seistrom and Clerk S. H. Early, in recommending the program explained that present elementary playgrounds are crowded, that the State Board of Health will not permit additional drainage fields at the present primary school, and that the age and condition of the two-story grade building makes it more feasible and economical to start a new grade building at the new site.

The shop building would allow general shop classes to be added to the high school curriculum, the board said.

"Completion of the gymnasium would allow for greater participation of the parents and friends of the students in athletic contests than our now limited facilities allow, and this building could be used for special musical programs," the board concluded.

Dewey Believes Eisenhower Will Work For Peace

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey says the Eisenhower administration will work for world peace through a positive foreign policy that will be "made in America."

The United States, he adds, will "no longer sit idly by watching the free world dismembered piece by piece," and "American policy will no longer be made in the Kremlin."

The governor, a chief supporter of Dwight D. Eisenhower for the presidency, made the declarations Thursday night in a speech at the 67th annual Lincoln Day dinner of the National Republican Club of New York at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. At the outset of his speech,

Station's Late Hours Save Drain Grocery

The owner of Drain's Red and White grocery is mighty glad there's an all-night service station in the city.

Early Wednesday morning fire broke out inside the store. But the building is across the street from the Randall and Pfister Signal Station, and Earl Kellenbeck, attendant, and an unidentified truck driver saw the flames licking at the store's 10-foot ceiling.

Grabbing the station's fire extinguisher, they rushed across the street and subdued the blaze.

Only damage done was to the confectionery, cigarettes and a few other articles, C. C. Ritter, proprietor, said.

Sec. Benson Under Fire From Farm Groups

hardly know what to do about complaints that Benson is not taking aggressive action to halt the farm price decline.

In St. Paul Wednesday night Benson advised farmers to rely more on themselves and less on government aid. He declared that "inefficiency should not be subsidized in agriculture or any other economy, and relief programs should be operated as such."

Not Talking

The farm officials aren't talking publicly about congressional complaints because they are still hopeful of maintaining close relations with the lawmakers. But they point out in off-the-record discussions, that Benson has pledged to carry out faithfully all the price support programs set up by the preceding Democratic administration.

In no case, they say, has a price support commitment made by Benson's Democratic predecessor, Charles F. Brannan, been abandoned.

They also say that if Brannan were still in office and if he adhered to his previously stated farm price support policies, he would stand pat on present programs.

Most of the criticism of Benson's speech came from Democrats, displeased over what they feel is going to be a key issue in the 1954 congressional elections, particularly if farm prices keep sliding.

Bill Would Block Morse From Switching might win if he ran as an Independent against both a Democrat and a Republican.

Democrats in the Legislature indicate they will oppose the bill, some of them claiming it is unconstitutional.

A bill to speed up the counting of votes in elections was introduced by Rep. Earl Hill, Cushman. The measure would allow counties to use voting machines.

A two-year study of the state's water resources was proposed by Rep. Charles A. Tom, Rufus. His measure appropriates $50,000 for a five-man committee to make recommendations to the 1955 Legislature. This committee also would decide what type of state agency would be needed to solve water problems.

Appointed By Governor

The committee, which would be appointed by the governor, would represent agriculture, forestry, fish and game, labor and the public.

Reps. Hill and Lorcan Stewart, Cottage Grove, introduced two bills to have salaries of county officers fixed by the county budget committees. These committees would be appointed by the governor.

The Legislature now fixes the county salaries.

Non-partisan election of sheriffs would be provided in a bill by Rep. Mark Hatfield, Salem.

Another new House bill would require used car dealers to certify that their cars are in good condition when they sell them.

What kind of letters does your legislator like to receive? Personal informative letters expressing your likes or dislikes and telling why you feel that way are always welcomed. If you can give any examples or information concerning why you feel as you do it may be very valuable. Don't be embarrassed if your stationery isn't fancy—just write and tell your legislator as a friend why you want him to support or fight a measure. Remember he represents you and he wants to know how you feel.
