LIFE IN A TYPICAL NEWSBOY'S DAY is illustrated in pictures at left by Ivan Adams, News-Review carrier salesman since 1946. Ivan attends Roseburg High School, as pictured top left. His paper carrying duties come after school in the afternoon. Center left, he's on the job, and he seldom misses a porch when he aims and hurls a paper. But delivery is only part of a newsboy's work. Ivan is shown, lower left, collecting from H. B. Roadman, 348 S. Pine St., one of The News-Review's oldest subscribers. An alert carrier becomes a salesman as well. He is always checking on newcomers to his route area and offering them the services he extends his established customers. Upper right, some of The News-Review carrier-salesmen line up for a picture before starting on their evening routes. They are Donald Horton, Tom Bentley, Bradley Wiles, Dick Powell, Ken Sipreffe, Wesley Buzzard, Circulation Manager Fuller Johnson, Bob Cook, Ivan Adams, Paul Chitwood, Bill Fingerios and Dean Launsbury. Only a few of the boys, having uptown routes, call at the office for their papers. The others have their bundles spotted for them at more convenient places about town. Pictured second from top, right, newsboys have their lifetime desires fulfilled—a ride on a fire truck, even though that ride wasn't to a fire. As a part of Newspaperboys Day, Oct. 4, newsboys took over city and county positions Saturday morning. NEWSPAPERBOYS HONORED — Newspaper carriers of The News-Review, Oregonian and Journal, together with department heads of local radio stations and newspapers were guests Thursday night of the Roseburg Elks Lodge at a banquet and special entertainment. The newsboys were awarded special gifts and theater tickets. Saturday they took over city and county offices. (Picture by Photo Lab)
