

New 1954 Ford And Buick Autos Offer More Power, Other Attractive Features

Ford again offers three lines—Mainline, Customline and Crestline. There are 14 body styles with three new types added this year. They are the Crestline Skyliner with transparent roof; Crestline Fordor Sedan, featuring interior trim found in higher priced fields; and a Customline two-door station wagon similar to the more luxurious four-door Country Sedan. This is called the Customline Ranch Wagon.

Thirteen single-tone body colors are available, 10 of which may be used in 13 two-tone combinations, and there are 136 exterior and interior color combinations. The front is distinguished by a new grille with jet-type air scoop, recessed parking lights and a distinctive hood ornament. Crown of the front fenders has been raised half an inch, and a diagonal slant has been given to the headlamps. Combined with a single chrome spear running the length of the car, the new Ford has a much longer speedier look.

Gem of the showing is the 130 hp. V-8 engine with overhead valves. This 20 hp boost over last year makes it the most powerful in the low-priced field. However, this is not just another power increase on an old engine, but a completely new thoroughly-tested design.

It features short-stroke, low-friction and high compression to give up to 30 percent less piston travel in the same car mileage. The 5-bearing crankshaft is of alloy iron, has 8 counter-weights, and is 16 lbs. lighter than the former 3-bearing design.

As an alternate, the customer may order the I-Block 115 hp. Mileage Maker Six. This is available in all models for the first time this year. It represents a 14 hp. increase, and is also a completely new powerplant. Like the V-8 it is designed to operate on regular gasoline.

In combination with the shorter wheelbase.

Most distinguishing style feature on the new Buicks is the panoramic windshield which offers up to 184 more square inches of glass area. It eliminates the traditional rearward sloping front posts, which are now located about six inches behind the leading edge of the front door. On the Roadmaster and Super Series, these posts are vertical, while on the Century and Special they have been given a reverse slant.

Other distinctive exterior features are full rear wheel fender openings and sloping door line on all two-door Buicks and convertibles, and built-in sun visor and rain cove on four-door sedans in the Roadmaster and Super Series. All models have new, high-crown front fenders to permit a view of the right front fender at all times.

Outstanding feature of the interior is the double roll type instrument panel with airplane-style instruments recessed between the two rolls. Overall styling of panels is the same in all models, but different arrangement of instruments distinguishes the two smaller series from the larger.

Speedometer Rethroed

A unique speedometer is featured in the Roadmaster and Super series. It is rectangular in shape with the speed indicator over a red line which moves across the scale which has been graduated from 0 to 120 mph. As speed increases, the "Redliner" flows across the dial from left to right like mercury in a thermometer. With decreasing speed, it recedes horizontally to the left.

In mechanical options, Buick offers an improved powerbrake system. This has added electrically driven pump which supplies power for braking when the ignition is turned on. The pump automatically cuts out when engine rpm reaches 300. Other options are electrically-operated radio antenna, air conditioning, Dynaflo transmission, power seat, power steering and electric window lifts. Window lifts on the Skylark are hydraulically operated. Of course, Dynaflo and power steering continue as standard equipment on the Roadmaster series.

Altogether, the public has its choice of 15 models with six-horsepower ratings and two wheelbases. And for the first time, in 1954, Buick is offering all-steel estate wagons in the Century and Special series.

New Suspension Introduced

Ford has also come up with something really new in the way of improved ride. This is ball-joint front suspension. It works on the same principle as the ball-joint in the human shoulder, from which it gets its name. In addition to replacing the old type king-pin suspension, it reduces lubrication points from 16 to 4.

Rounding out its presentation, Ford has gone completely automatic. Besides the new well-established Fordomatic transmission, Ford buyers this year have the option of power brakes, power steering, 4-way power seats, and power-lift windows.

Buick hit the showroom floors with new body styles, increased horsepower, and a new 122-inch wheelbase Century series. The Century was last made in 1942.

Also in the 122-inch class this year is the Special and Skylark sportcar, while the new Super and Roadmaster series both have been given a 127-inch underpinning.

