TOM PARGETER CONDUCTS MELROSE PTA MEETING

The Melrose PTA met Thursday evening at the Melrose school. Tom Pargeter brought the business session to order and conducted group singing. The prayer was given by Ralph Arenmeier.

Mrs. Eva Taylor and Miss Jones, teachers of the first and second grade rooms, gave an interesting program of nursery rhymes and songs. A tap dance was done by Carol Hargenheimer and Brenda Toppings.

Plans were made by the PTA to hold a chili supper Friday evening, Dec. 7 at 6 o'clock at the auditorium. Moving pictures will be shown in the school.

Mrs. Ralph Arenmeier reported on the different defense stamp posters drawn by the school children. Prizes were awarded to Donna Graves, first prize; Nancy Daniels, second; Ila Hatch, third, and Brenda Toppings, fourth. Defense stamps were awarded to them.

Miss Jones' second grade room had the largest number of parents present. Refreshments were served by the second grade mothers.

YONCALLA LEGION UNIT MEETS AT ROGERS HOME

The Yoncalla American Legion Auxiliary Unit 174 met at the Harold Rogers home Tuesday evening. Mrs. Marvin Thompson presided.

Plans were made to hold a Sadie Hawkins party at the Halo Hall, Saturday, Nov. 22, with the Elkhead orchestra furnishing the music. There will be prizes given for the best costumes. A fish pond for the kids, games and a musical cake walk will provide entertainment. The proceeds will go to help the Roseburg Veterans Hospital swimming pool fund. The auxiliary also plans on giving a picture show at the Yoncalla Theater the first part of December to raise money for "Gifts For the Yanks Who Gave."

TOASTMISTRESSES CLUB HAS INTERESTING DINNER

"My Most Memorable Holiday" was the subject for one minute talks at the Wednesday dinner meeting of the Roseburg Toastmistress Club. Halloween, St. Patrick's, and July Fourth starred but Christmas was the most popular.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Labrie Ritchie and she presented four new members, Mrs. William Burke, Miss June Kelso, Mrs. Harriet Lane and Mrs. Gordon Quinn, with gardenia corsages. Miss Velma Werth gave the invocation.

Toastmistress for the evening was Mrs. George Hunter. She introduced Mrs. Walter Fisher who gave an interesting extemporaneous talk on her recent trip through Canada and northern United States.

Mrs. Hilda Peterson, the second speaker of the evening, told her audience "How To Write a Book in 80 Easy Lessons." Writing the book is only the beginning. It has to be advertised and promoted, edited a number of times, and then distributed. Printing the first hundred books is the most costly.

The final speaker of the evening, Miss Cella Day, reviewed the book, "The Mature Mind," by H. A. Overstreet, a thought-provoking book for these troublesome times. Mr. Overstreet discussed kinds of maturity and how we can move from immaturity to maturity. He catalogued America as an immature nation and said we need to become mature in order to solve our pressing problems.

Critics for the evening were Mrs. Warren Demytt, Mrs. Labrie Ritchie, Mrs. C. E. Reese and Mrs. Roy Stein, evaluator. Mrs. William Burke acted as timer.

Guests of the evening were Mrs. Louise Newhouse and Miss Lois Allen. Plans were made for the Christmas party to be held Dec. 10 with the Roseburg Toastmistress Club, and the Winston-Dillard Toastmistress Club participating. It will be an informal fun night with husbands and guests welcome. The appearance of Miss June Kelso will be one of the highlights of the entertaining program.

ROSEBURG WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS AT CLUB HOUSE

The Roseburg Woman's Club met Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 18, at the clubhouse.

Mrs. Earl Plummer opened the meeting and introduced Mrs. Morris Roach. Mrs. Roach read the poem which was given by Dr. Roach at the funeral of Mrs. Charles Brand, a long time member of the club.

Mrs. F. C. Fitzpatrick, club program chairman, introduced Mrs. W. Frank Brown, the chairman for the day's program. The speaker of the day was Don Starr, ceramics and art teacher at the Roseburg High School. He gave a very interesting talk on all phases of ceramics as applied to everyday living and showed examples of his work. There were exhibits in copper, weaving, textile painting, ceramics and pictures, all supplied by members and residents of Roseburg.

Mrs. Clyde Carstens, music chairman, introduced Mrs. Martha Mulkey, who played two selections on her violin: "When A Maid Comes
