Music Classes Set At Glendale

By MRS. G. B. FOX
Music instruction began last week in the Glendale Grade and High Schools.

According to Robert Carter, music instructor, regular music classes will be given both in the grade school and the high school, with time to be divided between chorus work and general music appreciation. In the grade school classes, which will be held for the older group beginning with the fifth grade, will alternate with physical education instruction so that each youngster receives music one day and physical education the next. Older pupils may take instrumental work twice a week with buses being used to take the children to the high school for the session and back again.

Parents interested in having their children take band or orchestra are asked to see Carter to make arrangements concerning instruments. The school has purchased instruments for the classes, and these may be rented at a reasonable rate or may be purchased if so desired.

The Olivet Presbyterian Church has been collecting clothes for Korea. The final pickup for the clothing drive was Oct. 7. Consolidated Freightways offered to transport the boxes free of charge to their shipping point.

The possibility that he would be sentenced to death under the Lindbergh law.

Regarding the missing ransom money for which officers have been searching in many places, the deputy said Hall reiterated earlier statements that he did not know where it was. But he said, the deputy related, that he believes Mrs. Heady probably disposed of it when she was drinking heavily and has forgotten where she put it.

Hall was brought here in a car driven by Deputy Marshal Les Davison. He rode in the back seat, flanked by Roy Kirgan, another deputy, and Sgt. Tom Fuller of the St. Louis Police Department.

Mrs. Heady, accompanied by two matrons, U.S. Marshal Omar Schnatmeier and one of the marshal's office aides, traveled in a separate car.

During the ride, their wrists and ankles were shackled with separate chains. Upon arriving here, the ankle chains were released, permitting them to walk unassisted. Their wrists remained bound by handcuffs which were locked to the body of a chain draped around the waist.

On the way to the eleventh floor, Mrs. Heady, who had not had a chance to speak to Hall since leaving St. Louis, asked: "Honey, are you tired?" Hall did not reply.

The two prisoners are separated by four empty cells and other prisoners are on the same floor.

Western Reaction Awaited By Yugoslavs

threat Sunday to send his own troops into the zone if Italian troops replaced the 7,000 British and American soldiers. Observers on all sides agreed such a move could touch off World War III.

The American intention to stick by the Allied decision was made plain yesterday in Washington by a State Department spokesman shortly before Yugoslavia's foreign secretary, Koca Popovic, conferred for 50 minutes with U. S. Secretary of State Dulles.

Popovic, who told reporters he would return for another talk with Dulles today, flew from New York for the meeting and presumably relayed Tito's threat to send forces into Zone A "the moment" Italian troops take over.

The Yugoslav foreign secretary described his talk with Dulles as "fruitful and declared: "The situation is really grave but I am hoping with our common efforts we can improve the situation."

It takes Teamwork to make Touchdowns

And it takes teamwork to make quality plywood and lumber.

Before you get teamwork, other factors have to be right. Such as timber—the extra good kind that grows in Oregon's rich rain forests. Such as manufacturing facilities—modern mills and machinery. Such as "know-how"—the experience that comes from years of background and work.

All of these things—plus teamwork—add up to quality products, satisfied customers, and Job Security.

Here at Associated we strive to keep all of these factors in balance. Doing so means continued growth and continued opportunities to hundreds of workers who make up the APMI team.
