

Joan Strahan Bride Of William Dugger

Joan Strahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Strahan of Canyonville, became the bride of William Dugger at a lovely wedding held the evening of Oct. 11. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dugger of Myrtle Creek. Rev. Olney L. Kendall performed the ceremony at the Canyonville Methodist Church in the presence of 50 relatives and friends.

Mrs. William Preston was the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Harold Perkey at the piano.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of white nylon, ballerina length with a Peter Pan collar, tiny cap sleeves, rhinestone buttons to the waist and a bouffant skirt encircled with bands of white satin. She wore a fingertip veil of nylon net edged with rows of dainty lace. Her bouquet was of deep pink carnations.

Miss Donna Strahan, in a gown of champagne taffeta with a green sash was her sister's maid of honor. Miss Lynetta Dugger, sister of the bridegroom, was the bridesmaid. She wore a gown of soft blue with a navy sash. Both carried nosegays of white carnations with streamers matching the trim of their gowns.

Lorin McDonald was best man. Ushers were Ray Pratt and Jim Dugger of Myrtle Creek, brother of the bridegroom. Little Claudia Buchanan, cousin of the bride, in a pink organza dress with white velvet embroidery, was the flower girl. She carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Baskets of bronze chrysanthemums and tall candelabra formed the church decorations. The couple was married beneath an arch entwined with ivy.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Strahan chose a dressmaker suit of blue ribbons with a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a gray ensemble with a corsage of red roses.

The reception, given by the bride's parents, was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony. Pale yellow tapers in crystal candelabra adorned the table. The wedding cake, beautifully decorated with yellow rosebuds, and punch were served.

The bride chose a brown and white checked suit with brown and melon accessories for her going away costume. After a brief wedding trip, the couple is at Riverside Trailer Court.

Both young people were graduated from Canyonville High School in 1951. The bride has been employed, until recently, by the Douglas Forest Protective Association as a fire lookout. Mr. Dugger is employed by Fir Manufacturing Company.

WILL SCHOOL DISTRICT REORGANIZATION IMPROVE THE QUALITY OF EDUCATION?

It will make better schooling available to every child. The supervising and teaching staffs will be of higher caliber, adequate supplies and equipment will be available where not now provided, the curriculum can be expanded to include many subjects not now offered, guidance and counseling service secured from the elementary level through high school, vocational training suitable to the needs of the district will be possible; extra curricular activities may be developed for the students. In many, many districts throughout Oregon the benefits to the children would be tremendous.
