CHALLENGE to the homemaker during the holiday eating season is the tempting of appetites with a different treat, like this Fig Cookie Pie.

Tempt Holiday Appetites By Serving A Fig Cookie Pie

It's a real challenge to tempt appetites with a different treat during the holiday eating season. A new dish has stiff competition with the traditional good foods we all like to eat during this festive period.

Fig Cookie Cream Pie
1/2 package pie crust mix
1 package vanilla pudding
1 3/4 cups milk
4 fig cookies
1/2 cup whipping cream
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Method: Prepare pie crust mix according to directions. Fit into 8-inch pie plate. Fold edge to form upstanding rim; flute. Prick well with fork. Bake at 450 degrees F. for 8-10 minutes. Cool.

Prepare vanilla pudding with reduced quantity of milk. Cool. Turn into baked pie shell. Top with design of fig cookies and flavored whipped cream.
No rolling, no baking, no failures with Brazil nut pie crust. Brazil nuts, shelled, are put through food chopper and blended with sugar in a pie plate. This crumb type crust is excellent with chiffon pie fillings.

Home Is Campus During Vacation

Holiday vacations bring young teenagers and their friends home from schools and colleges — and lo and behold — your home becomes a veritable campus. If you've ever had to plan a meal for such a crew, you know how difficult it is to hit upon one that can satisfy young appetites, especially if the gang invades your kitchen after an hour or two of skiing, skating or any other outdoor winter sport.

To begin to squelch some of those anxious palates, serve a hot ski-ball — the hot beverage which has recently become very popular in college dormitories and skiing lodges. It's a tantalizing, spicy glass of hot tea guaranteed to warm them to their very toes. With the ski-ball drink, serve french-toasted cheese sandwiches, sausages, and spiced apricots or peaches. Have a basketful of big, red, juicy apples handy, too, for them to munch on, and your campus ground is bound to be the "hang-out" during the holiday season! At least you'll know where your teenagers are!

Ski-Ball
Boiling water
Tea bags or loose tea
1 1/2 teaspoons sugar per glass
1 thick lemon slice stuffed with 3-6 cloves per glass
1 cinnamon stick muddler per glass
To make tea, bring water to a full rolling boil. Place tea in preheated tea pot. Allow 1 teaspoonful tea or 1 tea bag per glass. Pour boiling water over tea. Brew 3-5 minutes. Place sugar, lemon, and cinnamon sticks in ski-ball or Russian tea glasses. (Both types have handles.) Stir tea and strain into glasses. Serve immediately.

Have you been looking for a punch recipe that's truly appealing? We think "Hospitality Punch" is the answer — a delightful to serve not only during the holiday season, but throughout the year. Icy-cold apricot whole fruit nectar is the basis of this punch, with grapefruit juice, orange juice and rind to help out. It's all "sparkled" with sparkling water. For added interest, garnish each glass with an unpeeled orange slice.

Hospitality Punch
3 cups apricot whole fruit nectar
1 cup sparkling water
1/2 cup grapefruit juice
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
Few grains salt
Thin slices unpeeled orange for garnish

Chill all liquids. Combine all ingredients and blend thoroughly. Garnish each serving with orange slices. Serves 6 to 8.
Gay, festive foods, such as Sherried Cheese-Frosted Loaf, are especially popular at holiday time. This is a really delicious snack — good for a brunch, with coffee, or for afternoon tea. And it is mighty good for late evening refreshments with glasses of Port or other dessert wine. The combination of flavors in the frosting is unique and yet subtle. Everyone likes it!

6 Million Draw Security Benefits

Nearly 6 million men, women, and children were getting monthly social security payments under the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance program at the end of 1953, according to estimated figures released today by the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance, Dept. of Health, Education, and Welfare.

As of Dec. 31, about 5,970,000 persons were drawing benefits. The 3-millionth beneficiary was awarded payments just over a year ago, on Dec. 4, 1952. Since only 3 million persons were getting benefits in Sept. 1950 when Congress effected a major expansion of the program, the number has almost doubled in the last three years.

