five committee of the National City Bank, Cleveland; director of the Phelps Dodge Corp.; chairman of the executive committee and director of Industrial Rayon Corp. Max Experience

Humphrey has some background in government work, having been former chairman of the Industrial Advisory Committee of the Economic Corporation Administration.

This committee dealt with reparations and the dismantling of German plants after World War II. He was chairman of the Business Advisory Council of the Commerce Department in 1948.

Stassen has long been active in Republican politics.

At the GOP convention, he was an aspirant for the nomination, but switched his votes to Eisenhower to give the general the nomination on the first ballot.

Brownell, a long-time righthand man of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, took a leading role in masterminding Eisenhower's strategy at the GOP convention.

He also was a key advisor during the general's campaign.

He had played a similar part in the unsuccessful Dewey campaigns for the presidency.

McKay's Ideas In Full Accord With Ike's Views

SALEM, Ore. — The appointment of Gov. Douglas McKay of Oregon to the cabinet will give President-elect Eisenhower a man who appears to reflect Eisenhower's domestic views almost exactly.

In the past, the next secretary of the interior has:

Favored state ownership of oil tides.

Favored statehood for Alaska and Hawaii.

Opposed a Columbia Valley Authority, but favored big federal power projects, provided the state has a voice in operation of the projects.

Once his appointment was announced, McKay refused to discuss these or any other policies. He said he would confer first with Gen. Eisenhower.

There were a few cries of "reactionary" when the appointment was announced yesterday, but generally among public office-holders and newspapers of the West comment appeared favorable towards the 59-year-old McKay.

Among Republicans of Oregon he is generally considered a moderate—and his stand on public power is cited as an example. He has made his position clear in repeated speeches over the four years he has been governor.

Private Utilities First

The McKay stand is that private utilities should be given first chance to develop water resources. When the job is too big for private investors, the federal government should take over—but not have full say on how to develop or run the projects. The state also should have a hand in running things. McKay calls it federal-state cooperation.

On that basis he opposed a Columbia Valley Authority. So did the general.

Also on that basis McKay has participated actively in the Columbia Basin Inter-Agency Committee, a group of federal and state agencies that advises on how to

Residents Of 4 States See Flash Of Meteor

HUTCHINSON, Kan. — A bright object, apparently a meteorite, lit up the sky over South Central Kansas like a gigantic flare last night.

Witnesses reported here and at Wichita that the bright, white light flashed across the sky in a southwesterly direction and then burst into a number of vari-colored pieces like a sky rocket.

The concussion of the exploding object shook large buildings and rattled windows at Wichita.

Persons in Amarillo, Tex., and Gage, Okla., Oklahoma City and Trinidad, Colo., also reported seeing the bright flash in the sky.

More Community Colleges Advised For Future Needs

PORTLAND — A college president urged Oregon counties Thursday to begin considering a plan that could solve problems of an anticipated boom in college enrollment by 1960.

The plan is for community colleges, Dr. Morgan S. Odell, president of Lewis and Clark College, told the 47th annual convention of the Association of Oregon Counties.

The crop of war babies will begin reaching the colleges in 1960, and enrollment will increase 75 to 100 per cent—or from 19,000 at present to 40,000 students—he said.

Community colleges, authorized by the state and already tried at Bend and Klamath Falls, could help carry the load, he said.

He also said he favored making Portland State College a four-year, degree-granting school, but not until about 1960.

The association decided to ask the Legislature for laws safeguarding the counties' authority to regulate traffic and prevent damage on county roads.

The group also proposed to make permanent the Good Roads Alliance, an organization that opposes some trucking firms on tax measures in the recent election.

The convention closes Friday after election of officers.

School Amateur Hour At Glendale Attracts Several Participants

By MRS. GERALD B. FOX

The Senior Amateur Hour held last Friday evening in the school gymnasium saw a large group of young people participating in the contest, from pre-school through the 12th grade.

