

Virginians
Lead Nation
In Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — The University of Virginia's undefeated Cavaliers lead the nation's major college football teams in total defense, having permitted the enemy a paltry average of 142.8 yards per game, according to figures released Thursday by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

Not far behind is Georgia Tech, which has yielded just 142.6 yards per game for the opposition.

Just to show that defense is king this year, the third, fourth and fifth teams in total defense, Maryland, Southern California and Duke in order—are undefeated. Third place Maryland has a long way to go to catch the leaders, however, with a mark of 167.8.

Fordham leads the pack in rushing defense but the Rams have average is 35-yards-per-game. Navy, in second spot, is the real leader with a 69.3 record in four games.

Brigham Young is No. 1 in forward pass defense with a 34.3 yards-per-game average.

Writer Finds Pros
Play Finer Ball
Than Collegiates

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — For a long time at about this season of the year we have frequently found ourselves sneaking looks at certain members of the sports writing brotherhood and wondering if they had, perchance, been bounced upon their heads in extreme youth.

These fellows would go afield on cold, snowy Saturdays and attend college football games as a job of work. They would return home late, frost-bitten and tired. They would bounce out of bed on Sunday, bright-eyed and eager, and beat their way through traffic to witness a professional football game—on their day off.

In reply to casual inquiries, they said they did this because the pro game was vastly superior to the college brand. They said they found pure relaxation in watching skilled artisans in action after they had spent an afternoon with the rahrah boys. They didn't seem to think this especially strange, no matter what anybody said.

Well, this in the nature of a confession. After having been exposed, kicking and screaming, to the pro game twice this season, we are beginning to suspect that it bears about the same relation to the college variety that the baseball Yankees do to, say, the Memphis Chicks. It isn't quite as noisy, but it is much finer football and much more consistently close and exciting.

Having done considerable arguing on the other side, we are not going to propose that every club in the National Professional League can lick any college team in the land. We wouldn't be surprised if such campus outfits as Michigan State, Maryland, Oklahoma and maybe two or three others could step right into the money circuit and fully hold up their end.

But the point is that there aren't enough of them, and that it is all too seldom until the bowl games roll around that one gets to see two really powerful college teams have at one another.

Another Official OKs
Vandal-Duck Contest

MOSCOW, Idaho, (AP) — Another Pacific Coast Conference official has given the disputed Idaho-Oregon football game earlier this month a clean bill of health.

Commissioner Vic Schmidt saw the movies of the game Wednesday and said he agreed with Frank McCormick, PCC supervisor of officials, that questioned penalty calls by game officials were "just a matter of judgment." McCormick saw the movie last week.

Schmidt said there was no evidence of any mistakes by officials in application of the rules.

Oregon won the game in the last minutes after trailing through most of the four quarters. Idaho fans complained about the officiating and the student newspaper demanded that the game be called "no contest."

Sports
Olszewski,
Heinrich Get
All-Amer. Nod

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Backfield stars, led by fullback Johnny Olszewski of California, merited the nod of members of the Coast panel of experts this week in their All-America candidate deliberations.

Named for attention and possible future consideration were Olszewski and passer Don Heinrich of Washington, both tabbed for the second straight week; quarterback Lynn Aplanalp of San Jose State, Paul Cameron of UCLA, and Tom McCormick, halfback at College of the Pacific.

Paul Zimmerman of the Los Angeles Times, Bill Leiser of the San Francisco Chronicle and Royal Brougham of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer make up the sectional panel for the Associated Press.

Heinrich, the nation's leader in total offense and passing yardage, and Olszewski, who leads the Coast Conference in rushing and is second in the nation with a figure of 536, are well established in the All-America scramble.

Aplanalp, who is 24, stands 5-9 1/2 and weighs a slight 162, is the main gun in Coach Bob Bronzman's San Jose Spartans. The Los Angeles man is runner-up to Heinrich for total offense — 916 total for Don 876 running and passing for Aplanalp.

Injury Ends Career
Of Stanford Gridder

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — A knee injury has ended the collegiate grid career of Stanford linebacker Chuck Essegian.

The big Los Angeles fullback was hurt in last week's UCLA game. Physicians urged Essegian to have an operation after they discovered torn ligaments.

Coach Chuck Taylor named Marsh Howe, a junior, to replace Essegian in the starting lineup against Washington here Saturday.

Leading Linfield To Battle Idaho College

By The Associated Press
McMinnville.

The only unbeaten, united college football team in the Pacific Northwest — Central Washington College of Ellensburg—runs head-on into a tough customer this week when it tackles the Western Washington Vikings of Bellingham.

While this Evergreen Conference pace setter is putting its record on the line, the front running Linfield Wildcats of the Northwest Conference will try to withstand the threat of College of Idaho at

British Columbia meets Eastern Washington at Cheney in the only Friday game for the small colleges. Improving Whitworth tests College of Puget Sound at Tacoma in another Saturday Evergreen tussle. Lewis and Clark of the Northwest loop takes on Willamette in Salem and Whitman has a non-league engagement with Eastern Oregon at La Grande.

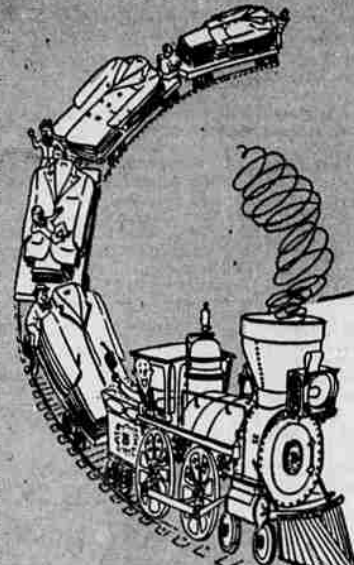

Centralia will be at Grays Harbor in the only Friday game for the Washington Junior College Conference. League leading Everett invades Longview Saturday to meet Lower Columbia, which has played one less game but also is unbeaten in the league.

Yakima will be at Olympic (Bremerton) and Clark of Vancouver at Wenatchee in other Junior College tilts.
