PRESBYTERIAN WOMAN'S SOCIETY TO MEET THURSDAY AFTERNOON
"Your Reading Is Showing," is the subject Miss Muriel Mitchell, the city librarian, has chosen to discuss with the Women's Society of the First Presbyterian Church at a one-thirty dessert-luncheon Thursday, Jan. 14, in the social hall of the church.

Mrs. Hogg's project for the year will be to put electric pedestals for the Valentine Chapter. The hostesses served delicious refreshments.

Miss Mitchell has promised many suggestions for reading, and will bring special books from the city library to illustrate her points. Those who have heard her will recall the element of the unexpected and the sprightly humor with which she spices her remarks. She has made it known that her talk will be of interest for women of approximately twenty years and on up, as far as any care to admit.

All women of the church and friends are invited to come to the Women's Society where they will find an atmosphere of faith, fellowship and fun, a place where they can learn, grow and enjoy. Mrs. Hans T. Hansen will be chairman of the hostess committee, and will be assisted by Mrs. Morris C. Bowker, Mrs. E. J. Wheelchel, Mrs. Forrest McKay and Mrs. Charles O'Neill.