The grand prize, went to Sharon Heyne, with group prizes going to the following: Group 1, John Fish; Group 2, Patricia Boxxi; Group 3, Mary Pate; Group 4, Lloyd Clark; Group 5, Clair Hurst. Judges for the event were Mae Basye, Mrs. Verne Dark and Mrs. Meeks. Mrs. Cooley was accompanist for most of the numbers.

Examined

Raleigh Johns went to Portland last Friday for a medical examination, returning to his home near Azalea on Sunday. He was accompanied by Dale Johns and by his nurse, Mrs. A. Carlisle.

Ladies of the Azalea Faith Chapel held their missionary meeting on Thursday of last week, doing some sewing and renovating of garments to be sent to a mission field.

Mrs. C. Morris' father, Mr. Finley, of Klamath Falls, has been visiting with her in Azalea.

Mrs. Virgil McCollum will spend the holidays in Arkansas with an invalid sister.

The Azalea Grange will be holding its Harvest Dinner for Grangers and friends this Friday evening at the hall. The dinner will be followed by a skit "Consolation," presented by Mrs. Dorothy Hurst, Mrs. Graec Croft, Mrs. Mary Diltz, Mrs. Hazel McPherran, and Calire Hurst.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Moore entertained their son and daughter-in-law from California over the weekend.

Mrs. Ella Dunning is seriously ill in the Portland Sanitarium. She entered last Wednesday. No decision has yet been reported as to the cause of her illness.

The Country Club had a dinner meeting last Sunday evening at the Dudley Ross home near Barton Road. There were 27 present.

Jim Croft's daughter, Marilyn, was seriously ill last week at her home near Roseburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Croft visited her there.

Mrs. Dorothy Clayton of Quines Creek will be spending the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays in California and Colorado.

Thanksgiving Service

Glendale will have a United Thanksgiving Service at 7:30 p.m. November 28, at the Olivet Presbyterian Church. All the churches of the area have been invited, and as many as possible will participate in the program. Rev. Claude Miller, new pastor of the Glendale Baptist Church, has been scheduled at the evening's speaker, while Dr. J. K. Howard, of the Presbyterian Church, will preside. Rev. Ed Grafstrom pastor of the Assembly of God Church, is to lead in prayer, and Rev. Goode of the Church of Christ will read the scripture.

Mrs. Blaine Johnson, officially representing this section of Oregon, attended the Cancer Workshop in Portland last week, which was held Thursday and Friday at the Multnomah Hotel. According to Mrs. Johnson, reports were given on progress in cancer research, motion pictures presented concerning cancer and the problems of its control, and some discussion of plans for the cancer drive next spring.

Marilyn Ramey was home from her classes at Ashland last weekend, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ramey, in Azalea.

Irene Swank left Monday of last week for Camp Roberts where her husband, Bucky (Maurice) Swank is stationed.

Harley France, who purchased the Griffin place near Azalea, has new legislators had been elected Nov. 4, and the old legislators no longer could be considered in office. He thought that removed the Senate president and speaker of the House from the picture and left the secretary of state, as third in line of succession, ready to take over.

Neuner said the legislators were out of office all right, except for the Senate president and the speaker of the House. These retain their positions until successors are elected, he said.

May Go To Courts

The matter has never been tested in court, though, and there is a possibility the State Supreme Court will be asked to rule on the matter.

For his part in the picture, Marsh said he hoped McKay would resign before Jan. 12, so that the matter will not go before the Senate.

"Otherwise, people would say 30 men elected the governor," he said. McKay has never expressed himself publicly, but it is generally believed that he would prefer Patterson over Newbry and would time his resignation, if necessary, so that Newbry would not succeed him.

And since Newbry is believed to want to be governor, that makes the question of whether the Senate president stays in office past the expiration of senators' terms, the determining one.