Horsepower Increased

The Special Series makes its debut in the V-8 Category in 1954, with a 150 hp. engine. This is the valve-in-head introduced in the larger cars last year. Horsepower for the Roadmaster has been increased from 188 to 200, and in the Super from 170 to 181. The Century is powered with the 200 hp. Roadmaster engine which gives it a very high power-to-weight ratio

'Y' Drive Set For February

The kick-off meeting for the annual YMCA membership drive has been set for Feb. 1, according to Jack West, president of the board of directors.

The drive, with a goal this year of 350 members, will last until Feb. 11, with four work-report meetings scheduled during that time. Twenty women and 40 men workers have been asked to volunteer to aid the drive which will subsidize the YMCA youth program.

Memberships are based upon three purposes. They are:

1. Member at large, in which the member joins the YMCA to be part of the local world-wide fellowship. The dues paid by such a member are on a personal basis. He will be a part of the YMCA program in that he will attend dinners, meetings and such other programs as he may choose. His part is principally financial in character.
2. Member at work, in which the member may or may not aid the program in a financial manner. Such a member usually serves in the various programs as advisor, day camp committee, counselor, or church league members. Such a member is an active participant in YMCA instructor programs.
3. Member participating, in which the member actually participates in the various active programs, such as basketball, women's volleyball, softball, and boxing programs set up by the YMCA. Age groups are extensive in this category.

The YMCA invites any resident of Roseburg and surrounding districts to participate as a member of any of the above groups. More information regarding the individual programs may be obtained by contacting Membership Drive Chairman Harry Hill, at 3-8345, or one of the division leaders, Ira Byrd, 3-3587; Everett Wimer, 2-2558; and G. D. Mylanbeck, at the YMCA office, 3-3556, or 3-8540.

Members are a part of the YMCA on indefinite membership rather than annual, and membership may be terminated by letter or by phone, if desired.

The goal for the drive has been set at $4,000, which is higher this year because of the low achievement of the United Fund drive earlier.

Camp Fire Girls Council Friday

Highlight of the year for all adult Camp Fire members is the annual council meeting. The purpose of the meeting is to acquaint new members and the community with the Camp Fire organization.

Mrs. James Conn, chairman for the event, announces that the dinner this year will be held at the Women's Club building, and will be catered by Mrs. Elsa Hunter. It will be Friday and dinner will be served promptly at 7.

Mrs. Warren Hunter of Portland, national president of Camp Fire Girls, Inc., will be guest speaker. "Destination Known," will be her topic. Also attending from Portland will be Mrs. A. B. Macpherson, chairman of Region VI.

Blue Birds in Mrs. J. A. Colbrunn's group will do a singing game as part of the program. The Waditaka Camp Fire group of Glendale, Mrs. Merton Weaver, guardian, will put on a skit, "Our Trip to Winchester Bay." Horizon Club girls of group led by Mrs. George Miller and Mrs. Robert Gladwill will furnish music.

Tickets for the dinner are available at the Camp Fire office and at the Chamber of Commerce, or reservations can be made by calling the Camp Fire office, 3-8277. Reservations should be made as soon as possible.

Sutherland City Council Passes Two Ordinances

Two ordinances were given final approval and will go into effect Feb. 12, following action at the Sutherland City Council meeting this week.

Final readings were given to a "Green River" ordinance which will prohibit peddling in the city and to an ordinance which taxes amusement machines. The latter ordinance provides a $3 per month tax on all music boxes, shuffleboards, etc.

New Councilman Chester C. Paynter, attending his first regular meeting, was given committee assignments.

Glendale Chinchilla Breeder One Of Few In Oregon Area

By MRS. G. B. FOX

Arnold Menke, who lives a short distance off Highway 99 near Wolf Creek, is one of a small group of Oregon men who raise chinchillas.

Some 20 of the valuable and beautiful rodents occupy cages in a specially built house which is ventilated against summer heat and tightly closed against winter cold. The animals are the joint property of Arnold Menke and his father, T. J. Menke.

In the picture above, Menke grasps the animal by the tail so that it can't get too frisky and get away before the photographer has finished. A chinchilla breeder, Menke states, never takes hold of the animal by its body, for a chinchilla may loosen his fur, in much the same way a porcupine loosens his quills, and a handful of chinchilla fur represents money.

Menke estimates that his animals are worth from $500 to $1000 per pair, and some of the little fellows bring as much as $3000 a piece. The fur is very fine and thick and there are 18 hairs in every hair follicle.

