Error In Oregon Blue Book Halts Distribution

SALEM — Distribution of the Oregon Blue Book is being held up while an error is being corrected. The book was published last week, but it soon was discovered that Supreme Court Justice William C. Perry's picture had the name of former Justice Arthur D. Hay under the picture. Justice Hay died Dec. 19, 1932 and Perry succeeded him. The book is a biennial volume of information about the state. Its distribution probably will begin next week.

Frenchmen Post All-Time Record In Ocean Diving

PARIS — Two French naval officers rode a diving bell 13,288 feet below the surface of the Atlantic Ocean off Dakar on the west coast of Africa Monday, deeper than man has ever gone before.

Mystery Man Sought As Killer Of Two Women

LONDON — Scotland Yard turned to Germany and Tangier Monday in its search for a mysterious "Mr. M" who may be the slayer of gay, alcoholic Mrs. Isobel Chesney and her mother.

Mrs. Chesney, 42, and her mother, 71-year-old Mrs. Mary Menzies, were found slain last Thursday in a home they ran for the aged. In their reconstruction of the crime, detectives have decided the slayer plied whiskey-loving Mrs. Chesney with drinks, planning to drown her in her own bathtub and make it look like a drunken accident. They believed he strangled her mother in a panic when the old lady interrupted him in the middle of doing away with the woman.

A pathologist determined that Mrs. Chesney died of drowning at a time when she was helplessly intoxicated. Police found 47 empty whiskey bottles in her room. Scotland Yard homicide men were dispatched Sunday night to seek a man known as "Mr. M." in Duesseldorf, Germany, and Tangier. The man, a suspected big-time smuggler who is known to use at least four aliases beginning with "M," has frequently been seen at the murder house in the past.

United's assets were estimated at about one million dollars. Golden Eagle, which markets products under the name of Sunset Oil Co., operates some 60 service stations in the two states.