Chinese Red Attacks Fail At All Points

South Korean Soldiers Figure Prominently In Successes Of Allies

SEOUL — Allied infantrymen smashed a fanatical Chinese assault today on Sniper Ridge — on the Central Korean Front — and stopped lesser attacks elsewhere on the battle line.

He said an estimated 750 Chinese stormed the frozen, forbidding slopes of Sniper Ridge but were killed, wounded or driven back by stubborn South Korean troops who have lost and retaken the height 16 times in 38 days.

Some of the fighting was hand-to-hand.

A Red battalion slammed against Pinpoint Hill, the dominating ground of Sniper Ridge last night. The Communists supported their assaults with a tremendous barrage of mortar and artillery.

Within an hour, one company of Chinese pulled out and left two companies to push ahead. But by 10 p.m. the drive was blunted.

The Allied spokesman said four Communist a r m o r e d vehicles, probably tanks, rained 50 caliber machine gun fire on ROK positions on Sniper just before midnight.

Allied artillery drove off the vehicles.

Suicide Platoon Fails

Both sides kept up a crackling exchange of gunfire, and early this morning a suicide platoon of Chinese charged Sniper Ridge, hurling hand grenades when they got near the ROK foxholes. But the South Koreans held their ground and shortly after dawn the Chinese pulled out.

Eighth Army headquarters reported a series of Communist attacks all along the 155-mile battle line. On the extreme Eastern Front, North Korean troops stabbed twice last night and twice this morning at Allied positions south of Kosong in the Anchor Hill sector. All the probes were driven off.

consultant position to be free to criticize the administration and to campaign actively for a Republican victory in November.

In the course of this campaign he broadly supported all efforts to unify and strengthen the Allies, but sharply criticized what he considered to be the administration's failure to develop a truly offensive global strategy in the cold war.

To accomplish such an objective and put Russia on the defensive Dulles advocated not only the creation of a super cabinet council—perhaps through revision of the present National Security Council—but also:

1. A psychological campaign by "peaceful means" to make Russia uncertain of its hold over its satellite nations in Eastern Europe and over China. A Kremlin worried by the desire for liberty in those lands, he contended, would have less time to devote to making trouble this side of the Iron Curtain.

2. Development of means to defend weak nations on a global basis, probably by threatening Russia with direct retaliation if Communist forces tried to open up any more Korea.

Big Korean Army Favored

3. Action to streamline relations between the departments of the government dealing with foreign affairs—such as state, defense and the Mutual Security Agency—so that decisions on legislative action could be more efficiently worked out and the time of cabinet members spared for policy making.

Dulles' lines on Korea has been exactly the same as that of President-elect Eisenhower. In a speech at Boston Oct. 11 he estimated that 20 million South Koreans should be able to provide an army which "could gradually replace the estimated 250,000 U. S. troops now in front line positions."

The displacement of Americans by South Koreans, Dulles said, should speed an end to the Korean War because (1) Russia would then lack the incentive of continuing the war to keep American troops tied up there, and (2) it would deny the Communists their propaganda charge that the Korean struggle is really a white man's war against native peoples of Asia.

Rosenbergs To Receive Death Sentence Jan. 12

NEW YORK — Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman Friday set the week of Jan. 12 for the execution of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, convicted atomic spies.

Last week the United States Supreme Court refused for a second time to rehear the case of the husband and wife prisoners.

They were convicted March 29, 1951 of passing atomic secrets to Russia, and for many months have been confined in the death house at Sing Sing Prison.

18 G. N. Freight Cars Derailed On S. P. Line

EUGENE — Freight cars were reported piled up two and three deep on the main line of the Southern Pacific at Chemult in Southern Oregon Friday following an 18-car derailment.

Few details were available here as work crews set out. It was a Great Northern freight pulled by a three-unit diesel over Southern Pacific rails which left the tracks. There were no reports of injuries.

Passenger trains can be rerouted over the old and slower Siskiyou route into California.

Six freight trains were waiting between here and the derailment point.
