

Speakers Debate Milk Measure

Two speakers told their opinions on the proposed Milk Marketing and Production Act Monday at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon. Daniel Dimick, a Roseburg attorney, and Mrs. Lester Adams, a Jackson County milk producer, debated the milk issue before a well-attended Chamber meeting. Dimick favored passage of the initiative bill and Mrs. Adams opposed it.

Both speakers brought out arguments on the bill which have not been widely publicized in the campaign previously and the question and answer session following concerned largely their interpretations of those arguments.

Debate moderator Dudley Walton allowed both speakers to overrun their time schedule because of their zeal in presenting the issues.

SI Dillard, Chamber president, announced that the regularly scheduled directors' meeting Tuesday evening has been canceled.

Columbia Coach Lou Little Believes Army Coming Back

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—Addressing the regular Monday meeting of the Football Crying Society at one of the better class beereries, Coach Lou Little of Columbia devoted himself at some length to a warning that Army will be back among the nation's gridiron titans by this time next fall.

As the Lion mentor indicated, this will be a quite remarkable feat on the part of Coach Earl Blaik, as the Cadets now are only in their second season since they lost virtually their entire squad through the cribbing expose.

Despite the fact that the Lions gained a 14-14 tie by virtue of a last-minute touchdown pass on Saturday, Little unhesitatingly classed Army as "the best team we have played this year."

As Columbia previously had lost to Princeton and Penn, this statement took in considerable terrain.

Does Wonderful Job
"The job Blaik has done with this set of youngsters is, in my opinion, the best he has ever done," Little declared. "That takes in the years when he had his great undefeated teams and when he was named coach of the year. It's no great thing to turn out a fine team when you have the material, but it is when you start with what Earl did in this instance."

"I heard Georgia Tech has a tremendous team, and I don't know whether they're doing much worrying down there about their game against Army next week in Atlanta, but I know if it was me I would start to do a little worrying. These Army kids have terrific all-around speed, they are beautifully coached and a pleasure to watch."

"You can get a fairly good line on them now off their 22-0 loss to Southern California early in the season. You saw what Southern Cal did to California the other day, and up to that time California was supposed to be one of the best in the country. Army is a lot better now than it was two weeks ago, or even one week back."

"This halfback of Blaik's who scored the two touchdowns against us, Fred Attaya, can really carry the ball, and by next year I predict that Mario DeLucia will be one of the country's outstanding fullbacks. I understand that they have some real good boys coming up from their present piebe team too. What I mean is that Army isn't just showing signs of coming back—it's practically here right now."

Errol Flynn Hit $105,712 Blow In Alimony Fight
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Errol Flynn has lost another court alimony battle with his former wife, actress Lill Damita—to the extent of $105,712.

The latest decision in the long dispute, handed down yesterday by Superior Judge Clarence L. Kincaid, paralleled one by Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle in 1950.

The latter one is on appeal. The actor's attorneys said the Kincaid decision also will be appealed.

Miss Damita's lawyers obtained the award after they claimed Flynn has paid nothing on $1,500-a-month alimony since the appeal of the 1950 decision. Judge Doyle held that a property settlement Flynn made with Miss Damita was not part of the divorce decree and thus could not be changed. It provided Flynn was to pay the alimony and the income tax on it.

Judge Kincaid ruled Flynn owes $61,160 in income taxes on the payments and is in arrears $40,500 in his alimony.

He awarded Miss Damita's attorney $5,000 in fees and the actress 7 per cent interest from the date each alimony payment became due.

Party, Parade Replaces Trick, Treat At Riddle

Riddle school children and preschool youngsters will celebrate Halloween in a bit different manner this Friday night as plans take shape for a community sponsored party at the school gym from 7 to 9 p.m. A costume parade with cash prizes awarded in five age groupings and for three classifications as to dress will open the fun. Nearly an hour of free movies will also be shown. Treats will be given to all children at the gym. Preschool children should be accompanied by an adult because the party will be divided into age groups for easier judging.

Parents and other patrons are again reminded that the "trick or treat" plan is to be discontinued this year, and all contributions of candy, gum, cookies, etc. are to be left at the school or in the boxes provided at downtown stores.
