Prosperity Groundwork Laid, President Claims

about five billion dollars worth of farm products acquired in its price support program.

In a bid for bipartisan support, the President invited Democratic as well as Republican leaders to a White House briefing today on the foreign relations and national defense aspects of his message.

Similar moves were under way in Congress, almost evenly divided among the two parties.

Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) announced that the Senate Foreign Relations Committee will sit down with Secretary of State Dulles Thursday afternoon for a secret review of the world situation.

Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass) announced that the Senate Defense Committee will brief the Senate Army Services Committee "just as soon as possible" on details of the administration's new defense program.

In one late change in his speech last night, Eisenhower apparently sought to lay stress on actions already taken to ward off an economic decline, including a program to funnel some defense work into areas where there is large unemployment.

As distributed by the White House, the President's text had him giving assurance that "every legitimate means available to the federal government that can be used to sustain prosperity for this purpose—will be used—if necessary."

Later, the text was revised and the President changed the wording slightly again in delivering it to say that every such means "is being used and will continue to be used as necessary."

The President expressed confidence that the program he will request of the session of Congress which opens tomorrow will meet with the approval of the people.

He said he hoped it would enlist support in both parties because of its purpose of promoting the welfare of the people.

Observing that no group of Americans can prosper unless all Americans prosper, he cautioned against division into factions and hostile groups.

"We believe that the slum, the out-dated highway, the poor school system—deficiencies in health protection, the loss of a job and the fear of poverty in old age—in fact any real injustice in the business of living—penalizes all of us," he declared.

The Winston-Dillard Ground Observers Corps will hold its regular meeting tonight at 7:30 at the Winston Community Hall.

Don Roy Short, 23-year-old Ft. Ord, Calif., soldier, is being held in the county jail for Army authorities. He was picked up by state police here on a warrant charging him with being away from his post without official leave being granted.

Contacts may be made by telephone or by a "coffee hour" with her neighbors.

A Marching Mother solicits her block and rarely contacts more than 10 houses. She works for just 4 1/2 hours the evening of the march.
