Agee is a sophomore and a member of the Phi Beta Tau fraternity. Both are graduates of Roseburg high school.

Liquor Case Defendant Now Faces Check Charge

Thomas Oscar Franklin, 22, Winston, waived preliminary hearing in district court Wednesday on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses.

He is accused of passing a $10 bad check at Lowell's. Bail was set by Judge A. J. Geddes at $500.

Franklin was served the warrant on the charge in the county jail where he was previously lodged on a charge of furnishing alcoholic liquor to minors. He pleaded innocent to the latter charge and was held in lieu of $350 bail.

Scientists believe the world is gradually growing warmer.

Lookingglass Hunters Migrate To East Oregon

By HAZEL S. MARSH
The exodus of hunters from Lookingglass leaving Thursday for Eastern Oregon included:

Charley Dysert, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Buell and Mr. and Mrs. Corvin Heard, in one party, and Cliff and DeWayne Boling, Charles Schulze, August Speidel of Roseburg, Ben Jacoby and Henry Ritzman of Eugene, a brother-in-law of Cliff Boling in another party.

The latter expected to hunt in the Ochoco and Silver Lake areas and will be joined Friday by Delbert Neibaum, Lige Ollivant and Arnold Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Stuppel of St. Paul, Ore., and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Stuppel of Salem were guests over the weekend of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Duyek and daughters, Mary Ann and Carol.

Mr. and Mrs. Carson Healy, Jerry Kay, Courtney, Lana and Bartley were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bell at Myrtle Creek.

Gary Swan, who was treated several days at Community Hospital for an acute attack of indigestion, was sufficiently recovered to return to his home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Williams and infant son, Stephen, of Seaside visited during the week at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Edna Williams. A dinner party in honor of the visitors was held at Mrs. Williams' home Wednesday evening. Enjoying the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Phil Hickman, Marsha and Mardell of Roseburg and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Heater and Sandra of Happy Valley. Mr. and Mrs. Williams planned to leave Friday. Chester spent his boyhood days in the valley and was graduated from the local high school.

Mrs. Agnes Turner left Wednesday for Roseburg enroute to her home in Crescent City after two week's visit at the home of Mrs. Edna Williams.

Lanny Boling and John McGraw accompanied Homer Grow to Portland Friday to attend the International Livestock show over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sims visited at the home of the former's cousin, Mrs. Walter Monger, Sunday. They were enroute home to Laguna Beach, Calif., after an extended tour of the Northwest.

Drop In Polio Cases Indicates Peak Passes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service said Thursday there was a drop of 16 per cent in new cases of infantile paralysis reported last week and said this probably marked the turning point in the record outbreak.

Korean War Life-And-Death Game For American Troops But Political Football For Home Office Seekers

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The war in Korea has become a political issue here at home.

But it is still a life-and-death matter to the American soldiers over there fighting in what some feel is a forgotten laboratory of battle.

The politics of it all interests them less than the grim statistics of survival.

What is it like — their day-to-day existence on a so-called "static front" in the bare-boned terrible hills?

Bill Mauldin gives one of the clearest pictures yet in "Bill Mauldin in Korea," a series of all-too-brief vignettes of what is coming to be known as "World War Two-and-a-half."

Mauldin writes through the eyes of Joe, the younger of his famous doughboy team of the last war.

Joe graduates from high school after five years under the GI bill, and immediately gets a job as a war correspondent.

He tells about what he found in Korea in letters home to his old buddy, Willie.

"It's worse now because a man goes on a dirty patrol and never knows if they're going to sign a truce five minutes after he starts out, so he's maybe wasting his time," Joe writes.

Somewhat to his surprise he finds the show is better in this war — two hot meals a day even in the front lines — and morale is higher in the infantry than in the rear areas because the rotation system will enable the forward fighter to go home in nine months instead of 18.

Some Consolation
There is very little griping, and a sergeant explains it to Joe this way:

"No matter what kind of a job you are doing in these mountains, you can find somebody a lot worse off."

Joe is also startled when a group of Navy pilots return to their carrier "to see the sun bouncing off so many bald heads."

"A pretty big chunk of this war is being fought by guys who carry pockets full of pictures of their wives and kids while they bounce on the deck in an airplane shot full of holes."

"I don't think very many of them like it, but they seem pretty good natured about it... most of them say pretty much the same thing: that they'd rather fight a war here than wait till it's in their own back yard."

Mauldin's book is a fine eyewitness primer for the home folks in 170 pages.

I only wish that his own elo-uent summary of his Korean impressions could be read in every pulpit and legislature in America as a tribute to the frustrated soldiers who fought and still fight there. This is it:

No Victory Parade Ahead

"The combat man in Korea fights under the dreariest conditions and against the worst kind of odds. He looks forward to few of the little compensations American soldiers could expect in previous wars. He fights a battle in which his best friends get killed and if an account of the action appears at all in his home town paper, it appears on page 17 under a Lux ad."

"There won't be a victory parade for his return because he'll come home quietly and alone, on rotation, and there's no victory in the old-fashioned sense, anyway, because this isn't that kind of war."

"It's a slow, grinding, lonely, blighted-up war, but he goes on fighting in it, not happy, but in good spirit, not in a frenzy of hatred against an enemy which is
