Ike Will Get
Congress Unity,
Taft Predicts

CINCINNATI (AP) — U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft thinks there should be "complete cooperation" between President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower and Congress in developing a program "which will have unanimous support from the Republican party."

Senator Taft made the statement in a copyrighted analysis of the election, written for the Cincinnati Times-Star's magazine section.

The Ohio Senator said he believed the tremendous vote in the election last week was "a negative enthusiasm against what had been going on in Washington in the executive administration."

"The fact that the campaign was won on negative issues makes it all the more important that the Republican party should develop affirmative policies," Taft wrote.

He said General Eisenhower will be in a position to "clean up corruption and communism in Washington by the appointment of men who have a sincere interest in that job."

Economies Stretched
On the legislative side, Taft wrote:

"In domestic policy, I believe also that a comprehensive survey should be made of existing departments and bureaus with jurisdiction to go beyond the powers of the Hoover Commission in recommending economies and in some cases the complete elimination of federal activity."

"At the same time, I believe a comprehensive study should be made to determine the proper role of the federal government in giving assistance to states and local communities in the fields of welfare, health, housing and social security."

"Particularly, I believe the old age pension system can be greatly improved."

The Democrats held on to their standard party vote with which they had won recent elections," Taft wrote, "but the Republicans acquired 11,000,000 new votes — some young voters, others from that group of people who did not trouble to vote in previous elections."

He expressed belief Gov. Eisenhower would defeat Democratic candidates, got most of the "so-called nonpartisan vote which the candidates angled for" and then he added:

"But it was the previously uninterested vote which swung into line for General Eisenhower."

TAPPED FOR HONORARY
Donald Parr, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Parr, 710 E. Lane St., was tapped Saturday evening at the traditional University of Oregon Homecoming dance for membership in Druids, junior men's honorary. Selection for membership is based on scholarship and service to the University.

Parr is a junior in speech.
