

Be My Valentine

A VALENTINE for you says Stevie Erikson, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Erikson, to 5-year-old Carolyn Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Lee, at the Lee home on East Cass St. Stevie and Carolyn became good friends while attending kindergarten. (Picture by Clark's Studio).

Society

LOTUS KNIGHT PORTER

Sat. Feb. 13, 1954—The News-Review, Roseburg, Ore.

BRUCE AND OLIVE Elliott, at right, met at a Valentine dance and four years later were married . . . that was 28½ years ago and 26 of those years have been spent in Roseburg. They are parents of two daughters and a son, Mrs. Earl Oden Jr., (Norma Jean), of Lebanon; Patricia, 16, and Arthur Logan, 10. They have two grandchildren, Bruce, 3, and Terri, 1, son and daughter of the Earl Odens. Folk and square dancing, fishing and gardening are the hobbies of both Mr. and Mrs. Elliott. Mr. Elliott is manager of the Roseburg J. C. Penney Company Store. (Picture by Clark's Studio).

ART WORK by Dan Mindolovich, staff artist of the News-Review.

THE ENGAGEMENT of Dorothy Carlson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Carlson, Portland, and Don Parr, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Parr, Roseburg, was recently announced at the University of Oregon campus. Both are outstanding students of the University where both are seniors. (Picture by Clark's Studio).

HER FIRST valentine's day will be observed Sunday by Debra Kay, 4-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Holmes, pictured above, at their home at 153 Newton Rd. Debie's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Holmes and maternal grandmother is Mrs. Orval Fleenor, Roseburg. (Picture by Clark's Studio).

SWEETHEARTS 61 years are Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Welker, whose 61st wedding anniversary was celebrated last Friday at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Welker, 1153 Harvard. They have lived here since 1933. For the occasion, Mrs. Welker wore a black crepe dress and gardenia corsage. (Picture by Clark's Studio).