Riddle Directors Study Possible Scout Building

By ERMA BEST

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors was held at the Riddle School office last Wednesday evening, Feb. 11, with all members present. A major item of business was presented when two representatives of the Riddle Lions Club, R. E. Paetz and Larry Minnaugh, appeared before the board to seek information regarding the possible location of a building for Boy Scouts' use upon school land.

Two possible sites were discussed for such a building, but before further action could be taken, Supt. Kenneth Stuart was asked to check with the school attorney regarding the legality of such use of school-owned land.

Bills amounting to $954.51 were ordered paid. Most of this month's bills were for additional encyclopedias, teaching aids, and other library books for the elementary school. Discussion of school sites centered around procurement of help in leveling and seeding the lawn at the primary building with Hap Smith appointed to check on equipment needed to do the work. Fencing of the creek bank and erection of a backstop for baseball were also discussed.

The directors voted not to allow private groups to use the school building for dancing clubs, but to continue the use of the gym for interested recreational groups for volleyball and badminton, if properly supervised by school personnel and if sufficient interest was shown to warrant the expense of lights and heat.

Supt. Stuart was granted permission to be absent from his duties from March 9 to 11 to aid in the state evaluation program for the Myrtle Creek High School. Al Barnhart, grade principal, was also granted expense money to attend the Regional Elementary School Conference at Eugene on Feb. 28. Acting upon the recommendation of teachers in the primary building and with the approval of Supt. Stuart, a bonus was granted to Mrs. Waneta Wallace for her work as head teacher in that building.

The public hearing date for the Riddle School budget was again announced as being Monday evening, February 23 at 8 p.m. The next regular meeting of the board of directors will be Tuesday, March 10, at which time teachers' contracts will be issued for the coming year.

20 Million Aid Voted Schools

WASHINGTON (AP)—Overriding economy pleas by its Appropriations Committee, the House Thursday voted 20 1/2 million dollars of federal aid to communities whose school populations have been swollen by government defense activities.

By an unrecorded vote of 199 to 37, the House restored the funds previously knocked out of a supplemental money bill brought in by the Appropriations Committee. The House action was taken in the face of demands by Rep. Busby (R-III) and Rep. Taber (R-N.Y.), Appropriations Committee leaders, to "stand and be counted" on the economy issue.

All but a handful of Republicans and all Democrats voted for the supplemental school aid funds to meet emergency needs of local school districts for the remainder of the fiscal year, which ends June 30.

Price Tag Bill Passed By House

By PAUL W. HARVEY JR.

SALEM (AP)—The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to make sure that the voters are told about ballot measures that reduce state revenues.

The so-called "price tag" bill provides that this information be attached to ballot measures that reduce state revenue, amending the 1951 law that said the price tags should be placed on measures that increase revenues for taxes.

Besides being attached to the ballot measures, the information is published in the Voter's Pamphlet. The estimates are prepared by the secretary of state, state treasurer and finance director.

The Joint Ways and Means Committee began work on the proposed increase salaries for state officials, promising to make its recommendations Thursday.

The same committee voted for a 12 per cent salary increase for state police, and for an investigation to determine if the state should privately insure its property. State property now is insured by a $1,000,000 state fund to which departments contribute.

Lions To Study Canyonville City Entrance

By MARY F. BINGHAM

The Canyonville Lions Club will soon select a committee to study the south entrance to the city. It has been called "inadequate" by the club.

The discussion came up at the last Lions Club meeting and was tabled until a committee is appointed to study the situation in detail and make a full report at the next meeting.

Initiation Sided
Meanwhile, it was announced that eight new members will be initiated at the next regular meeting of the club. The district governor will officiate.

At the recent meeting, the Roseburg Lions Club returned the Canyonville Tail Twister's container filled with coins. After the stunts staged at Canyonville Club, this was "returning good for evil," says Secretary George Brinkworth of Canyonville.

In the line of service, the Canyonville Lions have available three pair of crutches to those who need them. They were donated to the club. Also, on behalf of the club, Lions Milton Herbert and Charles Dowd made the necessary arrangements for procuring glasses for two needy school children.

Tentative plans have been made for a box social at the Canyonville School gym in the near future. Lions of the district have been invited to attend the installation of officers of the Brookings Harbor Lions Club at Chetco Inn Saturday at 7:30. Visitors have been invited to inspect the plywood plant there at 4 p.m. Saturday and 10 a. m. Sunday.