Asked how many pelts it takes to make a coat, Menke said the figure would run from 125 to 200. The pelts are matched by a fur buyer, then taken to the big fur auctions in New York City where they actually make up the coat.

Menke feeds alfalfa hay and mixed grains to his charges, though he is gradually switching them over to a prepared pellet instead of the grain. Their drinking water comes from bottles attached to the sides of the cages and feeds down through a bent tube. The little rodents about the size of a large rat, have big beady eyes and perky, inquisitive ears.

Myrtle Creek Mothers March Gets Underway

By RUTH M. EVANS

The Chairmen for the Mothers March in Myrtle Creek and Tri-City are sending out a plea for volunteer workers.

According to Mrs. Leroy Lowell, the working areas have already been mapped out. Volunteer marchers will use the same plan used by the mothers who took the school census. Some have volunteered, but there is a need for more mothers to cover the city block areas and some of the outlying districts.

Volunteers are reminded that they will only be called upon to work for one night on the evening of Jan. 28, between the hours of 6:15 and 7:15. Immediately after the march is finished the volunteers are asked to take their money to the office of Dr. Henry M. Goodwin, chairman of the Peilo Drive in this area. Dr. Goodwin has offered to keep his office open until all of the money has been turned in.

Areas covered by co-chairmen, Mrs. Thomas Ireland and Mrs. Leroy Lowell in Myrtle Creek besides the city, are North Myrtle, South Myrtle, Days Creek Off, Dole Road and Highway 99 to the Mary Moore bridge. Volunteers can call Mrs. Lowell at 508 or Mrs. Thomas Ireland 226 in Myrtle Creek.

Mrs. William Calhoun, chairman for the Tri-City area may be reached by calling 50-X2. Her area will cover Highway 99 south from the city limits and including all of Tri-City area.

Volunteers are requested to contact these chairmen as soon as possible.

Attend Meet

Several Myrtle Creek Shriners attended the election of officers at the installation at the Hillah Temple in Ashland the evening of Jan. 8. The charter bus from Roseburg and Myrtle Creek had every seat taken. Going from here were Winnie Huddleston, J. M. Nelson, Jack Doud, Grover Mylanbeck and G. D. Mylanbeck. Members of the Myrtle Creek Fire Dept. met at the fire hall for a ham dinner the evening of Jan. 7. In charge of the meal were Sid Wegner and Clarence Hamm. Guests were Mayor Lloyd McClintock, Jerry Warren, Ralph Shircliff and Roy Carter.

Resumes Education

Tom Rice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Rice of Myrtle Creek entered Oregon State College to resume his education after spending two years in the Navy.

Rice was stationed on the USS Rochester and spent time in Korea. After his discharge he worked at the Umpqua Plywood Corp. Before entering the Navy he had one year of college to his credit.

Mrs. Edna Snyder and daughter of Days Creek and Mr. Ted Rice drove to Eugene Friday to visit with friends and relatives.

Harley Naas returned to his home from Portland Wednesday of last week. Naas has been in the G.I. Hospital since he was struck a spinal injury. He reports that he will have to wear a cast for three months and hopes that this time it will correct the injury.

Mrs. Lloyd Smith is at home in Tri-City after recent illness in the Myrtle Creek Hospital.

Roseburg Choral Society Will Resume Rehearsals

Roseburg Choral Society will resume weekly rehearsals Monday, Jan. 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the Junior High School music room.

Director for the spring season will be Bob Robins, music instructor in the Roseburg school system.

Practice will consist of choral numbers from popular songs to be presented in abbreviated form in the choral group's annual spring concert.

SERVICES CHANGED

Services at Eden Lutheran Church will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. instead of at the usual 7 o'clock. Eden Lutheran Church, 320 W. 2nd Ave., N. will hold an annual congregational meeting at that time at the church. A potluck dinner will precede the 7 p.m. meeting, and will begin at 6 o'clock. All members and friends are invited to attend.

DANCE DATED

A square dance will be held at the Glue Grange Hall Saturday at 8 p.m. It is a no-host affair, with music furnished by "The Sundowners." The public is invited to attend, and ladies are asked to bring sandwiches. Coffee will be furnished.
