Slayer Of Constable Committed To Hospital

SALEM (AP) — Brutus Ashcroft, accused of the fatal shooting last spring of a Silverton constable, Monday was committed to the State Hospital.

He was charged with first degree murder in the gun shot slaying of Constable Emery Jackson. Jackson had gone to the Ashcroft home to investigate a family quarrel.

Doctors testified that Ashcroft had delusions of jealousy and was mentally unable to assist in his defense.

Circuit Judge Rex Kimmel said that if Ashcroft's mental condition improves, he will be brought to trial.

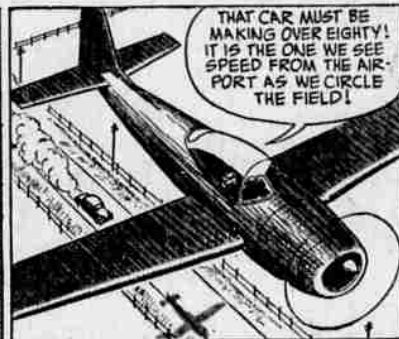

Excavations in the Near East indicate that men may first have begun to live in villages about 10,000 B. C.