Nearly 3 1/2 million retired men and women workers, aged 65 and over, are now receiving monthly old-age benefit payments. This is an increase of almost 600,000 since the close of 1952. Among these new beneficiaries were persons whose work did not start to count toward social security until 1951. For example, self-employed people and regularly employed farm and household workers 65 or over have been able to retire and collect old-age benefits.

A total 885,000 wives and dependent husbands 65 or over, or wives with minor children in their care, are now getting old-age benefit payments based on the accounts of retired insured workers. This is an increase of 146,000 during the year just ended.

In August of 1952, McLean was named to the governor's Board of Parole and Probation in Montana — a post he held for eight months until the responsibilities of his youth guidance work forced him to leave the field. His headquarters are in Great Falls, Mont., and he devotes part of his time to work in Montana and Wyoming institutions.

President Crose of the sponsoring club emphasized that everyone is welcome to attend Monday night's rally to hear McLean's speech.

Youth For Christ Leader Scheduled At Monday Rally

GORDON R. McLEAN
... to address youth

Gordon R. McLean, a national Youth for Christ director, will come to Roseburg Monday, Jan. 11, to address a big youth rally sponsored by the Roseburg High School Nu Delta Bible Club, according to Chuck Crose, club president.

The rally will be held in the Junior High School auditorium, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Besides the featured speaker, local talent will be on the program. A trumpet trio made up of Dave France, Barbara Marsh and Dan Aronson will play. Mrs. Vern Clemmons will play the piano.

Also featured will be the singing of Don Price, the Nu Delta quartet and the Nu Delta chorus and numbers by the Inter-Church orchestra, directed by Wendell Johnson. The orchestra will play before the service, Crose said, and will play for audience participation numbers.

McLean is director of YFC's nationwide work in training schools, reformatories and other youth institutions.

Although still a young man, McLean can look back on a unique record of accomplishments in Christian service, Crose said. Coming to the Pacific Coast from Regina, Saskatchewan, McLean began speaking with a teenage gospel team touring Vancouver Island.

At 15, while still a senior in high school, Gordon took the direction of Victoria, B. C. Youth for Christ, and under his leadership the rally grew and prospered.

Shortly after graduation from high school, he represented YFC at British Columbia's Oakalla Prison, and at 16 was the youngest person in America doing spiritual work in an institution.

PREPARE to share the recipe for these Holiday Cranberry Tarts. Their marshmallowy filling is sure to make a hit with friends and family this season.

Cranberry Tarts Are Holiday Food

Novel and tempting Holiday Cranberry Tarts are sure to win a place for themselves among favorite holiday foods. Spring this delightful surprise dessert on the folks at one of the family holiday get-togethers.

A cloud-light concoction of cranberry sauce, marshmallows and whipped cream fills flaky tart shells. A real dessert perfection, they fit right in with the traditional eating scheme.

Investigate the delightful holiday desserts your baker has developed for the season, too. Remember, these enriched baked foods are good for you as well as good tasting.

Holiday Cranberry Tarts

Tart Shells
1 cup sifted enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/3 cup shortening
1 1/2 to 2 1/2 tablespoons cold water
Sift together flour and salt. Cut or rub in shortening. Sprinkle with water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Divide dough into 4 equal portions. Roll each portion to circle 3 1/2-inch thick and line tart pans. Trim and flute edge. Prick bottom. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) about 15 minutes.

Cranberry Filling

2 cups whole cranberry sauce (1 can)
1/2 pound marshmallows, diced
1/2 cup whipping cream
Combine cranberries and marshmallows in saucepan. Heat slowly until marshmallows melt. Cool. Whip cream and fold into cranberry mixture. Fill baked tart shells. Chill in refrigerator until firm. Makes four 4-inch tarts.
