GIRL SCOUTS BUSY IN MYRTLE CREEK

Myrtle Creek Intermediate Girl Scout troops will sponsor a line of dimes Sat., Jan. 16, on Main St. from the hours of 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. All proceeds will be turned over to the Polio drive.

Mrs. Art Verrill, leader of Troop 7, said that the girls are working on their notebooks for second class ratings.

According to Janice Trees, reporter for Mrs. Karp's and Mrs. Hedberg's Intermediate Girl Scout Troop, 12 members visited the Myrtle Creek Bakery Monday.

Mrs. Les Lawrence explained the operation of a commercial bakery. The Brownie Troop, led by Mrs. Ken Winston and Mrs. Otto Streibinger has placed a display of doll dresses in the window of Dr. Goodwin's office downtown. The Brownies have spent the past two months sewing the dresses and each girl's name is on the dress that she made.

Brownie Troop No. 7 has started a project of making wooden trays. Material for the trays was donated to the troop by the UPCO Sawmill through the efforts of Mr. Welch. The girls have recently completed plaster of Paris plaques and wooden tie racks according to Mrs. Vincent Knox, leader.

Mrs. Bernard Pfefferman, leader of a Brownie Troop, announced that her girls have almost completed aprons that they are making for themselves. Monday they elected new officers. Mary Cavanee is president; Elsie Swinney, vice president; Catherine Hamilton, treasurer; and Sharon Stamey, secretary.

The Brownie Troop, with Mrs. Ben Sims as leader, are studying the good grooming and health habits. Girls in office now are Andy Powell, president; Vickie Coleman, treasurer; and Jane Hedberg, secretary.

Mrs. Leo Wilson's Brownie Troop at 7th City was recently reorganized and hopes to have a troop number soon. Meanwhile the girls have started a project to make not holders with yarn. They recently completed making lamp shades under the leadership of Mrs. Wilson.

Mrs. Lillian and Mrs. Leo Wilson met at the home of Mrs. Vincent Knox Jan. 11 to discuss future Brownie plans.
