Election coverage was a thrilling and exciting experience... And KRNR's staff enjoyed the adventure of broadcasting from the Armory... It was an adventure, too, because in that sort of thing, establishing a precedent, you never can be sure what will happen during the course of events... However, so far as can be determined the broadcast had the desired results... keeping our audience informed and keeping the patrons at the Armory entertained, as well as informed. There was a good turnout, and the music was enthusiastically received... By way of refreshing your memory, it might be mentioned that a western band was there, Lou Franco's Happy Valley Cowboy's, and a popular band, Dick Strayer's All-Stars. In between these two musical aggregations, during intermissions, three acts were included, featuring the Postal Notes, Jake Jacobson, and Jad and Jessica Paul. KRNR sincerely hopes you enjoyed the broadcast, and, incidentally, the staff shouts a big "Thank You" to Mr. Frank Bodin of the Rose Hotel, who very graciously sent up coffee and sandwiches, "courtesy of Rose Hotel"... a generous gesture, and one happily noted in this column. "The Bing Crosby Show" will be heard, as usual, tonight at 6:30. "Visitin' Time" has been changed to a new time, effective tonight and henceforth... broadcast time is 7:30 - 8:00. So mark the time change of a fine musical program from the CBS Radio network's, "Visitin' Time," tonight at 7:30.

"Pigskin Predictions" hits the air tonight at 8:00... A preview of the coming gridiron attractions for the weekend, with valuable information and tips on the winners, that might serve you well in your Football Selection Sheet.

Rounding out KRNR's broadcast day, it's a musical potpourri, with Lowell Cannon guiding the show's mood, as "Nite Watch" takes to the air, 11:00-11:25 p.m., followed by "News Nitecap."
